STONINGTON
A representative of the Western Union Telegraph company from New Haven came here recently but no resumption of service resulted. In order to secure a telegraph service station here, Francis Burch has offered space to the company free of charge and all he asks in return for this is an operator. He also promises to do all in his power to help in securing patronage for the company. People are busy getting summer places ready for occupancy. James Stevens has in his collection of old pictures one of an Atwood machine shop known in 1869 as the Atwood-Morrison Co. and was a small stone structure employing only a small number of men. This picture shows about 50 men one of the leading industries and has a large foreign trade. While many factories have failed the reason for this operation five and one-half days a week and employs about 1,000. Hundreds come in from Westerly and Mystic, bringing the employees here. The American Velvet Company has resumed operations and as fast as the weavers come in work will be resumed on its regular basis. The two-loom system is used instead of the one loom system as before. A large number have entered the employ of the company this week. Herman Simons has been engaged to repair the wall on the haycock field at Owen park. Fred Bradley is assisting him. This (Thursday) evening the Stonington High school orchestra will play the Colonial team of Norwich Sunday afternoon at Stonington. The Independent baseball team will play the Colonial team of Norwich Sunday afternoon at Stonington. At the concert given by the Arion club in Providence Tuesday evening, the directors, Dr. Jules Jordan, who has conducted these concerts for the past 40 years, was presented $1,000 by President of Brown University, Dr. Jordan has conducted these concerts without remuneration for the past 40 years. The Stonington chorus took part in the program, as did the chorus from Peace Dale, R. I. Henry H. LaPierre of Norwich is spending the week end with his family in Haverhill, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams have returned from St. Petersburg, Fla., and are at Camp Boulder, Lord's Point.

SCOTT & CLARK CORP.
Mystic
Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Schooner and A. H. Schooner of Old Mystic were visitors in Haverhill, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. John Spicks have moved from Pearl street to the home of Mrs. Spicks' parents on Denison avenue, where they make their home for the present. The Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church had an all-day meeting Tuesday and served dinner at noon in the church parlors. Mr. and Mrs. John Rippl have returned after a visit of ten days with relatives in Scarsdale and Jersey City, N. Y. H. Doe of East Haddam was here Tuesday. Joseph Cavanaugh of Quabamag was taken to Backus hospital, Norwich, Tuesday, in the hospital ambulance. Mr. Cavanaugh has been in poor health for some time. The four-masted schooner Hauppauge has arrived at the Pendleton dock for repairs.

ANNOUNCEMENTS
Davis Theatre
The story of Douglas MacLean's latest Paramount-Loew comedy, "Chicken," which is to be shown at the Davis Theatre on Friday and Saturday, is familiar to the readers of the Saturday Evening Post, wherein it recently appeared under the title of "Yamoucoo Yillies." Herbie S. Hill is the author. Versatility, a keen sense of humor, and an individual style have won for Hill the distinction of being one of the popular writers of the country. "Chicken," which was written in an entirely different vein from the tales of the Pittsburgh Steel Mills, which established his vogue as a writer, has been written with enthusiasm. Agnes Christine Johnson, author of many Douglas MacLean's and Charles Ray's most popular successes, adapted the story. Strand Today, Friday and Saturday
The Seminary Girls are at the Strand for the last half of the week. If you want to know who they are, just go to the Strand. They are here for three days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Seminary to Norwich is to give the people some real enjoyment. They certainly have some fine costumes, songs, dances and comedy to give you all. Gathered at the picturesque estate of Alfred Herter, where Mrs. Enrico Caruso, summer tenant, suffered the loss of a $100,000 worth of jewelry, the Seminary Girls are at the Strand theatre, in which much of the action takes place on the results of a wealthy Park in Norwich. Some of the scenes were taken in the room where the $100,000 jewelry robbery was committed. While the Oriental atmosphere achieved by the artist owner of the place, was exactly what George L. Sargent, who directed the production, was looking for, it isn't being done. Madge Kennedy, featured by Goldwyn, has never appeared to better advantage than in her latest picture, "The Girl With the Jazz Heart," from the story by Robert Shannon, which is the feature at the Strand theatre today. The reason may be that she plays two roles, one of that of the title, the jazz hearted dame, and the other that of a distinctly opposite type. The story of "The Girl With the Jazz Heart" isn't intended to be a lesson in morals. Neither is it a defence of "jazz." So those who don't care for the non-moral and raucous nature of the story, it appears because it is strictly alive from the beginning to the end, and because it is so thoroughly American, and incidentally, those who have not yet had a chance to see the shimmy as it is done by an expert get that chance when they see "The Girl With the Jazz Heart." For the second feature, Frank Mayo will be seen in "The Magnificent Brute," a vibrant story of love as big and as strong as its own mighty plumes.

Remains, Ahoy!
Heave to, you all! You land scoundrels! Heave to, green horns and would-be land robbers. Here is your chance to get your sea legs! Learn how to navigate your self under the stars and planets. It's a hard a rest, let's cruise about now and clear the rust out of the sea-supper's' hull! All your life sheets, and we'll square away on a new tack. Our ship will set sail soon as crew is mustered so enlist now if you wish a billet. All boys 15 years of age, weighing at least 112 pounds and a scout or anxious to become a sailor, may enlist for the cruise. See the scout executive, Room 30 Shannon building, or the sea scout skipper, Lieutenant Craven, 245 Washington street, immediately.
