Alfred H. Page is confined to his home on Windham road, suffering from injuries received Monday night when he was struck by the automobile owned and driven by Dwight Lovett of Windham. Mr. Page was given medical attention and it was found that he had sustained a fractured rib, a lacerated head, and other bruises. Mr. Lovett in reporting the matter stated that the mist on the road was the cause of the accident.

Several of the local mills close down today (Wednesday) for the remainder of the week. Some of them closed Monday of this week, not to start again until Monday, Nov. 25, when they will operate on a short time schedule.

Mrs. Althea Olson, wife of Carl V. Olson who died at her home No. 251 Jackson street, Sunday, is survived by her husband, an four children, Raymond, Lena, Victor and Tora, all of this city. Other relatives surviving are, Viola Manning and David Monroe, sister and brother respectively, both residents of this city.

Spottorney for partridges, woodcock and pheasants have oiled their hunting pieces and put them away until another season. The law against killing these birds went on Tuesday. According to stories of the hunters the season has been a successful one and although the birds were not as numerous as they used to be a large number were put up during the hunting season. Hunters of other types of game, exclusive of squirrels, have under December 15th and later to their hunting in. Rabbits and raccoons have been plenty this season and many local hunters have bagged them.

Emil Young of South Coventry, was struck and knocked down by an automobile driven by Samuel Stimpson of North Windham, Tuesday afternoon about 5:30 as he was about to board the South Coventry trolley car, at the local terminus. Mr. Stimpson stopped his car and offered to take him to the hospital if he was injured severely. Mr. Young informed him that his injury consisted only of a shaking up and there would be no need of this. Stimpson's car ran on the windshield of Mr. Young's car, which was the cause of the mishap. The accident was reported to the police but Stimpson was not held owing to the character of the accident.

Age, Winkled Faces Easily Rejuvenated. An aged face is often only a mask to a comparatively youthful person. Beneath it is a countenance young and fair to look upon. It is a simple matter to remove the mask. Ordinary make-up is to be had at any drug store, gradually absorbs the worn-out surface skin; in a week or two the user has the lovely pinky complexion which is the mark of youth. This remarkable treatment is invariably effective, no matter how muddy, sallow or discolored the complexion. Freckles, moths, liver spots, pimples, blackheads and other cutaneous blemishes naturally vanish with the discarded skin. To remove wrinkles and flabbiness, here is a recipe that cannot be too highly recommended: Powdered talcum, one ounce dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. Use as a wash lotion.

Private Seal always occupied a place of honor at picnics, on the porch, after the game or outing, at the time of relaxation after a hard day's work.

No reason to change from this old friend now. It is still made of the best hops and malt, still brewed and aged with the same infinite care. Its taste and body-building properties remain unchanged.

You liked Private Seal in the past; it is as good as ever today.

What is Going On Tonight. Motion Pictures at Broad Theatre. Feature Motion Pictures at Davis Theatre. Not Tonight Josephine at Davis Theatre.

Quinebaug Pomona Grange. Members of Quinebaug Pomona Grange, No. 2, are expected to meet for the election of officers and other important business including reports of officers, at Brookline, Saturday, December 4, 1926. The sessions are to be at 10:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. in the parlors of the hall, only to Fifth Degree Patron. Dinner will be served in Grange Hall. The lecturer's programme will be carried out as time permits.

THE STRAND. Today at the Strand Lucy Cotton in Bijou Love, and when a mask conceals the good and bad in life, the prize and young girl love, Helen Gibson in The Trail of the Hall. She is surely rock-solid. Hank Mann Chase in The Entertainers. The Moon Riders. Don't miss this hair-raising leap, straight from the side of a cliff, down through space, onto the top of a speeding train! A feat of heroism, manhood that you never saw before! It's one of the tremendous thrills in this magnificent outdoor, red-blooded serial sensation. Come today! Gallop with Art Acord, the wild-riding cowboy king!

Coming, starting Thanksgiving Day—Springtime Follies, Joe Donovan, Al Fox, featuring heavy chorus. Hear their exciting quartette. See this big musical show on Thanksgiving day. Prices, matinee 25c; evening 25 and 35 cents. Strand says so.

BREED THEATRE. Her Honor the Mayor, a new William Fox photoplay in which Miss Ellen Percy appears as a new star in Broadway. The feature attraction at the Breed theatre today (one day only). As its title indicates, it is a story of a woman in politics. A screen version of Arthur's Ness-Hill's stage success. Much interest in this picture is being displayed in the motion picture world, because of the personality of Miss Percy. Her advance to the front rank of motion picture actresses has been very rapid. She is best known for her clever work recently as leading woman for Fox in the picture, 'The Girl in the Red Coat'. Her story tells of the first woman mayor of a middle western town set out to destroy the corrupt party bosses and to win the town government; and how at the same time she settled her own private problems, including the one great problem that every woman has, Herbert Lawton will also be seen in The Kaido Ruby which is one of the Chief Flynn serials and the Best Educational will complete the bill for today (one day only). Coming Thursday, Friday and Saturday—Von Stroheim's sensational triumph—The Devil's Pass Key.

DAVIS THEATRE. A note of pathos is struck in The Yellow Typhoon, the story of two sisters, one had and the other good, the bad one who is a miserly miser, the good when the body of the maid is found she had on her mistress's garments. Thus it is that one girl disappears from the world, only to turn up later, bringing out one of the greatest mysteries ever set forth in pictures.

The fourth episode of Jack Dempsey's Million Dollar serial, 'The Day After Tomorrow' is the second feature. Eden of the Pacific, a beautiful Flamingo film, and Bear Trapping, an educational picture, complete a very interesting program. There will be a continuous show Thanksgiving day from 2 to 10:30.

NOT TONIGHT JOSEPHINE. In Not Tonight Josephine, which comes to the Davis for one night—tonight—the story of our city will find some thing new, and some thing old. The scenery, no expense has been spared by the producers in making this the one picture of the season. Harry Davis, who cast is headed by Miss Harris, also by the Follies Brigade, Paris, ally assisted by Glenn Linn, Ted Wilson, John Keefe, Charles Prince, Harry Stevens, Patricia O'Hara, Lee Johnson and Arthur Denison, as an added attraction Addison Fowler and Florence Tansie, the celebrated dancers will appear. The chorus is more than pretty and smart, singing and dancing, the costumes are rich and the lingerie worn in that number will dazzle the eye. The book has a plot, and the songs are full of melody. The scenery is new and brilliant, and you fill of pep and ginger, altogether a pleasing performance is given without a flaw.

Hunt's Greenhouses Changes Ownership. Through the agency of Francis D. Donohue, Alfred Hunt sold Tuesday, all his right title and interest in the greenhouses together with all contents of the same, to Carl O. Johnson of this city. The property has a frontage on Lafayette street of 112 feet and a depth of 255 feet and has four greenhouses. The business was established by the late E. H. Goldworthy about 18 years ago and was succeeded by Alfred Hunt, who carried the business on for over 35 years. Carl O. Johnson, the purchaser, has been employed in some of the large greenhouses of the east, among them Pearson's of Cromwell, Conn., and Monroe's of New York state, and he was also in the employ of Mrs. C. W. Gale of this city for 15 years. He anticipates that modeling the plant to grow greenhouse plants and flowers in a more elaborate and artistic manner. Johnson takes immediate possession of the business.

SOUTH KILLINGLY. Arthur Jacques of Manchester has been spending the week with his sister, Mrs. William Easton.

Thanksgiving services were held in the church Sunday afternoon. The services were by Rev. Walter Williams of Danielson. Mrs. Alton Frost and Earl Winslow, also of Danielson, gave some very pleasing musical selections. The church was artistically decorated by Mrs. G. N. Barlow and Mrs. E. H. Coffey and their assistants, Ruth, Frances and Beatrice Coffey and Juanita Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Viall have been entertaining their granddaughter, Doris Adams, of Lanesboro.

A Thanksgiving program is being prepared by the pupils of the local school for this (Wednesday) afternoon and parents and friends have been invited to be present.

Mrs. Henry Spaulding, Jacob Spaulding and Ruth Spaulding were in Boston for the day.

COLCHESTER. George Brown, 52, familiarly known as Commander Brown, died at the home of Mrs. William Schmidt, Monday morning. Mr. Brown has been a resident here since the Civil war. He enlisted in the 18th Connecticut and served three months. At the expiration of his enlistment he re-enlisted and served until the end of the war. He was a member of Woodstock Lodge, F. and A. M., of this place, also of Morton A. Talbot post, G. A. R., of which he was commander for several terms. He was janitor of Bacon Academy for years but had to give up work on account of poor health. At one time he was an aid on the state department commander's staff and was patriotic in his disposition. The Masons, G. A. R., American Legion, Old Guard band and the pupils of the public schools will attend and march to the cemetery. Mr. Brown will be greatly missed on Memorial day as he was always active on that day. A. Denny left Wednesday morning for Stamford. Daniel H. Starr, Dennis J. Sullivan and William Kneeland, Jr., of the Norwich division of the state highway department were in town Tuesday making surveys on the new state road.

J. F. Ableman was in Marlboro Monday.

Richard J. Dutkowsky, a graduate of Fordham University Law school of New York, has received permission from the New London County Bar association to take the state examination.

The reports of the canvassers for the Red Cross roll call in all sections of this town, Litchfield and Lisbon are to be handed in today (Wednesday). The enrollment class officially Thanksgiving day. The reports may be left during the day at the office of Mrs. E. H. Hisey and in the evening from six to nine at the Red Cross room. Any person wishing to give money for membership may leave it at either place.

This (Wednesday) evening Agent L. M. Carpenter of the Ashland Cotton Co., will meet the employees of the company at the public club to talk over the labor situation, and market conditions. It is hoped that every employe, male and female, will attend as a favor of special interest will be talked over.

An entertainment of an instructive nature has also been arranged for Thanksgiving night. The program will be given at the public club. It will be a most interesting and profitable one.

Hartford.—Twenty-eight years ago Sunday night Lieut. William Welter joined the Hartford police force as a superintending policeman. He was the first fingerprint expert of the local department.

S. H. Kellogg of New Britain was the guest of friends in town Monday. William Johnson was in Norwich on Monday. Edward McKinley of North Westchester was a Colchester caller Monday. Miss Mary Condon, who is teaching in Portland, was at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Condon over Sunday. Miss Mary Day has gone to East Hampton, where she will spend the winter. The Greek Catholics of this town will hold their first service in town Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the Baptist church. A community service will be held in the Congregational chapel Thursday morning at 7:30 o'clock. Edward H. McCall of Lebanon was in town Monday.

JEWETT CITY. The vital statistics for the town of Griswold for November are as follows: Six births: Equiano Jones, Elenie Danlyk, Roland Robert Coriarty, Joseph Allen Brand, Wampa Gradulski, Norman Daniel Shaw. One death: Antonia Ladowska, of septicaemia. Four marriages: Stanley Abugel and Lena Sidorowski, William A. Neale and Mary E. Douglas, Andrew T. Pember and Marion Weeks, Frederick Oudon and Josephine Takmon.

Rev. and Mrs. Myron D. Fuller are in Lowell, Mass., for Thanksgiving. Mrs. Fuller is in the local market. They will be offered today (Wednesday) at prices ranging from 60 cents for Vermont and York state birds to 75 cents for fancy natives.

The second day of the cold northerner started in with a brilliant flash of lightning and a man-size clap of thunder at 10:30. The cold weather sign of thunder in the morning held good, for all sorts of stormy weather followed.

No record of recent date tells of times quite as slack in Jewett City. All the textile industries are on very short time, a few of the five concerns are running a day or two this week. Market men are expressing the belief that the Thanksgiving trade will fall much below the average.

The two big field riffs have been placed on the David Hale Fanning place, in the town of Litchfield, which there is a grand old foundation upon which the wheels are to rest are not completed yet. The position the guns occupy is that from which they can get the best shot. A man living in a neighboring city said that Griswold must have had either a pull with the war department or had some other way of getting the guns. Hisey make a fine showing with their slightly elevated muzzles pointing down Main street. The borough people are a unit in hoping that Mr. Fanning will be able to visit Jewett City next summer and give his seal of approval.

The third flock of geese in ten days flew over the town Tuesday morning, bound southwest. They were flying with the storm and were making better time and flying higher than the other flocks seen recently.

Richard J. Dutkowsky, a graduate of Fordham University Law school of New York, has received permission from the New London County Bar association to take the state examination.
