ALLIED TROOPS BETWEEN GERMAN AND POLISH LINES

Oppeln, June 7.—(By The A. P.) From sources considered reliable it is learned that the German and Polish lines of the inter-allied commission, has issued verbal instructions to the British, Italian and French troops not to fire on Polish insurgents unless first attacked. The French have been ordered to refrain from firing on the German and Polish lines, so as to allow the situation to adjust itself. The French contend that this procedure would result in the German and Polish lines agreeing upon one of the lines of demarcation already suggested.

Old Age His Mark

Oliver Wendell Holmes, in the charming discourse of "The Professor at the Breakfast Table," refers to an unmistakable sign of old age. It is three parallel lines between the brows. We can detect the first traces of disease by signs just as plain. When a woman suffers from backache, nervous depression, dragging-down pains, and these ailments peculiar to women, it is plain that she needs a woman's medicine. What other medicine could she more wisely resort to than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for half a century has proved the natural restorative for these troubles?
