Preston Woman's Death Still Mystery

Beyond determining pretty definitely that it was not an automobile that killed the woman, the coroner's jury at Preston, Conn., today returned a verdict that she had been struck down by the blow on the head at the spot where her body was found prostrate on the road.

In her hand was a paper bag in which was a small child's toy. This had been crushed as if it may have been trodden on by her assailant. Robbery was not suspected.

Such a blow as might be picked up have been so slight as to amount to almost nothing at all in pointing to any motive for the killing of the woman, who was 76 years old, and a quiet and inoffensive person who had lived in Preston for many years.

Such a blow on the top of the head was what killed her, causing concussion of the brain but not fracturing her skull. When she was found senseless by the side of the road it was at first thought that she had been struck by an automobile, whose driver had gone on and left her there, but later investigation did not bear out this theory. Her clothing was not dust covered or disarranged in such a way as would be expected in an automobile accident, and it looks as if she had been struck down by the blow on the head at the spot where her body was found prostrate on the road.

At the meeting of the state board of directors of the Catholic Ladies of Columbus was held at New Haven, Sunday, May 22, at twelve o'clock. The meeting was called to order by the state president, Mrs. J. J. Carroll of New Haven, who welcomed the following delegates in a brief but cordial address: Mrs. Cunningham of New Haven, Mrs. W. H. Hollister of Rockville, Mrs. E. R. Reardon of Rockville, Mrs. Anne Henry of New London, Mrs. Loretta Bailey of New London, Mrs. William Furey of Thompsonville, Mrs. Helen Ward of Danbury, Mrs. Gertrude Ryan of Danbury, Mrs. Jennie Burke of Rockville, and Mrs. Margaret Flynn of Hartford.

The reports of the delegates for their individual assemblies showed a wonderful program during the past year, and gave the assurance of a yet larger growth and future prosperity for the society throughout the state.

Final arrangements were made for the state degree team, which is to compete for the degree on a large scale in Norwich on June 13.

Prizes for perfect attendance were presented to members of the Junior auxiliary of Christ Episcopal church at the final meeting for the year held in the church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Suffragan Bishop E. Campion Acheson, who was in this city for confirmation, presented the prizes with brief words of commendation for those whose faithful attendance had brought them these rewards.

The offering received signed rings for perfect attendance: Grace Carey, Charlotte Johnson, Oberlin Lambert, Frieda Johnson, Ebba Jensen, Isabelle Kennedy, Emily Cook. Names plus were given to three who had only one absent mark: Dorothy Malcom, May Vallin and Florence Bijorn.

Well prepared papers were read by Dorothy Malcom, who gave the report for the year, by Grace Carey upon St. Mary's hall, Shanghai, China, by Florence Bijorn upon China, and by Elinor Erickson upon the United Thank Offering.

The offering at the meeting was for St. Mary's hall, Shanghai.

At the men's hour at the Y. M. C. A., Sunday afternoon, a feature picture, "The Gift of Life," was shown in four reels.

The picture showed the beginning of life in the vegetable, bird animal and human realms, and was a very interesting moving picture art. The impression made was that life is a most wonderful, varied and therefore valuable, and as the various periods of development in life are shown, the audience realizes the truth of the scripture that God is a wonderful Creator and that man is fearfully and wonderfully made. Dr. A. C. Freeman gave a brief talk along the lines of the first two reels, and a very interesting and moving picture art.

When we think of what life means, every man should realize the responsibility that is placed upon him. How important it is to live a life that is worthy of the future generation shall have a fair start and not be brought into the world handicapped by the results that surely come from living lives of impurity.

NORWICH GIRL PARTICIPANTS

IN MT. HOLYOKE PAGEANT An elaborate celebration attended by more than 3000 alumnae and guests Saturday at South Hadley, marked the 25th anniversary of Miss Woolley's inauguration as president of Mount Holyoke college. In the morning at 10.30 o'clock, commemorative exercises were held in the Chapin auditorium. In the afternoon a pageant arranged from the first book of Spenser's Faerie Queene, in which about 300 students took part, was given on the pageant field. Friday night the Electra of Euripides was presented in the Chapin auditorium, with Edith Wynne Mathison in the title role and a cast chosen from her drama students and the seniors at the Bennett school, Millbrook, N. Y.

The morning exercises were presided by an academic procession, including trustees, faculty, and seniors in cap and gown. Greetings were extended to President Woolley by Rev. Dr. Henry A. Stimson of New York city, for the trustees, Dr. N. Neilson, professor of history and political science, for the faculty, Mrs. Lena Aldrich Schuster of East Douglas, Mass. vice president of the National Alumnae Association, for the alumnae, and Miss Mary E. Manson, '21, of Greenbush, Mass. president of the student government association, for the student body.

After President Woolley's reply to these greetings, the choir sang a commemorative ode in Latin, the words of which were written by Dr. Margaret C. Wallis, associate professor of Latin, and the music by Albert M. Tucker, associate professor of music, and addresses on the Liberal College were made by President William Allan Neilson of Smith college, Dean Marion Park of Simmons, and Professor John Erskine of the department of English literature at Columbia University.

Luncheon was served in Mead Hall for the trustees and college guests and in the afternoon the Faerie Queens pageant was given. The performance was one of spectacular effects and dramatic pantomime. Dancing was one of the most striking features, all the dances being dramatic in nature and interpreting the story.

Miss Dorothy Lester, 1924, of 213 Washington street, this city, was a letter-bearer to Lucifera in the fourth course of the Faerie Queens.

In Common Pleas Court. The common pleas court came in here Saturday morning but adjourned at once as the case that had been assigned for trial had been settled. In New London this (Monday) afternoon at 2 o'clock there was a meeting of the board of court and the annual calling of the stock.

Musical lovers in and about Plainfield heard the finest concert given in this vicinity for some time Friday evening in the Community house when Mme. Ben-rechete Onelli, prima donna soprano, and Edgar Schofield, bass-baritone, appeared in a joint recital, with Eilmen Yoller, pianist. It was more of a social affair than one affair to Mr. Schofield and his wife and the Community house auditorium was crowded with his relatives and friends.

Every one present was charmed with the concert. Mr. Schofield's engaging personality combined with a voice whose manifold qualities enables him to sound the depths of a bass tone, ascend the scale, and reach high notes of radiant beauty makes him one of the foremost artists of the day. Mme. Onelli shared honors with Mr. Schofield. Her beautiful lyric soprano voice of rich quality, resonant range and power made a palpable hit with the audience, who showed their appreciation by heaviest applause.
