DANIELSON

Members of the Danielson Firemen's association were well pleased with the success of the carnival in which they are co-operating.

Take a break for your wife—better make it two? The first night Mrs. Herl Daggett's Real Ice cream, Mooncup—adv.

A very instructive meeting of those interested in bees has just been held at the Charles Tyler farm, near Mooncup, under the auspices of the Windham County Farmers' association.

Representatives of the traffic, commercial and plant departments of the S. N. E. Tel. company in the Danielson, Putnam and Mooncup divisions will be in New London today (Wednesday) for a meeting of employees of all divisions in the eastern district with officials to discuss matters of company interest and welfare.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Potter of Broad street and Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Greenleaf will leave this morning to motor to Sherbrooke, P. O. Mr. and Mrs. Potter will remain in Sherbrooke visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Greenleaf for a time before proceeding on their trip to the Pacific coast.

Captain F. O. Armington of the Supply company of the 152nd Artillery announced Tuesday morning that Wellington E. Elwood has been named as first sergeant of the company. This is the first non-com appointment made, but a full list will be announced during the present week.

C. A. Hamilton and Arthur W. Legas, two veteran national guardsmen, have enlisted with the command and will not be on duty during the stay of the company at Camp Devens.

Hollywood Glen Alex Segis, the great bull that W. S. Brown purchased at Roxbury last week, and five other Holsteins acquired at the same sale are expected to arrive at Central Village today and immediately will be taken to Mr. Brown's Shubert Hill farm.

The bearing on gatherings at amusement resorts outside the borough was heard as Tuesday. Apparently the stuff that is being sold in regulation bootleg style is illicitly distilled and a poor imitation of southern moonshine.

There is little prospect that Danielson as a community will indulge in any special observance of the Fourth this year. There will be the usual unorganized observance, of course, but up to Tuesday no announcements had been made to indicate that the borough will do anything as a whole, however, there will be plenty of attractions in the vicinity and ample opportunity for all to have a pleasant day.

At his home at 317 North Main street, Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock funeral services for John E. Young, who died Sunday, were conducted by Rev. Albert J. Jenson and attended by relatives and friends. Burial was in Westfield cemetery. The bearers were William H. Putnam, Nathan D. Prince, Carl C. Hopkins, Walter Sayles, James Sayles and Ellis Thurber. A. E. Wood was the funeral director.

Plane and voice pupils of Miss Emma G. Burbank gave a recital Tuesday evening at the Majestic theatre and were assisted by Miss Pearl Bologna of Brooklyn and Miss Marjorie I. Gaffney, who appeared in a vaudeville sketch. The Girl of 1776 and 1921. Features were 'The Girl of 1776' and 'The Girl of 1921'. The affair, which was attended by relatives and friends of the pupils, was a splendid success. The proceeds are to be given to the Civic Federation.

The numbers of the recital were as follows: Piano solo, Starr Night, Smith, Ahle Nelson; piano solo, Love's Oracle, Bohm, Ellen Stockton; piano duo, Little Jack Horner, Wharncliffe, Mildred Meach and Esther Ward; piano solo, My Birthday, May Longbottom; piano duo, A Birthday Song, Coe, Alfred Hopkin and Ernest Barton; piano solo, Love Dreams, Brown, Aurora Foster; song, 'I Vandaloo', Marguerite Dunn; piano solo, Woodland Echoes, Wyman, Bernice Burdick; trio, The Trumpet Call, Evans, Cora Brown, Ruth Winslow and Ruth Clark; piano solo, Russian Song, Smith, Shirley Jackson; piano solo, Beethoven's Dance, Hold, Cora Brown; (a) sextette, Roses Everywhere, Trotter, by the Misses Smith, Downs, Lathrop, Pate, Jackson, Nelson; (b) Rose Dance, Mary Young, accompanist, Phyllis Kenworthy, Eleanor Gardner, Betty Gardner, Dorothy Larned, Ethel Wells, Lillian Anderson, Eva Warner, Florence Schuster, Vera Franklin, Ella Anderson, Ada Moran, Vivian Harrington, Lillian Brown, Mary Andrews, Florence Elliott; piano solo, Spring Showers, Pink, Frances Dembo; song, The Roses of Memory, Ross, Alice Smith; piano solo, Dance of the Winds, Deabody, Edward Pinkham; vocal duo, Awake, Dearness, One, Ethelny Sheffield, Ball Clifford Kelly; piano solo, Annie Laurie, Parolozza, Lange, Florence Lathrop; The Rainy Day, Bernice Burdick; piano solo, Oberon, Lebach, Eloise Babson; piano duo, Lisette, Adam, Misses Pinnell; piano solo, Poinsettia, Sorens, Ethelny Sheffield; songs (a) Nightingale, June Sanderson; (b) Starr Night, Denmoer;

PUTNAM

Harold Hutchins of Danielson has joined the office force of the Manhatas Manufacturing company, Putnam.

Richard M. Holmes, a freshman at Clark college, Worcester, came to Putnam Tuesday afternoon and will spend a few days with his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah L. Macdonald, Oak Hill. He is soon to return to his home in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., to pass the summer.

Mrs. Jeanette Freeman, who has been the guest of her brother, John G. Johnson, at the home of Miss Mary Johnson on Grove street, has returned to her home in Roxbury, Mass.

Dwight L. Moody of Pittsfield, Mass., for the past year a student at the Pulitzer school of Journalism, Columbia university, New York, returned to Putnam Tuesday to join the staff of the Patriot. Arthur S. Macdonald, one of the present editors and one time owner, leaves this month. Mr. Macdonald, who is a member of the Connecticut bar, will probably practice law.

Miss Mary Wheaton, Mrs. John P. Bertha Pigeon; piano solo, Concert Polka, Bartlett, Lucile Downs; sketch, The Girl of 1776 and 1921, Miss Pearl Bologna and Miss Marjorie Gaffney.

Up to Tuesday, Thomas Bradford had not filed with the state highway commissioner a petition circulated some weeks since, that contains the names of upwards of 100 citizens, asking for the removal of a row of shade trees along the southern border of Davis park.

Laurent Paquin, injured last week when struck by an automobile, was kept Tuesday as continuing to show improvement.

An addition is being built at Brooklyn to the building occupied by Allen's store and the Brooklyn garage.

Next Tuesday, June 14, flag day will be observed in Killingly schools. State highways all through this section have been placed in very good condition and should stand up well under the season's travel.

Notwithstanding complaints, some bicyclists continue to ride their machines upon sidewalks within the borough, much to the inconvenience of many persons.

There is interest all through this section in the fact that Alma Forcier, postmaster at Goodbear, recently was elected vice president of the Federated French Catholic Societies of America at the national convention held in Manchester, N. H.

Frank V. Barnard of Providence is visiting friends in Danielson for a few days.

Rev. John R. Pratt of Brooklyn has been spending a few days at Franklin, N. Y.

Captain and Mrs. C. W. Chaffield of Voluntown were visitors here and at Putnam, Tuesday.

Merchants in eastern Connecticut are being advised to be on the lookout for $1 and $2 bills that have been raised by clever penmanship to $10 and $20 notes.

The sum of $10,000 is included in the general appropriation bill in the general assembly for alterations and improvements to the state armory at Danielson.

Edward S. Carpenter, veteran tax collector and one of the most active men of his years in Danielson, is numbered among the borough's gardeners and gives his personal attention to the crops he has growing.

The temperature dropped to 47 degrees in Danielson Tuesday morning, an unusually low record for this time of the year.

Charles A. Shaller of Pawtucket was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Tuesday.

PUTNAM

Sabin, Mrs. George W. Gilpatrick, Mrs. G. Harold Gilpatrick and Miss Elizabeth Porter Wheeler, members of Elizabeth Porter Putnam chapter, D. A. R., were in Windsor Monday and attended the annual meeting of the Oliver Ellsworth Memorial association. This association, of which all members of the D. A. R. in Connecticut are automatically members, has for its object the preservation of the memory of Oliver Ellsworth, a former ambassador to France and chief justice. It maintains the Ellsworth homestead, in which are kept many valuable documents and relics of Colonial times.

The graduating exercises of St. Joseph's school, Grosvenordale, are to be held in Union hall, Grosvenordale, Sunday afternoon, June 13.

Miss Helen Rich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rich of North Grosvenordale, has returned to her home following commencement exercises of Columbia university. Miss Rich last week received the degree of bachelor of science from Teachers' college. Her mother was in New York to attend the graduation. After a month's vacation, Miss Rich will return to New York to take charge of two Red Cross nurseries in Putnam and attended Putnam High school.

That there is not perfect agreement even among the business men of Putnam concerning the effect upon the city of the carnival that has operated here in the past is shown by the statement made Tuesday afternoon by one of them. The expression of opinion by this business man, a member of the chamber of commerce, was the result of the statement made Tuesday to the effect that there was to be movement to ask the common council to take action that would either entirely exclude or limit the appearance of this type of enterprise within the Putnam city limits.

"There is another side to the question," said this man. "These carnivals come to Putnam, bringing with them many people who live here a week and spend their money here. Putnam profits to that extent. Further, they seek no guarantee before coming here. They are business organizers and take the chance of making profits or losing money while operating in this city. Nobody is obliged to spend a cent at the carnival. Those who spend do so at their own option. If they please to spend their money at the carnival, and not at some other place of business, they have the right to, even though the other fellow does not like to see the money so spent. If the chamber of commerce seeks to exclude these carnivals from Putnam, I shall go to the meeting and make myself heard."

Mary E. Frasier, 51, wife of James Frasier, who died suddenly Sunday night at her home on Mechanic street, was the mother of the late Richard G. Frasier of Putnam and the oldest of 13 children. Her death is the first that has occurred in the family. In addition to her parents, Mrs. Frasier is survived by her husband and five children, Mrs. George Hammond, Boston, Richard Frasier, Worcester, Mrs. Paul Salvas, Hartford, Mrs. Lionel Charbon and Miss Margaret Frasier, Putnam.

Joseph Gibeay, Webster, Leo Gibeay, Worcester, Eugene Gibeay, Putnam, Mrs. Joseph Mosahon, Stoughton, Mass., Mrs. Timothy Mansfield, Webster, Mrs. John Gilligan, Middleboro, Mass., Mrs. David Carrigan, Wellesey, Mass., Mrs. Michael Connors, Miss Alice Gibeay and Miss Leona Gibeay of Putnam.

Charles E. Aslett, 45, who died Sunday at his home in North Grosvenordale, is survived by his wife and four children.

Henrietta Rielle, 3, daughter of William Rielle, School street, Putnam, died Monday at her home. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery Monday afternoon, and Tuesday morning requiem mass was sung at St. Mary's church.

Dorothy Dalton's Beauty Chat

Miss Dorothy Dalton, the actress famous the world over for her beautiful complexion, says "Any girl or woman can have a beautiful, rosy-white complexion and smooth, uncrinkled skin like mine if they will follow my advice. My secret is a simple toilet preparation. I use it because it imparts instant beauty, it is easy to apply, absolutely harmless and has a much more effect upon the skin. One application proves it. Be sure to read Miss Dalton's interesting story of how to quickly acquire a beautiful complexion, soon to appear in this paper. In the meantime, you may get a sample (toilet counter and try it today; you will be delightfully surprised."

Mary's cemetery Monday afternoon, and Tuesday morning requiem mass was sung at St. Mary's church.

The body of Eustace Sewall, wife of Henry Sewall, who died Saturday at her home on Lamont street, has been taken to Maynard, Mass., for burial. Services were held at the home Monday morning.

It was announced Tuesday at the office of Charles L. Torrey, secretary of the Putnam school committee, that the following members of the senior class of Putnam High school will receive diplomas at the graduation exercises which will be held at the Victory theatre Thursday, June 23:

Classical course—John Alfred Barber, Jeanette Nichols Gilbert, Francis Henry Murphy and James Davis Torrey. General course—Helen Etta Taylor, Harold Chester Elliott, Wilhelmina Irene Frost, Raymond Luther Pierce, Marion Walker McDevitt, Mildred Hazel Green, Kathleen Elizabeth Jackson, Helen Ruthven Thompson, Annette Bowen Johnson, Albert Edwin Farrows, Walter Everett Chase, Norman Smith, George Walker Child, George Edward Meahan, Flora Evelyn White, John Patrick Kelley, Olive Elizabeth Baker and Sarah Ingeborg Harrison.

Commercial course—Margaret Ellen Kelley, Ulric Thelma Boissonneau, Beatrice Doris Gardner, Margaret Elizabeth Weeks, William Hanley, Robert Ellsworth Frost of Putnam, Charles Carroll, Mrs. Elizabeth Hanley, Omar Durand, Dorothy Helen Rowe, Margaret Irene Geisler, Martina Genevieve Hanley, Helen Mae Phillips, Anna Rosoff and Olive Mae Chapin.

In the case of Annette E. Johnson, who has been forced to withdraw from school because of illness, the diploma will be withheld until her work has been completed and will then be given, as of the class of 1921.

The honor students of the class are Jeanette N. Gilbert, classical course; Helen R. Thompson, general course; Robert E. Arnold, commercial course. The commencement essays will be delivered by these three. The commencement speaker is to be Dr. Willard Scott of Brooklyn, Mass.

At the annual meeting of the judges of the superior court of the state, held Monday in Hartford, Edgar M. Warner of Putnam was reappointed clerk of the court for Windham county. Frank H. Post of Putnam was reappointed assistant clerk. At the same meeting Charles S. Hyde of Brooklyn and Charles H. Brown of Putnam were reappointed jury commissioners for Windham county, to hold office for the next year.

Arthur G. Bill of Danielson was reappointed county coroner by the judges, the appointment being made for three years. Attorney Charles L. Torrey of Putnam was reappointed public defender for Windham county, the appointment being for one year and dating from July 1, 1921. No appointment for state attorney for Windham county was made, since the present incumbent, Charles E. Searis of Putnam, has another year to serve. His appointment, made at the annual meeting a year ago, was for two years.

The formation of a well organized board of health for the city of Putnam, the feeding of school children so as to insure proper nutrition, and a consideration of means whereby school children will not attend moving pictures with the frequency that is now the case are among the problems meriting attention and emphasized by Dr. George T. Lamarche, medical inspector in Putnam public schools, in his report submitted Monday night to the town school committee at its June meeting. The suggestions made by Dr. Lamarche are the outcome of physical examinations made of children in the Putnam schools during the past school year, during which time 1,424 children were examined. Of this number, Dr. Lamarche reports that only 265 boys and 412 girls were found to be in good health. All of the remaining 1,159 pupils were found to be defective in one or more respects.

The report of the medical inspector begins with a summary of the facts in the measles epidemic which began with the opening of school in September, and which at one time was the cause of more than 400 absences. This epidemic, Dr. Lamarche says, called attention most forcibly to the lack of co-operation between the town health officer, the school inspector and the local physicians. The report states that families hid cases of the disease, and children with sick brothers or sisters were attending classes. "We could have saved expense," concludes this section of the report, "if every physician treating a case had given to every parent advice and to what precautions to take in communicable diseases."

The report goes on to state that "a campaign must be organized in this town to teach its inhabitants how to manage contagious diseases, including a better public health, the necessity of obligatory reports of the cases, and how to isolate the affected."

To bring about the desired co-operation, Dr. Lamarche suggests the formation of a health committee, to work in close relationship with the school committee and the school medical inspector.

Dr. Lamarche in the next section of his report points out that the problem of nutrition is at present one of the most pressing. His examinations disclose the fact that about 20 per cent of the children now in school are under-nourished, either as the result of improper food or defective digestion. One solution for this state of affairs is the feeding of school children, and Dr. Lamarche points out the splendid results that have been obtained in grade four of Israel Putnam school, where each child is now given one-half pint of milk, with crackers, each school day. The report expresses the hope that all children in the public schools will soon be cared for in the same way.

With regard to sight and hearing, Dr. Lamarche states that he found defects in
