THIS IS CLEAN-UP WEEK

This will be the last week of one of the most remarkable January Clearance Sales that we have ever held.

The Last Week In January

The offerings we make this week will be the strongest kind of an invitation to save money on needed household articles, as well as all kinds of wearing apparel.

Still Further Reductions

During the busy days of the Clearance Sale a lot of short lengths and odd sizes have accumulated. All these will be offered, this week, at still further reductions from January Clearance Prices.

Many New Purchases Included

In addition to these odd lots and broken lines we are offering many special lots purchased from over-stocked manufacturers and jobbers, glad to make us substantial price concessions because we pay cash.

Items of Special Interest

In this announcement we mention only a few items—but bear in mind that every department in the store has something of interest to offer, the chances for economy being so evident that no one can afford to ignore them.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Trolley services between Danielson and Central Village was resumed Sunday after a suspension that was forced Saturday by the breaking of the main drive shaft—a 1 1/2-inch steel arm—on the engine at the Dyer dam plant of the Connecticut company, two miles south of Danielson. The accident tied up the line during Saturday from Central Village to North Grovesville. There was no service on Saturday anywhere on the line between Central Village and North Grovesville. Under arrangements that have since been made power for the operation of the line from Central Village to Danielson has been obtained from the Eastern Connecticut Power company and this power resumed on Sunday. It is expected that this will be in the immediate future. Saturday's tleup of the Dyer dam power plant in which the steam plant was put out of commission follows a washout, which occurred when the water on the put the water tower out of service. Appreciable progress is now being made, however, on the restoration of the water power and it is expected that the repair job is an exceedingly difficult one, requiring long and arduous work. What caused the break in the drive shaft of the engine at the Dyer dam could not be ascertained on Sunday, but it may have been due to a flaw in the steel. Hourly service was being maintained on Sunday between Danielson and Central Village, with connections every other hour, for Jewett City and Norwich.

PUTNAM

Putnam is without trolley service again, bringing back remembrance of the difficulties of last winter, when service was suspended for weeks. The present period of service was Saturday morning and was due to the snapping of the main shaft on the engine at the Dyer dam, below Danielson. Through an arrangement with the Eastern Connecticut Power company, power was obtained Sunday to permit of resuming operation between Central Village and Danielson, but for the present the line from Danielson through this city to the Grovesville is still being operated. Just when the service will be resumed could not be ascertained Sunday, but it is believed within a day or two. Timothy E. Taylor, 45, who died early Saturday morning at his home in Webster, formerly was a resident in this city and at Mechanicville, where he was employed in the plant of the French River Textile company. Mr. Taylor was very familiar with the construction of locomotives and perfected some improved device upon which he had obtained patents, as he also had on a railroad signaling device. At South Braintree, Friday evening, the Putnam high school basketball team of 22 to 17 content to the high school team of that place. At the end of the first half the score was 6 to 5, but in the second half the Thayer academy team forged ahead and scored out a victory. Thayer team will come to Putnam before long for a return game. Pomfret school hockey team, and the team of Loomis school of Windsor played an overtime game to a tie at Pomfret Saturday, the final score being 2-2. The overtime period was for twelve minutes, but even then not a player on either side could score. Points were scored for Loomis in the first half by Kidd and Loomis, while in the second period Hendrickson and Loomis scored for Loomis. The game was one of the most closely contested seen at Pomfret. Deputy Frank Haines, of Wolf Den garage, Pomfret, assisted by Mrs. Haines, Mrs. S. G. Williams, secretary of the Quinebaug Pomona garage, and the following officers of Putnam garage at a meeting here this (Monday) evening: Master, Earl Johnson; overseer, Ceres, Hazel Johnson; lecturer, Hubby Davison; steward, Frank Elliott; assistant steward, Harold Morarty; chaplain, Miss Sadie Adams; treasurer, Elizabeth Elliott; gatekeeper, Arthur Loomis; Ceres, Hazel Johnson; Pomona, Louis Davison; Flora, Alice Hoger; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Julia Loomis. Tatem's handle factory, which has been closed for a few days for inventory is to resume operations today (Monday). It was reported to the police Saturday morning by Adelard Mason of this city that during the night the cell and batteries on his wood-cutting machine had been taken. This machine and another like it belonging to another resident of Webster to make their home. Besides his wife Mr. Taylor leaves three sisters and two brothers. The offices of Highland garage on South Killingly were installed Saturday evening at Orange hall in this place by the following officers: Master, C. E. Taylor; lecturer, Myron Whitaker; overseer, Jacob L. Spalding; lecturer, Henry Tewogood; steward, Hollis Young; assistant steward, Harold Woodmaney; chaplain, Myron Whitaker; secretary, Mildred E. Kelley; gatekeeper, Earl Phillips; Ceres, Miss F. Terwilliger; Pomona, Mervin Young; Florence, Miss Woodmaney; lady assistant steward, Florence Woodmaney. It is good news to all the people of the town of Killingly to know that the mill of the Attawaugan company—at this stage, Ballouville and Pinehurst—are back on a full time schedule of operations. This points the way to a return of normal conditions in the textile industry, something that Killingly, like the rest of the state, has been anxiously awaiting for many weeks. At Ballouville the Attawaugan company, one of Killingly's oldest and most respected concerns, is replacing antiquated carding and other textile machinery with new and up-to-date equipment. This is being done at heavy expense and when the work is completed this mill will be one of the best equipped in this section of the state. A hearing before Justice A. Hale Bennett in Canterbury, W. F. Herr of that town was fined $20 and costs of $17 for having killed a deer without reporting the fact to the game officials, Federal and County Game Warden Henry E. Batten of East Killingly worked up the case, which he says is the first prosecution of this kind in the county for years. Mr. Herr is a farmer and his error seems to have been in failing to make a report of killing the deer rather than in actually announcing it for causing damage to his property. Conn. Mills lost 34 to 26 Saturday evening in the town hall to the Newport Reserve team in one of the great contests of the year on basketball courts hereabouts. It has been so unusual for the speedy Conn. Mills five to lose a contest this season that Saturday's defeat cannot be regarded as the least, who, nevertheless, were appreciative over seeing a great contest. As noted on The Bulletin's sport page Saturday, two overtime periods were required to bring the score to a tie, 42 to 38 victory for Killingly High School's basketball team over the Worcester Trade School team. This contest may be easily recalled as sensational for the reason that the game was played in a frenzy of excitement and anxiety at every stage of the contest. The victory was regarded as easily the greatest contest of the year for Killingly, which has been showing remarkable form this season. The following items appearing in week end issues of financial journals indicate that the end of the financial crisis is in sight. The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company is near at hand, a fact that will mean resumption of operations at the Goodyear plant in Akron, Ohio. N. Y. Merchants creditors Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., whose claims aggregate $7,000,000 met Thursday and Wednesday in New York City. The merchants have agreed to underwrite. No definite action was taken at this meeting, which was adjourned until Friday. Proposed plan provided for issuance of approximately $25,000,000 of new securities, divided into $25,000,000 25-year 8 per cent. bonds, $25,000,000 8 per cent. debentures and about $15,000,000 of short term notes. Present authorities preferred capitalization of $100,000,000 probably will be exchanged for a new issue of preferred of like amount. In addition to merchandise claims aggregating $70,000,000 there are secured bank loans of about $19,000,000, $4,785,000 of loans secured by merchandise, $1,900,000 unsecured loans and brokers of about $3,000,000, making a total of nearly $100,000,000. Many Goodyear merchandise creditors are in a position where they cannot accept securities on which it is impossible for them to realize cash and although they are inclined to do everything in their power to help the company, they are faced with the possibility of a plan which does not provide for their receiving a liberal amount of cash in settlement of

MOTHERS, DO THIS—

When the Children Cough, Rub Muterole on Throats and Chests

(It often prevents pneumonia). 25c and 65c jars; hospital size $3.00.

the north end were minus their coils and batteries.

Sunday evening at the Methodist church a 7 o'clock lecture. The Passing of the Building Pot, a lesson in Americanization was given. The first report of the standing in the color contest at the high school, between the whites and the blues shows the whites to have a great lead over the opposing team. This standing is given so far on the basis of the mark on the latest rank cards. A's, B's, and C's each count a given number of points, while D's take off a certain number.

The tenth semi-annual financial statement of the Putnam Building and Loan Association shows the finances of the association to be in splendid condition. The assets of the association are now $70,665.16, divided as follows: Mortgage loans $64,560.00; Shares $2,700.00; Liberty bonds $2,172.00; Putnam Savings bank $3,000.00; Dues in arrears $48.00; Fines charged $23.85; Cash in bank $489.90. The liabilities on the balance sheet are divided as follows: Due to shareholders $68,785.22; Non-participating accounts $69.91; Surplus fund $65.03; Contingent fund $1,000.00.

At present there are about four hundred members to the local association, holding two thousand eight hundred and sixty-three shares. The meeting of the association will be held in the chamber of commerce rooms Tuesday evening. A dividend recently declared to shareholders amounts to $104.92. A report at the membership of the Second Congregational church of this city, shows that the total at present is 413, an increase of twenty-six over the membership at this time last year. The Sunday school enrollment has also increased now totaling 694, instead of 442 at this time last year. The men's club, organized this year, is shown to have a membership of 87. There were twenty-two baptisms during the year.

WESTMINSTER

St. John 3: 7. "What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter," was the pastor's text at morning worship Sunday morning, Jan. 23, 1921. At the session of the church school, Jan. 9 the following officers were elected for the current year: Assistant superintendent, Miss Young; organist, Mrs. Jessie A. Mead; chorist, Miss Florence Jones; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. T. Edward Davies. Miss Jones was elected by the church as a member of the church school committee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mrs. Columbus Smith last spring. At the annual church meeting reports were read and accepted from the secretary and treasurer of the church and the organizations within it. During the year the church was represented at each of the fellowships of the South Windham
