Another and interesting suggestion relative to the proposal that fourteen large maple trees bordering the south side of Main street be removed...

The suggestion is from a well known citizen and is that the tops of the big maples be trimmed and then the trees removed...

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Plankney, 49, wife of Philip Plankney, was held Tuesday morning from their home at Waughegan with services at the Sacred Heart church...

The warnings for the annual reforestation meeting that have been issued contain a clause relative to what action the voters desire to take as to selling the borough farm...

At the annual meeting of the voters also will be asked to pass upon the matter of extending the sewer system in Franklin street from a point opposite the Kent home to the junction of Franklin and Broad...

Both the sewer extensions asked for are short and would be relatively inexpensive to build and the sewer system would be in line with the borough's policy of making gradual extensions of the system from year to year.

The American committee fund for relief in Ireland had been increased on reports made and money turned in in Danielson to $60.07 in Danielson on Tuesday. These returns are incomplete and do not show the real amount.

William Hardman, who was shot Saturday night at the Downs farm in the town of Brooklyn, was reported Tuesday as not so well in the hospital ward at the Brooklyn jail. Mr. Hardman has been unable to leave his bed since he was taken to the jail and a times has had a temperature. The right leg and foot seem to have received most of the shock. While he is suffering considerably, no fear is expressed that he will lose his leg.

PUTNAM

The term of the Windham county superior court, which has been in session here since the first Tuesday in March, was adjourned Tuesday morning without day by order of Judge James H. Webb.

Tuesday morning's business was the case of Waldo Tillinghast Sons of Plainfield vs. N. S. & H. R. Case corporation and was over 1800 railroad ties which the plaintiffs furnished the defendant company two years ago and for which they have not received pay. The bill, with interest, is approximately $2,000.

It appears that the railroad company, through error, has paid some other party for the ties shipped by the Tillinghast and located at Jewett City. No special progress was made with the case Tuesday morning and it will come up again in all probability at the next term of court.

The plaintiffs hold receipts of the railroad company for the ties delivered. A point made by the defense is that the action now in court should have been against the giving to the defendant company New Haven road was under federal control at the time the transaction occurred which is now being considered in court.

A verdict for Louis Wolfe to recover damages of $1135, handed down on Tuesday by Judge James H. Webb in the case of Louis Wolfe of this city vs. Chester W. Gudmundson of New York. This was the amount of damages asked by the plaintiff. The case was tried in the superior court here last week. Mr. Wolfe suing to recover damages for the wrecking of his car at a narrow bridge on the state highway at Jewett City on the afternoon of September 30, 1920, when a truck owned by Gudmundson crashed head-on into the Wolfe machine as it was just coming off the bridge.

Testimony given during the trial of the case included the assertion that Gudmundson, who was unfamiliar with the highway, did not have his heavily laden truck under control and did not stop in time to prevent a crash with the Wolfe car, which was a practically new Buick coupe.

Chairman Edward W. Mullin, of the Putnam committee, has been working to raise funds under the American committee for relief in Ireland said on Tuesday morning that the contributions reported up to that time in this amount to $25. Of this amount $24.50 was raised from the town of Putnam last Saturday. The canvass of the city is not completed. Mr. Mullin believes that the fund will reach $1,000 before the books are closed here. He is confident that the fund is general and those in charge of the drive are appreciative of the generosity of the public.

The special finger grip chisels and punches of which Mayor A. W. Marcy has ordered a quantity, were recently made a patent, are meeting with unusual favor with the trade and they are going forward from the shops here in large quantities. Mayor Marcy said Tuesday that these tools have been on the market for several months, being released soon after the patent was formally applied for. Tools from the Marcy shops go to large automobile manufacturing concerns, to the United States navy and to jobbers and metal workers in many parts of the country.

Joseph Bezier of Harrisville, just outside this city, appealed to the police here for aid in locating his rowboat, which he claims was taken without permission and then finally abandoned and allowed to drift away. It is believed that the boat is somewhere along the reaches of the Quebeque river south of this city.

Captain J. H. Bulger located two boys Tuesday who are believed to have been drifting about the river. They admitted having been on the river in it, but said they found it floating down the stream and when they were through using it abandoned the craft. The captain has given them an opportunity which they pleaded for to try and find the boat, which is valued at $25.

A serious motorcycle accident occurred at the upper end of North Main street near the junction of Brown avenue, about 5 p. m. Monday. George Gosnell and his son had been to visit Dr. Rainville early in the evening. They live in Plainfield and were returning.

Mr. Gosnell was riding in the side car, the machine being driven by his son. When approaching the point indicated at a moderate speed they met Alexander Culver also of Plainfield, bound south, driving a motorcycle.

Culver's car shot across the road and the mixer was complete. Young Culver reported the accident and stated that he was entirely unable to explain the cause. Mr. Gosnell was found to be badly injured and bleeding from a long scalp wound. He was taken to Dr. Rainville's office. The doctor was out on another call. Dr. Jennings was called and soon both doctors were there. Mr. Gosnell's wound was being rushed at the Panama hospital in Plainfield.

Mr. Gosnell had badly wrenched spine. A Jewett City man, an admirer of Senator Brandegee read in the Bulletin Tuesday morning of the important position which the senator occupied in President Harding's plans for peace association, of how he had met the British ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes and the French ambassador.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT. At the conference of Baptist ministers of New London and vicinity, held at South on Monday, April 4th, 1921, the following resolutions were adopted: Resolved, That this conference has learned with profound sorrow and regret of the death of Rev. L. W. Frink.

Resolved, That we express our gratitude to God for the many years of rich fellowship which he has been privileged to enjoy for our brother's sake and his matchless daring in proclaiming the truth which he so much loved.

Resolved, That in this dispensation of God's providence we feel keenly our loss of a true friend and a brother dearly beloved in the Lord, but we rejoice with joy unspeakable in the hope of the righteous.

Resolved, That we commend the bereaved family to our Heavenly Father and pray that "the blessing of God which maketh rich and addeth no sorrow" may be theirs in ever increasing measure.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the sorrow-stricken family and also to the Watchman-Examiner, April 4th, 1921.
