BROADWAY RESIDENCE BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE EARLY SUNDAY MORNING

The residence of Ebenezer Learned, 180 Broadway, was badly damaged by fire early Sunday morning and the occupants barely escaped with their lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Learned and children, who were forced to leave the house scantily clothed, were assisted down ladders by firemen from the porch roof.

The fire which is believed to have started in the laundry from an electric fan, was discovered about 3 o'clock Sunday morning by neighbors and a telephone call was sent into the central fire station.

In the meantime efforts were made to awaken Mr. and Mrs. Learned. The auto chemical, deputy chief and main street company responded to the telephone call and as soon as the firemen arrived they pulled in box 31 located at the top of the Little Plain, calling out additional apparatus.

Mr. Learned was awakened from a sound sleep and it was with great difficulty that he succeeded in getting the children from their rooms. The house was filled with choking, blinding smoke and it was found impossible to leave the house by the stairs from the second story.

Ladders were raised by the firemen and Mr. and Mrs. Learned were assisted to the ground from the porch roof. Two lines of hose were laid and the fire was squelched in short order.

The fire had its origin in the laundry and as soon as the windows in the laundry gave way, a strong draught blew the flames into the kitchen which was badly damaged. The kitchen walls were soaked with matches and with hard soot and finish and this furnished ready fuel for the flames.

Had it not been for the fact that a door leading from the kitchen into a hall closed in the flames would have reached the interior of the residence and it would probably have been a total loss.

Mr. Learned said Sunday afternoon that his loss will be in the neighborhood of $7,500. There was practically no water damage, the greater part of the loss being caused by fire and smoke. The smoke completely filled the house. Mr. Learned spoke very highly of the efficient work of the fire department.

Mr. Learned said he believes the fire started from an electric fan from the second story. It is not known whether the current was left turned on or whether the button, which Chief Justice Waitt has jarred on by a closing door sometime during the day or night.

SMITH-REYNOLDS WEDDING AT MINOT, MASS., SATURDAY

A wedding of interest to Norwich society was that of Miss Georgiana Allen Reynolds of Boston and Minot, Mass., and Anson Howe Smith of Dedham, which took place Saturday afternoon at the Island Farm, Minot, the country home of the bride's parents.

At half-past four the wedding party, accompanied by orchestral music, proceeded to the beautiful gardens of the estate, which overlook Cohasset Bay. Here the guests assembled for the marriage ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill of the Church of Our Saviour, Longwood, Mass.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite dress and veil of white hand-woven crepe with lace of Roumanian lace, the gown being simply and tastefully ornamented with pearls while the veil was caught at each side of the collar with jasmine and swansonia. She carried a bouquet of jasmine swansonia and clematis.

The maid of honor, Miss Marian Clow of Lake Forest, Ill., was gowned in lake apricot chiffon. Her hat was of Tulle with a wide brim and a crown of flowers in shades of yellow and apricot. She carried a bouquet of larkspur.

The four other attendants wore frocks of larkspur chiffon with hats of the same color, while their bouquets were of larkspur and gladioli, shading from bright yellow to white. The bridesmaids wore Miss Jane Lattimer of Columbus, O., Miss Julia Cleveland Reynolds of Chestnut Hill, Phila.; Mrs. William Moore, a sister of the groom, of Dedham, Mass., and Miss Elise Lilly of Los Angeles, Calif.

The two little brides of the bride, Barbara and Constance Barry, wore flower girls' dresses of white, embroidered white dresses and wreaths of fine flowers.

The best man was Robert St. R. Royal of Dedham, and the ushers were Robert G. Vickery, John R. Pratt and John Ouster of Dedham, Mass., Waldo W. Johnson of Westport, Mass., Harry C. Grafton, Jr., of Brookline, and George Davenport Haywood of Boston.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, four hundred guests attending.

The bride, whose engagement to Mr. Smith was announced last November, is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Corcoran Reynolds, former president of Norwich, and granddaughter of the late Henry Lee Reynolds, also of Norwich. She is a grandniece of the late W. W. Corcoran, the philanthropist and founder of the Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C.

The Reynolds family left Norwich in 1911, moving to Boston where their home, 185 Bay State road, Miss Reynolds is a graduate of Miss Packer's school, Farmington, and later attended the School of Fine Arts, Boston, where her work won special attention.

The groom, who is the son of Mrs. Charles Smith of Dedham, served with the 25th, 35th and 47th divisions, A. P. in the World War. He was overseas as a sergeant of Headquarters Troop, 26th division, was commissioned lieutenant in the infantry in France and later promoted. He served with the 107th infantry of the 27th division, during his campaign in Belgium and France.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be at home after November 15 at Mather Court, Cambridge, Mass.

LARKIN FAMILY ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEET AT WATCH HILL

With the day all that could be desired, about 80 of the kin of Edward Larkin, who emigrated to this country and state in 1825, assembled at the Nixingr theater at Watch Hill Thursday for the annual reunion.

Isaac G. Larkin of North Franklin presided, and Mrs. W. Frank Greenman of Westbury gave the address of welcome in the name of the Larkin family association.

After the reading of the reports of the secretary and treasurer, the following list of family history was read from a personal letter sent by Miss Waite of Arizona: "My ancestors, John and Sarah Larkin, were members of the Center church, Hartford, Conn., and are buried in the little old burying ground in the rear."

"Their daughter Abigail married David Waite, grandson of Benjamin Waite, who married Sarah Leonard of Springfield, Mass. They resided in Hartford, Conn., where they Indians burned their house and took captive Benjamin Waite's wife and three little girls. They were taken to Canada, where Benjamin Waite followed them. He was held in captivity for a year and named Canada. She was the ancestor of Mary Lyon, founder of Mt. Holyoke college, and of Sophia S. Smith, founder of Smith college."

"In England a White signed the death warrant of King Charles the First. He has his picture, a steel engraving, also Chief Justice Waitt has jarred on by a closing door sometime during the day or night."

"Imagine yourself the 43d cousin of my father's people of New England, among them, William Waitt and Griswold of Connecticut, Governors Draper and Woodcott of Massachusetts, Abraham Lincoln and Rev. Cotton Mather."

As all families are interrupted by the grim reaper, the secretary, the past year was read by Mrs. Browning: "I wish first to mention Bradford Larkin, who died Feb. 11th, 1921, aged 84 years. Jonathan Larkin left us in May, 1921. One of the aged trio, we miss his cheery presence. William H. Larkin of Omaha, Neb., departed this life Sep. 5, 1920. Distance and physical infirmities hindered his ever meeting his eastern kin, but he never failed to send us greetings. Wendell Larkin of Providence, R. I., another aged member, was called home Feb. 19, 1921. This record may not be complete, but is a list of all those who have come to the notice of your corresponding secretary, Miss Annette E. Tucker."

During the business meeting the present officers were each unanimously re-elected for the ensuing year. Joseph E. Steinman spoke in favor of locating and protecting from desecration the graves of the first Larkins, who was one of the original 13 families of Westbury. After singing the Larkin hymn, followed by Larkin yell, the assembly adjourned till the last Thursday in August, 1922, to meet at some place to be decided upon later.

WILLIMANTIC NORWICH BULLETIN WILLIMANTIC OFFICE Telephone 105 23 Church St.

It was announced Saturday afternoon that the congregation of the Sons of Israel, the local Hebrew religious society is soon to have a new synagogue. The present one, a wooden structure on Temple street, no longer affords room for the congregation.

The talk of building a new synagogue has gone on for some little time but recently a building committee was selected to make arrangements for the construction of a new edifice. The committee is Samuel Ballou, chairman; Hyman Leifer; Samuel Eisenberg; Jacob Cohen; and Abraham Krug.

The committee proceeded to have an architect prepare plans and specifications and the contractors are soon to receive them for bids. The plans call for a brick building 40x60 feet, two stories. The first floor of the synagogue will be used for the Sunday school room, and arranged for a gymnasium, a billiard room, a swimming pool in the same floor. The Sunday school room is to be 19 by 19 feet and the remainder of the lower floor will be taken up by the pool and dressing rooms.

The synagogue will be on the second floor and will run the entire length of the building. The main floor will be 24 and 10 m. The ceiling is to be carried out on steel trusses, having a large open hall. From the roof ceiling the clearance will be twenty feet.

It is expected that the building can be completed by Thanksgiving. The synagogue is to be erected on property of the society on Temple street just to the south of the present structure which stands in the west side of the street. The site was purchased by the society about ten years ago and when the new synagogue is finished the old one will be used as a school house and as a residence.
