The Has-Beens club held a meeting Monday evening for the selection of officers which resulted as follows: President, John D. Sharp; secretary, William C. Kendall; treasurer, William F. Chamberlain; executive committee, Charles T. Webster, chairman, Earle M. Wood, Andrew Frohman and Albert J. Aberg. The executive committee will meet later in the week to appoint the committees which will have charge of the annual social and dance which is to be held some time this month.

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Josephine Odette Paradis at her late home on Mecton street, Sunday morning at 8.30, followed by a requiem mass at Sacred Heart church at 9 o'clock. Rev. U. O. Bellerose was celebrant. Rev. F. Dessecurant officiated. Burial was in Chagnon sub-deacon. There was a large attendance at the church. Burial was in the Sacred Heart cemetery. The bearers were Emestias, Augustus, Louis, Regis, William and John Paradis.

In the rectory of the Sacred Heart church, Monday night, at 7 o'clock, Rev. H. F. Chagnon married Henry W. Fontaine and Miss Viola Chagnon. Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Fontaine were the witnesses.

The groom is the son of Henry and Cecelia Cloughier Fontaine and the bride is the daughter of William F. Chagnon and Mrs. Ray Chagnon and she was a school teacher.

NORWICH TOWN

Does Godliness Pay? was the theme of the fine sermon Sunday morning, at the First Congregational church. The pastor, Rev. Gordon F. Bailey, took for his text, First Timothy 4:8. For bodily exercise profiteth little; but Godliness is profitable unto all things, especially to them that desire soberly. The sermon was well received and the church was well filled.

Rev. Ernest E. Lager, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, Norwich, was in charge of the Sunday afternoon service at the Sheltering Arms. The investment of the church was the subject of the interesting address. Rev. Mr. Lager took for his text, Judges 8:14. But the Spirit of the Lord came upon Gideon and blew a trumpet; and Abimelech was gathered after him.

TO REDUCE DANGEROUS VARICOSE VEINS

People who have swollen veins or hemorrhoids should not wait until they reach the burning point, which means much suffering. The only safe and reliable drug is a two-ounce bottle of Dr. Moon's Varicose Vein Remedy. It is a powerful yet harmless remedy for the treatment of varicose veins in a few days and by its regular use swollen veins will return to their normal condition and patients will be able to worry no more. Dr. Moon's Varicose Vein Remedy is used by physicians and in hospitals and is guaranteed to give relief. It is sold by all druggists.

MEET MONDAY WITH NORWICH TIES ON HONOLULU TRIP, WRITES R. C. PLAUT

Rutherford C. Plaut of the Plaut-Cadogan Co. of this city, who has been on a trip to Honolulu and is now back in California on his way home, has sent the following letter to Norwich friends, describing incidents and experiences of his travels:

On our way over to Honolulu on the S. M. A. we had just beautiful, the sea was quiet and the meals were fine. We had a very nice party; at our table on my right was a Captain Butler, who was from Rockland, Maine, a fine type of an old man. When he heard that I was from Norwich, he wanted to know if I knew Captain Butler, who was an old friend of his and he inquired as to the health of Maxton Holmes. So you see the world is small when one gets sealed up in the hull of a vessel. I had a very nice party; at our table on my right was a Captain Butler, who was from Rockland, Maine, a fine type of an old man. When he heard that I was from Norwich, he wanted to know if I knew Captain Butler, who was an old friend of his and he inquired as to the health of Maxton Holmes. So you see the world is small when one gets sealed up in the hull of a vessel.

As we approached Honolulu we saw the city and the harbor. The air was heavy with the odors of bananas, pineapples and molasses, being blown in from the harbor. The streets were narrow and none too clean, but the climate is glorious—the sun shines as I have never seen it shine before. Hawaii is a beautiful island, that is what a Hawaiian is called, (that is what a Hawaiian is called), the policeman. They are fine looking fellows of a soft, chocolate brown, tall and straight with jet black hair, mustache, brown eyes and perfect white teeth. On the walks here and there are Hawaiian women wearing all sorts of gay flowers into long strands, called "leis." There are hung around a visitor's neck to denote that they have just arrived at the place they are to visit. If they intend to return and they are on the boat, it denotes that they expect to return. It is in very, very pretty custom. I put up at the Alexander Young hotel that is in the city proper. The Moana hotel under the same management is out away on the beach. The service is all Chinese including the clerks in the office. My room is large, cool and comfortable. A white mosquito net is out around the bed. The water is about 78 degrees and bathing and swimming are delightful. On this beach are located the Quailgater, canoe club house and grounds. The club is devoted to surf board and canoe riding, the principal sports of the island. The surf boards are about seven feet long and one foot wide, pointed at one end to cut the water. They all swim with these boards for fun, and standing on them catch a wave as it breaks and are carried with great speed shoreward. On Thursday we took a trip around the island leaving the hotel at 9 o'clock in the morning for the Paia (meaning precise) some six miles from Honolulu. We drove through the beautiful Nuuanu valley, dotted here and there with pretty houses half hidden by coconut palms, bread fruit trees, eucalyptus and several other kinds of fruit trees. The Paia is a famous precinct from which there is a wonderful view of land and sea for many miles. The Paia is 1,000 feet above the sea and there is a splendid road to its summit and one down its other side into the valley below. I was glad that I no longer had a few inches of height in my shoes. The water is green very thick and when only a few inches deep it is translucent in color. Three inches deep it is ploughed by a water buffalo, a homely little creature, with much power and Several from this church attended the service. Familiar hymns from the Alexander hymn book were given. Mrs. Legg accompanied at the piano. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benjamin and daughter, Miss Edith Benjamin of Norwich City, were visitors in Norwich Town Sunday, and attended the morning service at the Methodist church.

At the Congregational prayer service Thursday evening, Rev. Arthur Varley, Taftville Congregational church, was the speaker on Sunday School interests in New London county.

The old Perkins homestead, 21 West Town street, has been purchased by Mrs. Clement L. Perkins. The house was owned by Gilbert L. Raymond, conservator for William D. Perkins. During the winter the interior was newly papered, painted and ceilings whitened. The present occupants are Mr. and Mrs. Winegar and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Potter and family, the latter family having recently moved from the Potter home on State street. Others who have recently moved to West Town street are Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Hubbard and infant from East Town street; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Corvance and daughter from Elm avenue; and Mrs. McKenna and three children from Norwich, who have located in one half of Miss Alice Avery's house.

Mrs. Jennie McCaffery and son Harry McCaffery, of Northampton, Mass., are visiting at the home of Mrs. McCaffery's brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kelly. Mrs. George Kelly and her infant daughter, Frances Eleanor, have returned from a few days' visit with relatives in Northampton, which city they accompanied Mrs. Kelly's father-in-law, Henry Kelly, by automobile last Friday. Mr. Kelly with his guests motored to Springfield Sunday. While there he attended the funeral of James Kelly, the latter's sons, Elmer and Frank Kelly, with others, take the second degree in the Knights of Columbus. All returned to Norwich Town Sunday evening. Kelly athletes another trip to Springfield to witness the third degree work of the grander Sunday next.

Theresa Derry was a member of an automobile party to Springfield, Thursday morning, following a vacation in the city.

Members in this district spent for the spring term Monday, following a vacation in the city.

PLAINFIELD GRANGERS WORK DEGREE AT PRESTON CITY

Preston City grange held a special meeting last Friday night of unusual importance in that it was visited by Worthy Deputy Frank White of North Stonington and by the degree team of Plainfield grange. Master Clifford L. Dewey presided at a short business session at which Deputy Frank White addressed the grangers, congratulating them on their fine condition. The degree team conferred the third and fourth degrees on the following class: Harold Bennett; Charles Peniston; Howard Zabricki; Walter McMillon; Mrs. Wilma Reed; Dorothy Toole; Alice King and Maurice Zabricki. Edith Bennett, the work was very impressively done. While all members of the team showed both ability and practice the master distinguished herself in the manner in which she gave the instruction work. The personnel of the degree team was as follows: Master, Miss Ella Gardner; overseer, William Hall; lecturer, Evelyn Hall; steward, Ernest Buell; assistant steward, Edward Dawley; chaplain, George Darrow; treasurer, Harold Hopkins; secretary, Myrtle Brown; gatekeeper, Ralph Brown; Ceres, Emily Hopkins; Penonita, Evelyn Hudson; and Preston City grangers.

Following the degree the Home Economic committee of Preston City grange gave a New England supper for the grangers. About 150 grangers were present from Plainfield, Pachaug, North Stonington, Norwich, Kickenuck, and Preston City granges. A vote of appreciation was extended to the Plainfield degree team for the able manner in which they performed the degree work of the evening.

BRANDEGEE AND M'LEAN ON LEADING COMMITTEES

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Washington, April 4.—Senators Frank R. Brandegee and George P. M'Lean of Connecticut, fared well in the new line up on senate committee appointments for the 67th congress. They are to be members of the leading committees of the senate. Mr. Brandegee will be the chairman of the committee on libraries and will also be a member of the committee on foreign relations, judiciary and patents. Senator M'Lean will be chairman of the banking and currency committee and will also be a member of the important committee of finance, interstate commerce and territorial insular possessions. Connecticut is exceedingly fortunate in having them selected as members of these important committees.

DISALLOW WOMAN'S CLAIM FOR WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

The workmen's compensation claim of Charlotte M. Ganev of 28 Lincoln avenue, New London, for a fall from a ladder and a Co. of that city, has been disallowed by Commissioner J. J. Donohue. The claimant made her claim on the ground that she had lost time from her employment, due to eye strain which was due to her employment. The respondent-employer claimed that the trouble came from irritation from a two-dollar bill, which Miss Ganev handled, but upon examination by an eye specialist, he diagnosed the trouble as due to Miss Ganev not having her eyes properly fitted to glasses and said it could not be traced in any way to her work. The commissioner finds that there are no proper grounds established by the claimant to warrant an award for compensation.

BROTHER BRINGS APPEAL

Edward Barnard of Conway, Mass., brother of the late Grace Barnard Smith of Lyme and executor of her will, has taken an appeal from the action of Judge Austin L. Bush of the Lyme probate court in disallowing and rejecting Mrs. Smith's will. Mrs. Smith's husband, George S. Smith, formerly of Norwich, a beneficiary under the will, which is dated October 14, 1918, is named as defendant with other beneficiaries.

THIS IS NATIONAL GINGHAM WEEK

The Boston Store Has a Very Attractive Display. For children's wear few fabrics are woven which can in any measure take the place of Gingham. It is sturdy and durable, and the colors and patterns, particularly the new ones are very attractive. For house or porch dresses, too, it has few equals. Our Spring Display Is Now Complete.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-creamer tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do not have any and after effects. They don't injure the teeth, they don't discolor the tongue. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong drugs. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

THE KALEIDOSCOPE

Chicago is to have a Chinese cafeteria. Baboons sometimes throw stones at their enemies. Letters carried by air mail are put in asbestos boxes. The president of the French republic has been elected in Africa. The English police force is practically the only one in the world that is not armed.
