Hair Neglect Almost Criminal

Hairdresser Claims the Scalp Cries for Attention

"This hair also thins out at ten many starved hair," said a Boston hairdresser recently. The hair should have as much attention as the face, but the average man and woman neglect to neglect the scalp until the roots of the hair are actually starving for attention...

pects to introduce more good basketball playing in the city. Manchester is known in this city as a lively battle with these teams meet. The Katoos will play as follows: "Tim" Cronin and Larry Oppell of Hartford, Conn., the former being a star on the Wyanona team and the latter having some little reputation as a player with the Ben Hur team; "Dutch" Leonard of the well known Aetna Insurance Five of Hartford will be there at center. Denny Murphy of Taftville and Fred Beecher of this city will probably hold down the guard positions. Murphy is known to basketball fans and played last season in some of the Emerald games. Beecher is an unknown quantity. Also attending the game will be the team from the Sprague school, which is coached by Mr. Edward Morrison and Murray Tighe will be utility players. Manager Harry Roe has booked many fast teams for the season and looks forward to a successful year.

William Beale Sprague, 71, of Andover died at his home in that place Monday morning at 10 o'clock after a long illness. He was born May 6, 1849, in Andover, the son of Benjamin and Sarah Buckland Sprague. He attended the southeast district school, since discontinued and the high school in Willimantic. After finishing school he went on to the University of Vermont where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter. He was chairman of the board of trustees of the Storrs Agricultural College and superintendent of the operation of the first building in 1888 and 1889. He was also a member of the state central committee representing his district for a number of years. He also served as deputy collector of internal revenue and superintendent of the state capitol. He was sheriff of Tolland county and judge of probate for the Andover district. He was one of the county commissioners at the time of his death. His first congressional committee. November 18, 1875, he married Effie, daughter of John and Mary Sprague, in addition to a sister, Mrs. Julia Tuttle of Hartford. Judge Sprague was first master of the Andover Grange which was organized in 1888, which office he held for eight years. For two years he was also master of East Central Pomona grange.

Episcopal services were held in the Baptist church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. There was the celebration of the holy communion. Rev. T. M. Martin officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald K. Brown returned to their home in New York Monday.

Old-Fashioned Methods of Cooking Again Proved Expensive

Mazola Goes Twice as Far for Frying Fish Interesting Money-Saving Demonstrations by Expert Cook

LARD and other animal fats soak into the food when you cook with it. This is not only wasteful, but it makes the food greasy and indigestible. The wonderful economy of Mazola is now indisputably proved. It is nearly twice as economical for frying doughnuts as lard. It goes nearly twice as far frying fish, and three times as far frying potatoes.

The Greatest Sale of Any Cooking Oil No wonder Mazola is acclaimed by more than seven million housewives, and that it is found universally in the best hotels, clubs and dining cars of leading railroads. Mazola is 100% pure vegetable fat. There is no loss of evaporation—no loss of bulk from heating. It always remains sweet and clean, and can be used over and over again—merely strain it.

Mazola is sold by all leading grocers in pint, quart, half-gallon and full gallon cans. Once you try Mazola for Salads you will prefer it to the finest imported olive oil. The price of Mazola is about half that of olive oil. No customs duty—no ocean freight charges on Mazola.

VOLUNTCWN

The funeral of Sylvio Zavattoni, 17, who was recently shot while hunting in the North Washington woods, took place Thursday morning. Services were held at St. Thomas church where Rev. Leodovic Paradisi was celebrant of the mass. Requiem friends acted as bearers. Burial was in the cemetery. Mrs. Charles A. Downing, R. N., is seriously ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Herbert, Miss Alice McGuire, H. N., is assisting in her care. A wedding of local interest took place Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's church. Miss Myrtle, who Miss Lucy Whitman, a pianist, and Mrs. James M. Whitman, former resident of this village was united in marriage with Thomas Whitte, Jr., of Mystic. A number of local relatives attended the ceremony. Mrs. Charles Bromley and Mr. and Mrs. Martin of Moosup were week and guests of local relatives. Mrs. Charles A. Downing who has been visiting relatives in Manchester, Mass., has returned home. The new motor chemical fire apparatus recently purchased by the Bridge Mill Co., was put through several tests on Friday and proved satisfactory. The children's supper given by the Ladies Aid society at the Baptist church in the chapel Tuesday evening was attended by a large crowd who thoroughly enjoyed the good things provided. A substantial sum was added to the treasury. Parties from here attended the American Legion ball in Jewett City Thursday evening.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Moosup Carnival A large crowd is expected this evening at Moosup hall, this being set aside as Norwich City night. Those in attendance last evening were loud in their praise of the way that the Moosup carnival was being conducted. The various booths with their many novelties were all well patronized and many were seen leaving the hall with well filled arms. The turkey and four booth was one of the main attractions. A live turkey on a ninety-eight pound log of four were offered as a prize at this particular stand. The players have not this check, the prize being delivered to any part of the city. This novelty booth has never before been offered at a bazaar in the city and met with success from the start. Four persons were made happy with the prizes; the free dancing with music by Rowland's dance orchestra, the stage entertainment and many novelty booths all help to make the Moosup bazaar an ideal place to spend an evening of pleasure. The prize for foot to be held Thanksgiving afternoon is sure of being attracted a large crowd, numerous entries being already received. No extra charge for admission, with all the attractions on hand as usual, will surely appeal to those seeking a place to spend a pleasant Thanksgiving afternoon.

GALES FERRY

Mrs. J. Edwyn Norman, superintendent of the cranberry department of the Gales Ferry school, arranged a Thanksgiving party for the members Saturday afternoon from 4 to 6. Mrs. Norman invited the beginners and primary classes to assist her in entering. The mothers were guests. The room was decorated with bunting of yellow crepe paper with bunting of chrysanthemums. The children played beanbag, hunting for animal crackers, and other games. Mrs. Laura A. Pung to them a story. There were thirty children present, the youngest, two months old, was Virginia Marie Collins. There were fifteen adults. Sandwiches, little cakes, barley candy, and cocones were served. Each child received a clothes-pin doll, with a painted face and a small yellow bag of animal crackers. J. Edmund Norman conveyed a party of fifteen on a strawride in his automobile to Ledgard Ogden to the rabbit trap supper, given by the Ledgard family Friday evening. The party included Mrs. J. Edwyn Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Buckingham, Mrs. Delphine Fish, Mrs. Caro Maniker, Mrs. Kemp Jones, Mrs. Fred E. Richards, Mrs. Carl E. Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Irving Hurwitz, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Crandall, Mrs. James A. Stoddard and Miss Laura A. Perkins. Mrs. Latham E. Smith and Marian Normandy were also attendants at the supper. At the Sunday morning service in the M. E. church, Rev. G. H. Wright read (Gospel) the proclamation of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church to meet a building to be known as Methodist Headquarters in Washington, D. C., the building of which is endorsed by the general conference and the bishops. The building to cost half a million dollars. It is to be of marble, which has already been given, together with the plans for the building, and the lot have already been purchased. Money for the construction is to be raised in all the Methodist churches. An offering was taken for the purpose. Rev. Mr. Wright spoke from Lamentations 1:12.

At the offertory the anthem, "A Good Thing to Give Thanks was sung. At the Sunday school session Stanley Faford was awarded a bronze pin for two months regular attendance. The newly organized Boy Scouts were asked to recite their pledge in unison. At a meeting of the Sunday school board at the close of the session it was arranged to have a Christmas playlet in the vestry the night before Christmas, given by the Sunday school with Miss Alice Satterlee, the secretary, chairman, and the teachers appointed as a committee to assist. The Boy Scouts will provide pine trees, and evergreen decorations. A Christmas cantata is also being prepared. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sherman with Mrs. Sherman's mother, Mrs. Jane Williams of Windham visited here Thursday and called on Mrs. Williams' sister, Mrs. Lydia S. Maynard, and her brother, Edmund Stoddard, at Long Cove. H. Whittington returned Saturday evening from a trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls, taken with Marcus M. Trail on business. Mr. Trail purchased two auto trucks and when they left Buffalo Friday it was difficult traveling as the snow was very deep and it was still snowing. Mrs. Donald Irwin and daughter Barbara left for Mt. Vernon, N. Y., to spend Monday and Tuesday before going south for the winter. Mrs. Walter M. Buckingham, chairman of the Red Cross, reported Monday morning 40 red crosses. More will come in as all the canvassers had not reported. At the Sunday evening Epworth League service with Mrs. R. Irving Hurwitz, leader, the topic was "The Investment of Life." An instrumental duet was given, Song of Learning, by Miss Jennie G. Perkins, violin, Rufus W. Hurwitz at the piano. The fortnightly dance was given in the clubhouse Saturday evening. Miss Madeline Birch attended the Norwich Free Academy-Bulletley football game in New London Saturday. The Boy Scouts met for their second meeting at the home of the scoutmaster, Dudley C. Perkins, Saturday evening. Mrs. Lydia Chase of Portsmouth, R. I., who has been a visitor at the home of her son, Richard H. Chase, and family at Long Cove, returned last week. Miss Mabel Smith returned Monday from a visit to her home in Norwich.

BRIEF STATE NEWS Hingham.—The committee appointed to consider a project for a community building has had several meetings but so far has reported no progress. Norfolk.—A swarm of bees, evidently looking for winter quarters, found their way into the parlor of a Norfolk home. The occupants were at a loss as to how to dispose of them. Finally a vacuum cleaner was used to sweep them up. Waterbury.—Bills for election printing totalling $5,000, submitted to the board of finance, caused considerable comment on the part of the commissioners. Southport.—Miss Margaret Gentry of Middlebury, the new visiting nurse here, began her duties Monday. She will work under the joint auspices of the Red Cross and the Southport Public Health association.
