

C. OF C. DIRECTORS APPROVE PLAN FOR WHITE WAY IN THIS CITY

The directors of the Norwich Chamber of Commerce held a noon day luncheon and meeting at the Wauvegan house with ten of the directors present.

The transportation committee reported progress on the proposed development of the Thames river. Progress was also reported by the street committee relative to the elimination of the danger of the railroad crossing in Greenfield.

The health committee made a report of progress on clean-up work and progress was reported by the revaluation committee.

Negotiations had been pending for some time past with the Chandler Engineering Company of Massachusetts relative to their taking up of the old Rogers plant on West Thames street, but it developed at the meeting that the company has decided to build in Massachusetts. This was the sixth attempt of the chamber to bring a new industry here.

The report of the housing committee showed that efforts are being made to obtain plans and estimated costs for the construction of five and six room single and double houses in Norwich. It is expected that the plans, etc., will be on file in the Chamber of Commerce office within a few weeks.

The plan which is under way will provide an opportunity for the construction of houses on a part payment of not over $1,000 on a $5,000 house. Arrangements would be then made by the chamber to secure a second mortgage at a fair rate. Persons desiring to built would be afforded every possible opportunity.

The directors heartily approved the recommendation of the White Way committee that a white way be started in Norwich at once. The plans under consideration will provide for the erection of fifty street lamps of the white way style, the lamps to be placed on Main street from Burnham square to Washington square and from the corner of Main and Broadway up Broadway to the court house. The estimated cost of the work is $11,000 and it is understood that an appropriation covering this amount will be asked for at the city meeting next month.

The directors believe this is entirely in accord with the civic development of the city and town and as the beginning of a white way which in time will cover the entire business section of the city.

The committee report have created within the near future several standards as samples of the street lamp which has been approved.

The directors of the chamber approved the proposed charter revision and the hope is expressed that the matter will be favorably acted upon at the polls next month. The present charter has been in existence since 1871. Changing conditions have caused the charter to be so encumbered with amendments that its real value has been lost.

The revaluation committee reported progress and the hope was expressed that the matter of an assessment on an equitable basis will receive favorable action at the hands of the voters.

It will cost some money to establish an equitable system but it will more than pay for itself in the first year. Said Secretary John O'Rourke.

It was voted that the chamber hold a luncheon meeting for the members sometime in the latter part of the month and it was proposed to invite a representative of the American City Bureau to discuss Chamber of Commerce activities.

Arrangements are being made for an industrial exhibit at the county fair next September. No doubt an exhibit such as planned will be a revelation as to the variety of products turned out in Norwich. Secretary O'Rourke said that the last exhibit of this kind held in Norwich took place at the armory ten years ago.

The establishment of a new boat line from this city to West Hill and Block Island came up for discussion. The directors voted their full co-operation in the movement. It is felt that this will prove the most efficient means of recreation for the public of Norwich.

If the new boat line is established it is possible that the member will hold an outing at Block Island this summer. The plan includes the chartering of the steamer for the day and a luncheon at one of the island hotels.

The directors voted to continue the noon luncheons and meeting "Patch treat" every two weeks.

WITHSTANDS 321 DEGREES

For a wage of $200 a man named Martinez suffered himself to be pecked by irascible chickens some years ago in Paris in the presence of a number of scientists. He entered a huge oven specially built, after it had been heated to a temperature of 221 degrees Fahrenheit or about 100 degrees hotter than boiling water. The door was closed and he was left alone for an hour, in company with an uncooked chicken and an uncooked loaf of bread. Candies were provided that he might have light during his incarceration, or incineration, as many people thought it would turn out.

When he was released however he was found alive and well, with the chicken and bread cooked to a turn. The candies had become boiling tallow. Martinez afterward repeated his performance in Brussels and Milan but there must have been something abnormal in his constitution since several others tried to repeat his feat none of them succeeding to stay out the full hour and some having perished miserably. Probably his success was due to the fact that he had every particle of moisture extracted before he entered it, since it is a well known fact that hot dry air does not effect a human being as much as hot moist air. —Detroit News.

To the Pride of Connecticut.

There is such a marked difference in origin and training between the two young ladies who have been appointed to receive the Connecticut at the Fountainebleau School of Music at Paris this summer that it is not unfair to mention the first of them as a characteristic product of this state. Miss Johnson of Hartford was born in New York and educated mainly in its schools. Miss Higgins of Norwich was born in that city, educated in its common schools and in the famous Norwich Free Academy, and graduated from the Connecticut College for Women at New London.

There are other features of Miss Higgins' character and attainments which should attract Connecticut attention. She presents a rather rare combination of surpassing musical and practical literary ability and ambition. In the Connecticut college she won and held for each of the four years the Theodore Bodewein prize for excellence in journalism. This also has a suggestion for the pride of Connecticut. In the remainder of a man who has made his way from the bottom of the newspaper business to be one of the highly successful publishers of the state, and done it by his own industry and ability. He could not have done a nobler thing than the encouragement of the sort of girl who held his prize for four years, and now gets first appointment as Connecticut's international music representative.

This is the sort of genius which Connecticut can produce under the spur of ambition. This suggests the possibilities of the state. That is why Connecticut can take pride in such showing without doing itself harm. —New Haven Register.
