DANIELSON

James T. Havelas, age 5, who was knocked down and injured by an automobile driven by Dr. F. W. Page, at the corner of Bridge and West sides was reported Monday afternoon as resting comfortably. The boy has three broken ribs and possibly internal injuries, though his condition has not deteriorated.

The accident is the second of a similar variety that has occurred on the West Side during the past few days—a section where motorists have learned to exercise special care in handling their machines, as there are many children in the neighborhood and invariably some of them in the street playing on the sidewalks from which they are apt to step down without warning at any instant.

Miss Edith M. Towne, of Philadelphia, will address a Young People's conference this (Friday) afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Baptist church. It is expected that all of the Baptist churches of the Ashford Baptist Sunday School association, which embraces Windham county, will be represented at the conference.

Henry E. Nye, 77, a native of Foster Center and a life-long resident of that town, died at his home here Sunday night. Mr. Nye was a veteran of the Civil war and saw three years and nine months of service. He was a member of the First Rhode Island Light Artillery. For years he had been a member of James A. Nichols Post, G. A. R., of Rockland. He has been engaged practically all of his life as a farmer. Mr. Nye leaves his wife, four sons and two daughters, all residents of Foster.

A warning that fast driving of motor vehicles within the limits of the borough must cease has been issued by Chief John McFarland. Periodically, the chief says, action has to be taken to check those who forget or ignore the fact that the speed of motor vehicles within the borough limits must not exceed 15 miles per hour. Any speed in excess of that limit may be regarded as reckless and the driver duly punished in court.

Chief McFarland is determined to check fast driving, especially in the business, at the very cost of the driving season and said Monday that those who did not obey the warning will be haled into court.

Here's a fishing story that will make the average trout fisherman sit up and take notice. Albert Sayles, of East Hingham, while in town Monday morning, reported that a relative of his, Jewett Collins, caught two trout in the vicinity of Moosup that weighed exactly five pounds. One of these trout weighed two and three-quarters and the other two and a quarter pounds. Mr. Sayles said that Mr. Collins took the trout to Hartwood with him, and he returned to Hartwood Sunday evening.

First Selectman John A. Gilbert said Monday afternoon, following a meeting of the selectmen, that no decision had been arrived at by the board relative to the petition that, for of maple trees be removed from the south side of Davis park. Mr. Gilbert said that the selectmen probably would not arrive at a decision until their next meeting, which is scheduled for Friday of this week. Only routine business was transacted at Monday afternoon's meeting.

Chas. Henry P. Dubuc, of the local organization of the American committee for relief in Ireland, stated Monday afternoon that the drive in this territory will close this afternoon. Mr. Dubuc is to be at the headquarters of the committee at the Danielson Trust company from 10 o'clock to 12 o'clock. He stated that the drive will produce approximately $1300. Up to Monday afternoon $837 had been deposited at the bank and this amount does not include over $900 in the hands of the Dayville boys.

Among the generous acts noted in connection with the drive was the furnishing of his automobile and his own personal services as driver by Henry E. Anderson, of Maple street, in order that a canvass of Brooklyn might be made. Brooklyn people gave liberally to the fund.

The workers here are particularly well pleased with the results that have been achieved and the total obtained is among the largest ever secured in a special drive of kind.

The meeting voted to accept the reports of all the borough officials as printed. The matter of selling or renting the borough farm was left to the decision of the warden and burgesses. An appropriation of $1100 was made to complete the sewer from the Ken property on Franklin street to Broad street and $1100 more to build a line of sewers from Main street to the state armory property on this line, subject to a permit being granted for crossing railroad property. The meeting adjourned until the first Monday in August when the tax rate will be fixed.

Rev. C. B. Fisher of East Killbuck left Monday for a visit in Boston. Rose of Lima council, K. of C., of Danielson now has a membership of 270, and will reach the 300 mark before summer officers of the council say. J. Carl Witter was at Sterling Monday to conduct an auction sale.

Peter Ennis, who has been convicted and fined in the Putnam city court for violation of state laws pertaining to the illegal handling of intoxicants, was taken into custody by a federal officer who came here on Monday and in default of bonds of $500 was taken to Norwalk, Conn., last September, paid $113, representing a fine and costs, in the Putnam city court. The penalty was inflicted after Ennis failed to appear at home and seized a quantity of intoxicants after they had purchased an intoxicating liquor. They also seized a still.

Thirty-six looms were being operated Monday at the plant of the Manhasset Manufacturing company and Agent Robert W. Boyd said that the various preparatory departments of the plant were running to capacity. Each day witnesses at least some increase in operations and in a very short time the mill will be running to capacity. Orders for fabric continue to come in and these are being filled from stocks that are on hand. Agents Boyd and Ennis are particularly well pleased with the results that have been achieved and the total obtained is among the largest ever secured in a special drive of kind.

The present prospect is for another boom in the tire industry and this will be welcome news to Putnam and nearby communities, as it is expected to much benefit from the fabric plants.

Captain J. H. Bulger, of the city police department, issued notice Monday that motor vehicles that have but one head-light working must not be operated in Putnam during the hours in which lights are required. Two manky cars with but one head-light working have been seen about Putnam of late, and all motorists know that such cars are a menace to the highway. Captain Bulger said that no more warnings will be issued, but that violators of the law will be carried into court.

It has been suggested that as no motorists ever know when one of their cars will be well to carry spare bulbs in the machine, so that one may be inserted at any time.

Wednesday evening a meeting of the Memorial Day committee, which has been enlarged to give representation to all patriotic societies and organizations interested in the day, was held at 8 o'clock at the rooms of the Arcadium club. E. C. Rogers and John Spencer motored through four New England states and saw another one, between breakfast time Monday and 10:30 a. m. Getting an early morning start, they motored down from Brattleboro, Vt. where they had been for the week end through Massachusetts into Rhode Island, thence across the border to Connecticut. On their way down through Vermont they were places where they could look across into New Hampshire. All of which is evidence that one may see a great deal in a very short period from the seat of a good motor car.

Elks from all jurisdictions of the Putnam lodge will gather at the Elks' home here this (Tuesday) evening to witness the installation of officers. Henry C. Preston, past excellent ruler of New London lodge, will preside over the ceremony. He will be accompanied by a number of prominent New London Elks who will make the trip in their motor cars. Following the installation there will be a social session.

The ghost of heavy old winter blizzards across the springtime landscape Monday, leaving the velvet green lawns and fields and even pretty flowering shrubs mantled in white. April's snowstorms are not so uncommon as to be amazing, but this particular one seems to have been the splendid weather of March and the mild summer-like weather of early April was as surprising as it was unwelcome. The temperature hovered around the freezing point and, subject to a permit being granted for crossing railroad property, the meeting adjourned until the first Monday in August when the tax rate will be fixed.

JEWETT CITY Mrs. William R. Burdick has returned from Springfield, Mass. Her husband is a patient in the Springfield hospital, but the City Hospital, Mr. Burdick is recovering steadily, after a critical operation performed by Dr. Dudley Carleton. Not many years ago Mr. Burdick underwent another critical operation performed by the same surgeon. Dr. Carleton says he has been pretty well carved up, but is still in the game.

Monday a brisk snowstorm did business for several hours with the thermometer registering 36. No more paradoxical conditions has been seen here for many a moon. A northeast snow storm driven by a 30-mile gale, with plum and peach trees in full blossom, and foliage and lawns all in the fresh green of summer. At noon in the street school children were snowed out.

A local weather sharp noticed in Monday's Bulletin the item stating that Daboll's Almanac called for snow April 11. It showed snow in Daboll's time, and another incident is recalled of a summer some years ago where because of a misprint Daboll's announced "snow surries" July 11. It is said there was great consternation in Daboll's office. But the weather man stood true to the prediction, and snow it did on July 11.

Mrs. George W. Robinson takes down the red hot cross bun. During the snowstorm of Monday forenoon, she cut several pounds of almost mature rhubarb from the plants near her home on South street. Several stalks measured 3 1-2 inches in circumference. She made two big pies and she knows all about pie-making.

Children brought to school Friday handsome bouquets of alder's tongue, young beauty and Dutchman's brocade. Sunday a girl returning from a walk in the lots up Tadpole way, had fifteen blue violets as sweet and fresh as though of a month later date. Monday they showed up in the hillsides were under the snow to the depth of several inches.

It is generally believed that clocks will be set ahead here one hour, April 24. It is easily seen that a detriment it would be to set an hour behind, everything else, the legislature is unable to tell a man what time he shall carry in his pocket. He can stop his watch if he likes, or carry none. If Jewett City doesn't change her time, as probably Norwich and New London will do, the mix-up will be complete. When the trolley leaving here at noon reached Norwich it would be a quarter of two. Returning a passenger would reach Jewett City twenty-six minutes before he left Franklin square. The morning mail train will reach here at 5:17 a. m. The post office force would have to rise at 4:30. (Dan and Bill would not like that) also the office would close at 6:30 p. m. All this trouble and bother can be saved by moving the clock ahead one hour April 24.

Officer Dolan put the kibosh on a big crap game that was going on on the Hill Sunday. A big crowd had been gathered and the officer's presence was not noticed until he had many names. It is said the fives, tens and twenties were thrown down like leaves on the turn of the bones. The presence of one of the borough's prominent storekeepers was noted at The Devil's Hop Yard near Hamburg and Lyme, Sunday. He came away without knowing it had been there and saw any hope around nor the devil either.

Three plum trees at Alphonse Deru's home on Pleasant View were a sight for the photographer Monday noon. They were in full bloom and at the same time, blossoms and limbs were heavy with snow.

William B. Montgomery conducted the services at Puchan church Sunday. Mrs. James Crary supplied as organist. Rev. J. P. Richardson is still confined to his bed most of the time, and requires the daily attention of a doctor.
