

The Bulletin

Norwich, Monday, Feb. 14, 1921.

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.
Pressure was high Sunday east of the Rocky Mountains and fair weather prevailed generally. The weather was unseasonably warmer Sunday throughout the United States except in the Atlantic states.

The outlook is for generally fair weather Monday and Tuesday in the states east of the Mississippi river with temperatures higher than in the Atlantic states.

Winds off Atlantic Coast—North of Sandy Hook, moderate southwest and west winds, and overcast weather Monday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras—Moderate southwest winds and partly overcast weather Monday.

Southern New England: Generally fair Monday and Tuesday, somewhat warmer Monday, colder Tuesday.

Observations in Norwich.
The Bulletin's observations show the following records reported from changes in temperature and barometric readings Saturday and Sunday:

| Time | Ther. Bar. |
|------------------------|------------|
| 7 a. m. | 29.25 |
| 12 m. | 30.25 |
| 6 p. m. | 29.75 |
| Highest 30, lowest 22. | |

| Time | Ther. Bar. |
|------------------------|------------|
| 7 a. m. | 29.75 |
| 12 m. | 30.25 |
| 6 p. m. | 29.75 |
| Highest 30, lowest 20. | |

Comparisons.
Predictions for Saturday: Cloudy. Saturday's weather: Early morning snow, followed by fair.

Predictions for Sunday: Cloudy. Sunday's weather: Fair, followed by cloudy, northwest wind.

RUN, MOON AND TIDES.

| Day | Run | High | Low |
|-----|------|------|------|
| 14 | 6:45 | 5:15 | 2:25 |
| 15 | 6:44 | 5:20 | 2:36 |
| 16 | 6:47 | 5:21 | 2:55 |
| 17 | 6:49 | 5:24 | 3:18 |
| 18 | 6:50 | 5:28 | 3:45 |
| 19 | 6:52 | 5:35 | 4:18 |
| 20 | 6:57 | 5:47 | 4:59 |

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

Lambert's All Stars seeking revenge on the Circus had the tables turned on them Friday night when the C.L.A.'s came through and won the best two out of three games from the All Stars on the local alleys. Individual high was rolled by A. Lambert with score of 113. Murphy and Murphy rolled high three with a pinfall of 302. Scores:

| Player | Score |
|------------|-------|
| Barlow | 89 |
| Laffeur | 78 |
| A. Lambert | 113 |
| E. Lambert | 84 |
| Bushnell | 80 |

Lambert's All Stars.

| Player | Score |
|------------|-------|
| Barlow | 89 |
| Laffeur | 78 |
| A. Lambert | 113 |
| E. Lambert | 84 |
| Bushnell | 80 |

In a league match game rolled on the local alleys, Friday night, the Olympic Five won their match from the Pinochle club by winning two games. The honours all went to the winners. Pilling rolled individual high with a score of 144 pinfall and high three honors went to F. White with a pinfall of 351 pins. The scores:

| Player | Score |
|----------|-------|
| Bushnell | 91 |
| Oumitte | 88 |
| Landry | 95 |
| Armitage | 85 |
| Duggan | 82 |

The Pinochle club will give up their rooms on Front street on March 1, and as yet have not secured any quarters but the club will meet during the week to decide about the question of securing new quarters.

The Army-Navy members had their picture taken Sunday.

Money from here attended a dance in Plainfield Saturday night.

The recent light snow fall has made skidding a popular sport on the local hills.

NORWICH TOWN

Saturday evening the Christian Endeavor society of the First Methodist Episcopal church held a business meeting at the home of its president, Miss Theodora Brown. The object of the meeting was to make plans for the future in behalf of the society's interests.

The C. E. service at this church Sunday evening at 4:45 was led by Miss Florence M. Bennett who ably treated the subject, Thy Kingdom Come, 11, I My Home, Matthew, 6:7-15 (Consecration meeting).

During the last half hour of the school session Friday afternoon, all grades of the West Town Street school assembled in the senior room where patriotic exercises were held for Lincoln Day. The pupils of the four rooms united in the programme which comprised songs, readings, recitations and quotations from Lincoln.

The most interesting sermon at the First Congregational church, Sunday morning, was taken from The Master's Words in His Sermon on the Mount. The pastor, Rev. Gordon F. Bailey, spoke for his text, Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them. In the course of his address, Rev. Mr. Bailey laid tribute to the life of Lincoln; outlining his wonderful achievements, with special reference to his integrity as a man and his loyalty to his country. The speaker quoted Dean Brown: Abraham Lincoln, in my opinion, was the most wonderful man America has ever known. Following the service the second meeting of the Men's Forum was held in the church auditorium. The topic was Loyalty to the Stars, What It Means and What It Involves. At the Young People's Christian Endeavor service at 4:30 the topic was Kingdom of God in the Home, Matthew, 6:7-15. Miss Florence M. Sotery was the leader.

Miss Rose Jones of New York is passing several weeks at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kerr. Miss Jones came to Norwich Town to look after the home interests of her sister who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winchester and Mrs. Winchester's sister, Miss Heidel, of Lisbon, were visitors in Norwich Town Sunday attending the morning service at the First Congregational church. The Miss Bernice I. Underwood from the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, spent the week end at the home

LITTLE OF FEAR FROM IMMIGRATION

According to the belief expressed by Mrs. B. B. Wessel, an instructor at Connecticut College, in a lecture delivered before an audience of 150 men and women in the Y. M. H. A. hall, Main street, Sunday evening, there is little cause for alarm in the immigration problem. Mrs. Wessel told her audience that the immigration problem is not only a national problem but is an international problem. The lecturer, who is of Hebrew parentage, took occasion to score Ford's attack on Jews, calling such action unworthy of a Christian.

The lecture was held under the auspices of the Young Men's Hebrew association, and was one of a series of lectures given from time to time. J. Schwartz acted as chairman of the meeting and introduced Mrs. Wessel who chose the immigration problem and the Jewish immigrant as the subject of her lecture. She has had considerable experience in immigration work as she has at various times been engaged in this activity among a dozen or more racial groups.

The problem of immigration is as old as history, Mrs. Wessel said. Ever since man has existed on the earth people have been migrating. When the question, can we assimilate the immigrants, is asked, we might answer it by saying that the white race in Europe today is an assimilation of peoples who have migrated from the southeastern countries of Europe. In 1907 immigration numbered a million and a quarter but in 1910 it went back to 800,000. It is around the million mark today. During the last 100 years 23,000,000 immigrants came to our shores. When we broke out our foreign born population numbered about 16,000,000 and there was another 16,000,000 of American born of foreign parentage. We have people in this country from 45 different countries. Germany leads the world in immigration to this country.

Mrs. Wessel said that Henry Ford, for his attack on the Jews. She quoted from prominent Christian writers who do not sympathize with Mr. Ford's views. Mrs. Wessel was given a rising vote of thanks for her lecture.

Mr. Schwartz, the chairman, called attention to the ministerial show which the Y. M. H. A. is to give in T. A. B. hall this week.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO DISCUSS AUTOMOBILE FEES

It was announced at Hartford that the legislative committee of finance and rivers, bridges and roads will hold a joint meeting on March 1 for the consideration of the bill, introduced by the state motor vehicle and highway departments, which provides for the complete revision of the automobile registration fees. It is estimated that the revenue from the state would be $3,000,000 annually as the result of the revision.

Highway Commissioner Bennett has recommended the following revision of fees: In the office of United States Commissioner Bennett points out that the cost of highway maintenance has increased and as the revenue from automobiles is used for highway work the increases are needed. The schedule of new fees for passenger automobiles has not yet been prepared.

COMMISSIONER MATHESON HOLDS LIQUOR CASE HEARINGS. Three alleged violators of the national liquor law were arraigned before United States Commissioner Earl Matheson at the office of United States Commissioner Frank L. McGuire in New London Saturday. Two of the defendants, Peemer W. Carman and Harry Hertz, were bound over to the next term of the United States district court. Bonds in each case were fixed at $500.

The case of Giovanni Caputo was continued until February 23, when he will be given a hearing in Norwich. Eugene Courtney furnished surety for Carman and Joseph Schwartz furnished surety for Hertz. Hertz was ordered to appear before Commissioner McGuire on February 23, to consider the establishment of a zoning system in the larger cities of the state.

The idea is to confine industrial plants to certain sections of cities and to prevent their locating in strictly residential sections. New Haven is particularly interested in the proposition. Lawson Purday of New York, former city commissioner, is expected to explain the system and champion its claims as a beneficial matter to be earnestly considered by the legislature.

The bill before the legislature was prepared by the legislative committee of the chamber of commerce of New Haven, under the guiding hand of Mr. Purday, and it is said to have been supported largely by various executives of business organizations throughout the state.

SALT-SHAKER PATENT GRANTED

ALEX M. PARNIK, NORWICH. The following Connecticut inventors were granted patents February 11, 1921: Bengt M. W. Hanson, Hartford, cone grinding machine; Hector V. Lough, Hartford, molding machine; Alvin M. Craig, New Haven, shock diffuser for firearms; William Crowley, West Haven, automobile signal; Edward Saunders, New Haven, skate; Julius Bronzinger, Cromwell, car and truck; Alvin M. Craig, New Haven, shock diffuser for firearms; Alexander M. Parnik, Norwich, salt-shaker; Adolma J. Theriault, Seymour, buckle; D. Walton B. Russell, Stamford, wrench; Cheney Bros., South Manchester, trade mark—fabric.

RETAIL MERCHANTS SET DATES FOR JOINT SPRING OPENINGS

The Retail Merchants Bureau, at a recent meeting, voted to hold a joint spring opening on March 15th, 16th and 17th. Stores carrying men's and women's wearing apparel are expected to cooperate. These joint openings have become a regular feature with the Norwich retail merchants and are finding favor with the public generally.

Local merchants are enthusiastic over the marked improvement in merchandising conditions during the past few weeks. It is expected there will be some very interesting displays during Spring Opening Week.

FIRE LOSS AT ELLINGTON IS ESTIMATED AT $20,000

One of the worst fires in that section in the last five years occurred about 4:30 o'clock on Saturday at the Paul Lins farm about a mile from the center of Rockville on the Ellington road Saturday evening. The fire started from undetermined causes and was discovered about 8:45 o'clock. The chemical truck of the Rockville department was sent to the fire but was unable to save any of the buildings for lack of water. The nearest hydrant was 800 feet away.

Two sheds were destroyed by the flames, one being about 80 by 80 feet and the smaller shed about half that size. In

FRED A. HAGLUND DIES

SUDDENLY IN IOWA. Word has been received here of the sudden death of Fred A. Haglund, formerly of this city in Ames, Ia., on Saturday. Mr. Haglund was 42 years of age. He was a member of the 302d engineers, of the 82d division, and during October, 1918, he was gassed and shell-shocked during the battle of the Argonne in France. He returned to this country after the armistice was signed, but had suffered from heart trouble which resulted from his experience. He was attending a government vocational training school at Iowa State college at Ames when he died. He was studying to be a construction engineer.

Mr. Haglund was born in Norwich Oct. 18, 1878, the son of Frank and Caroline Benson Haglund. He received his education here and had been employed as a carpenter. About 10 years ago he left for the west, going to Swea City, Ia., where he resided until the recent war. He enlisted at the outbreak of the war and was assigned to the engineering corps and shortly afterwards went overseas. He saw considerable fighting until he was gassed and sent to a hospital. While in the office of United States Commissioner Bennett points out that the cost of highway maintenance has increased and as the revenue from automobiles is used for highway work the increases are needed. The schedule of new fees for passenger automobiles has not yet been prepared.

RECORD APPRECIATION OF ATTORNEY FANNING'S SERVICES

At the February meeting of the Norwich board of gas and electrical commissioners, the attorney, Joseph T. Fanning, was tenderly and affectionately referred to and there was expressed by all the members and associates a desire to thank him for his services.

There was further expressed the highest appreciation of the services rendered to the board by Mr. Fanning, whose knowledge, judgment and advice were always correct as well as invaluable.

Each member of the board and associates gave expression to his sense of personal loss in the death of Mr. Fanning and this memorial minute of honor and affection was recorded by the secretary of the board, Martin E. Jensen.

Y. M. C. A. SUNDAY MEETING

A good sized and interested audience enjoyed the Sunday afternoon meeting at the local Young Men's Christian Association when two reels of moving pictures were shown. On account of the fact that the electric power was off until five o'clock, the address delivered previous to the showing of the pictures, and J. C. Macpherson, vice president of the Y. M. C. A. was the speaker and he selected as his subject "Joseph in Egypt."

Though the story is an old one, it did not fail to grip the men who listened with interest from beginning to end. The two reels shown were "A Visit to the Hawaiian Islands," and "The Wanderer," both of which pleased the audience.

WARDENS KILLED 1,500 DOGS IN PAST 6 MONTHS

Dog wardens in the state killed 1,500 dogs between July and December, 1920, according to figures announced at Hartford by James M. Whittelsey, commissioner of January 3 last, but could not be located at the time. Last Saturday he appeared at the office of Commissioner McGuire and stated that he had been ordered to appear before the commissioner. At that time he was informed to present himself Saturday.

Cherch Calls Pastor

A call to the pastorate of All Souls' church at New London has been extended to Rev. W. J. Greene, who is at present assistant pastor of Willow Place chapel in Brooklyn, N. Y.

New Woolen Corporation

The Connecticut Textile corporation of New London has been incorporated. The capital stock is divided into 2,000 shares of $100 each and business is to start with $1,000. The incorporators are Morris Lubchansky, Warren R. Burrows or Grotton and Thomas C. Dillon of New London.

SCHOOL ENUMERATION GAINS 13,900 IN CONNECTICUT

With returns mailed from only two towns, the school enumeration in the state for September, 1920, shows a gain of a little more than 12,000 or 1919, according to figures obtained at the capital in Hartford. The enumeration for the state of school children between the ages of 4 and 16 years is approximately 246,882 for 1920. At the rate of $2.25 for each child enumerated, which the state pays to the towns, the cost for 1920 will be more than $500,000. Payments will be made by the comptroller's department in March.

AUTO WAS SMASHED BY REPAIR MAN'S EMPLOYEES

Judge Charles B. Waller in the common pleas court at New London Saturday heard the case of Ellen C. Jones of New London, administrator of the estate of W. C. Jones against W. W. Phillips. The plaintiff alleges that her husband took his automobile to the defendant's garage for repairs and that while it was there employees of the garage smashed it in an automobile accident.

Boys' Meeting at Y. M. C. A.

At the regular weekly meeting for boys at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon, Physical Director E. J. Fritz gave a talk on "Fitness," using the blackboard and asking questions. Mr. Fritz developed the subject in a very interesting way. Robert Otis, Jr., played the piano to the singing.

Reginald Friday

Friday's rain and snowfall as measured by Supervisor Charles W. Burton of the water department amounted to 42-100 of an inch.

Plummer Gets New Bondsman

Ernest Plummer of New London, former brakeman for the New Haven road, was surrendered by his bondsman, Mrs. Pasquale Pace Friday, secured bonds and New London on Saturday for $1,500, the amount of the old bond.

Better get Blood-Iron Phosphate

Most weak, thin, nervous, run-down folks owe their condition to weak nerves and a lack of red blood cells. Blood-Iron Phosphate by strengthening the nerves and increasing the red blood cells helps to quickly restore strength. National Drug Stores, or any other druggist of whom you buy it, is authorized to refund the full price to you if you are dissatisfied. Better get Blood-Iron Phosphate and begin its use to day.

POETRY

IN PLYMOUTH.
The year is sixteen hundred twenty-one,
I am in Plymouth, and the setting sun,
Above the hill that overlooks the bay,
Is closing in its chilly summer day.
I see the shadows of the home—a row
Of roof-ruffled huts—reach toward the rocks below.
I hear the lonely, plaintive whippoorwill
And the new solemn thrush. All else is still.
All save the billow making evermore
A melancholy murmur on the surge.

The men have been afield, as reapers
And to their garner corn and small grains bear?
But for a drouth, the harvest would be them o'er.
Pens had not failed if rains had fallen deposited their burden, they return
Each to the hut where soon his lamp will burn;
Among Bradford, man of thought,
And gentle Winslow, wed to Susan
White,
Whose loving eyes will be his stars to night.

How many of the Pilgrim folk have gone
Another, yet, their last, long voyage on
Since that brave ship, the Mayflower,
Anchored here?
One-half of them, yet 'tis scarce a year!
How dismal now, beneath this darkening
moon,
Yon barren bluff whereon their bodies
lie.
How faintly unmarked that they unseen may be.
Seem always, always, visible to me!
There 'twas enough for sadness here to night.
Without that dismal object in my sight,
Now, one by one, the window lights go out,
And in the darkness, wandering about,
The winds that bring the voices of the world
Make softer still the deeper solitude.
I hear the forest call the ocean moan,
The wolf bark near, and I feel alone,
As if I were the only man on earth.
That faith finds freedom in this wilderness.
The wind is set; and with barred door
and gate
The hamlet sleeps—ah! who can tell its fate?
—Ralph H. Shaw, in Boston Transcript.

Oh, merchant, show me all your stock,
I want a valentine
To send the sweetest girl on earth,
So give me valentines—
Pink satin and forget-me-nots,
Or silver lace and blue,
Or velvet and red,
Nay, none of them will do.

For rings and hearts and doves and darts
And rosy garlands gay,
And wedding bells and spangles bright
Are trifles in their way.
But what I want is love—she is such
A pert coquette elf,
So I had better go instead
And offer her—
—Minna Irving, in New York Herald.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

"Sir," said the wayfarer, "I have seen better days."
"Me too. We are not getting our best specimens of weather just now,"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Your wife is already criticizing the candidate for whom she voted."
"Yes," replied Mr. Meekton, "woman in judge in politics, same as in love."—Washington Star.

"Did you ever take the oath before?"
"Only once, judge and it didn't count, because it was false."—Houston Post.

"That fellow must have money."
"What makes you think so?"
"Look how well his wife is dressed."—Detroit Free Press.

"The leaves, garb of the trees, are going. Doesn't it make you sad?"
"Not me. I'm glad nature won't have to wear her last year's clothes next spring."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Genial Guy (in smoking car, to stranger)—Nice weather we're having, sir.
Stranger (Oh)—You have the advantage of me.
Genial Guy—Oh, I fancy not. Warm weather affects even an iceberg.—Buffalo Express.

"I am writing an article on the 'Brotherhood of Man,'" said Mrs. Highbrow.
"That so?" replied Mr. Highbrow. "I hope you have made it broad enough to include all my relatives, too."—Detroit Free Press.

Edith—Why didn't you marry him? Everybody says he has reformed.
"Marie—Yes, but he reformed too late. His money was all gone."—Boston Transcript.

"Business is poor at my theater."
"You cater to tired business men, it be lieve?"
"Well, you'd better get up a show for oulet laborers."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

"Yes, I can fix you up for California all right," said the ticket agent after spending an hour looking up berth and timetable.
"O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

"Yes, I can fix you up for California all right," said the ticket agent after spending an hour looking up berth and timetable.
"O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

"Yes, I can fix you up for California all right," said the ticket agent after spending an hour looking up berth and timetable.
"O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

"Yes, I can fix you up for California all right," said the ticket agent after spending an hour looking up berth and timetable.
"O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

"Yes, I can fix you up for California all right," said the ticket agent after spending an hour looking up berth and timetable.
"O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

"Yes, I can fix you up for California all right," said the ticket agent after spending an hour looking up berth and timetable.
"O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

"Yes, I can fix you up for California all right," said the ticket agent after spending an hour looking up berth and timetable.
"O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

"Yes, I can fix you up for California all right," said the ticket agent after spending an hour looking up berth and timetable.
"O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

"Yes, I can fix you up for California all right," said the ticket agent after spending an hour looking up berth and timetable.
"O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

"Yes, I can fix you up for California all right," said the ticket agent after spending an hour looking up berth and timetable.
"O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

"Yes, I can fix you up for California all right," said the ticket agent after spending an hour looking up berth and timetable.
"O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

"Yes, I can fix you up for California all right," said the ticket agent after spending an hour looking up berth and timetable.
"O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

"Yes, I can fix you up for California all right," said the ticket agent after spending an hour looking up berth and timetable.
"O'Brogan (in animal store)—I want to exchange this pig that my youngest got as a Christmas present.
"Clear her last year's clothes with it!" O'Brogan—Sure, you must have eyes like a bat! Can't you see that the beast is black and tan?—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"Robert, which is the shortest day of the year?"
"Robbie—The day your father promises to give you a nickel afore you go to bed."—Boston Transcript.

THE KALEIDOSCOPE

Some rivers of Siberia flow over ice many years old and almost as solid as