AN EMERGENCY TARIFF FOR FARMERS

Washington, Dec. 17.—Congressional leaders decided today that the way out of the maze of farmer relief bills was enactment of an emergency tariff to run for one year and to act as an embargo against importations. It would apply to wheat, cotton, wool, beans, potatoes, livestock and meats.

Agreement of the legislative leaders was reached at a joint conference of members of the senate finance and house ways and means committees at which the determination also was reached to press the proposed measure to speedy passage. Actual drafting of the bill was started late in the day by members of the ways C. Much discussion was evoked in the conference relative to a choice between a flat embargo and high tariff, but the house leaders held out against the employment of a ban on importations in peace time, urging that the age-old custom of no embargoes except in time of war be followed. Senate members of the measure could be put through their breach of congress more easily than a high tariff bill, but they finally assured the house conferees that they would use all of their influence to push the measure through as soon as it was received from the house.

The subject of the rates to be embodied in the tariff measure was not directly discussed at the conference. Members of the house committee which will draft the bill were informed that the rates would be left entirely to them and that whatever they were able to have passed by the house the senate conferees would try to keep intact.

Explanation was made that the reason the conferees attempted no decision on rates was that such a discussion might have resulted in a breach they would use until the final roll call and further that the measure might not go to the president in the form now proposed.

A tentative bill by Representative Green, republican, Iowa, has been practically accepted as the basis for the measure.

NORWICH TOWN

Thursday evening from 6 to 7.50 the women of the First Methodist Episcopal church served a fine supper at the home of Mrs. Richard Carter of Pleasant street. The menu consisted of baked beans, scalloped potatoes, pickles, collard greens and coffee. Mrs. Carter was in general charge, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Daniel Wheeler, also four members of the Victory class connected with this church, Misses Florence Brown, Blanche W. Miriam Griewood and Fannie Edmiston. While supper was being served, and during the evening, Miss Brown and Miss Wheeler entertained with selections on the piano. Miss Ruth Woodmansee presided with several readings. Miss Josephine Rogers was in charge of the sale of home made candy. The net proceeds of the supper and sale were nearly $10.

This amount is to be used in the purchase of Christmas candy for the primary class of the Sunday school, of which Mrs. Carter is teacher. A rummage sale held recently at Mrs. Carter's home in the interest of the church netted $18.25.

In recognition of Pilgrims' day, very interesting programs were carried out at the Town street school, William G. Tarbox principal. The pupils of the senior room united with the pupils of the junior room, Mrs. Samuel Lathrop teacher, for the following exercises:

Some of the girls of Mrs. Lathrop's room were dressed as Puritan maidens. For some time various postcard views of Plymouth have been exhibited to the children, which fact has created much interest among them in preparing for the exercises.

The smaller children, representing the kindergarten and the primary and the intermediate rooms, assembled in the kindergarten room for Pilgrims' day exercises and Christmas carols. Some of the little folks wore costumes representing Indian and Pilgrim maidens. The numbers for Pilgrims' day follow: Come, Ye Thankful People, Come, all; Salute to Flag, all; America, all; Indian Story, six pupils from the third and fourth grades; Dutch Song, John Eyersee; Pilgrim Story, Eleanor Smith, Emily Bidwell and Bernadette Pouch; Thanksgiving, Frances Vail. The Christmas carols, in which all united, included Away in the Manger, Adeline Fideles, Once in Royal David's City, In Little Bethlehem. The pupils also sang Watching for Santa Claus, If You're Good, Santa Land, Old Santa Put on His Cap, Christmas Time is Coming, Miss Callie White of Bloomfield has been at her home on Peck's Corner this week, called here by the death of Miss Selma L. Woodard, a cousin of Miss White's mother.

Miss Clara Dreed of Lower Pawcatuck was the guest Friday of her aunt, Mrs. Ida B. Parkhurst, of Town street. Mrs. C. A. Parker of Bozrah is visiting at the home of her father, Sherwood G. Avery, of 73 West Town street. Mrs. Charles Bennett of Haughton's Cove spent Thursday at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bennett, of Norwich Town street.

From the Consular Reports. There is to be a new railway bridge across the Yellow river in China. It will be 10,000 feet in length and will cost between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000.

Spain has much water power as yet undeveloped and offers a great field for American electrical goods. American cotton going into Germany is increasing in quantity. Italy's wheat administrator has already purchased more than half the foreign wheat that will be needed.

South America now suffers from the general financial stringency and mental disquietude.

India is to have an immense sugar corporation with a capital of $25,000,000.

In the Tientsin (China) consular district more than 1,500 motor cars are operating, as well as sixty trucks and seventy-five motorcycles.

China's anti-Japanese boycott is not effective in Manchuria. Rubber prices continue unprecedentedly low in Amsterdam.

Almost every known gem is mined in Australia. The black opal is the most beautiful of all. It has increased 300 per cent. in value in the last two years and the best quality now brings nearly $40 a carat. It ranges in size from 1 to 40 carats.

American typewriters are in demand in Greece, where they were introduced during the war, when German machines could not be imported. The German machines are still popular in Greece.

Finnish industries met with only partial success in their efforts to return to normal conditions last year.

Clearing Tracks With Water. Where the Great Northern Railway skirts the shore of Puget sound in the state of Washington, traffic is sometimes interrupted by slides from steep sand and gravel banks which cover the tracks. Formerly these accidents caused serious delays while gangs of men slowly shoveled off the obstruction; but the principle of hydraulic mining, so well known in the west, suggested a more expeditious method of opening up the road.

A steam pump attached to heavy hose now takes the place of the shovellers when a slide is to be removed and the skillfully directed stream of water rapidly washes off the sand and earth and leaves the track free.

Of course, care must be taken not to undermine the roadbed, but this difficulty seems to have been avoided.
