The walk on the Hunters avenue side of the church has been finished and in the near future there will be a walk in front of the convent and Sacred Heart school.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS NAMES TICKET

With over 200 Republican voters present at the caucus held in the town hall on Monday evening the republican ticket for the coming election was nominated with no contests occurring for any of the offices. There were about 30 women at the caucus.

Chairman H. H. Pettis of the Republican town committee called the meeting to order promptly at 8 o'clock. The caucus then elected Judge John H. Barnes permanent chairman of the meeting. Charles W. Cassidy, was chosen clerk.

Judge Barnes in taking the chair thanked the voters for their courtesy in electing him chairman and also remarked on the exceptionally large caucus. Continuing Judge Barnes said that the young man he always had an ambition to be a newspaper reporter and that although born in Connecticut he received his college education in Baltimore. It was that, after being graduated from college that he desired to be a reporter possessed him.

I first went to the Baltimore Sun, said Mr. Barnes, but met with no success as I had had no experience in news writing. Other papers told me the same story until finally in last resort I went to the democratic paper and they gave me a job. My duties were to cover police news and the hospitals. It happened that one of my first assignments was to get a story about a prominent woman who was about to undergo an operation. I went to the hospital and the surgeons told me that it would be without doubt be a success. Their word was good enough for me and I took a chance and went back and wrote how successful the operation had been. My prediction was right. That was a major operation and now next October there is going to be a minor operation. I am going to take another chance before going to press and say that this operation will be successful. People generally are satisfied with what I have written. Towns in Massachusetts have been paying high taxes and the taxes there are still ascending. In our own town the town government has kept the taxes down and not I predict that they will be returned out. I predict that they will be returned out the 3rd of October.

The first nominations were for assessors and C. D. Noyes nominated John R. Out, who is filling the unexpired term of Frank L. Woodworth. Mr. Noyes in nominating Mr. Out commented on the good work that had been done by him during his short term in office and said that he deserved the support of the community.

Lee R. Robbins nominated Arad R. Manning of Yantic as the other candidate for assessor. In presenting the name of Mr. Manning, Mr. Robbins said that he would supplement what the chair had said about the town needing an assessor and would say that it needed some thing more—a good assessor, and he believed that Mr. Manning was this man.

For the board of relief Judge Arthur L. Libby nominated James C. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Robbins nominated Fred G. Prothero.

When nominations for selectmen were called for Judge H. H. Pettis took the floor saying that he was at a loss to know just what to say without repeating what he had said on three previous occasions when he had nominated the same man for the office. It was six years ago that I first nominated this man, said Mr. Pettis, and each time he has been elected. During the past six years the world has changed as never before in his-

NORWICH TOWN

The first fall meeting of Lathrop Memorial Foreign Missionary society is to be held Wednesday afternoon at 3.30 in the Norwich town chapel.

Following a visit of nearly two weeks at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Estelle Lawrence, of Brooklyn, N. Y., John Hinrichs returned Friday afternoon to his home on Town street.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Thurston and daughter, Miss Ida Thurston, motored up from their cottage at Quonochontaug Beach, R. I. and spent part of Friday at their home on Town street.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Peck and son Crosby of Otisboro avenue, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Peck's relatives in West Chester. The trip was made by automobile.

Thomas B. Beetham is carrying the school children daily from Wawecus Hill district to the West Town street school. This is Mr. Beetham's first year in transporting the children, he having succeeded Charles Cohen, who drove the conveyance for several years.

At the close of the school year in June Mr. Cohen moved with his family from Norwich town to the Chauncey Parson farm in North Stonington, which he had purchased.

Sunday morning at the First Congregational church, Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey took for his subject, Dante's Message to the World.

Should Japanese Be Allowed to Come to the United States as Citizens? was discussed by the negative at the Men's Forum. The affirmative side was discussed the Sunday previous. Both sessions proved so interesting the judges could not reach a decision as to the winner of the debate.

Miss Margaret L. Chapin was a leader at the Young People's Christian Endeavor service in the evening. The topic treated was How to Make the Most of Our Bible. Ps. 137: 1-14.

For the benefit of Connecticut College Endowment and, several Norwich town young women, students of the college, some of whom have completed the course, held a very successful lawn fete Friday afternoon and evening, on the Norwich town Green. The committee, all college girls, was Miss Helen Avery, chairman; Miss Gertrude Avery, Miss Louise P. Bailey, Miss Gladys Belle Beebe and Mrs. Ronald Nelson, (Marion Rogers) the last two being graduates.

The committee was assisted by Miss Ida Beebe and Miss Lucile D. Balfew, also by Miss Dorothy Bushnell, who was a guest of Miss Bailey. Interesting features were a fortune teller, and the grabbag. The sale of ice cream, cake, candy, fruit, vegetables and flowers netted about $70. Other Norwich town young women who have been graduated from this college are Miss Ruth Avery and Miss Susan Wilcox.

The notice of Frank E. Griffin's death in Monday's Bulletin brought sorrow and deep regret to many who were his neighbors and friends during the years of his residence on East Town street, at the home of his sister, Mrs. William C. Osgood, now of Andover, Mass. Always true to high aims and ambitions, to labor, instincts of honesty, vigor and unselfish service, Mr. Griffin won in this community respect and high regard.

STILL COUNTING VOTES IN NEW LONDON ELECTION

New London Sept. 12.—The winners of the council-manager election in this city were still in doubt at midnight tonight when the tabulation of today's vote was incomplete. The ballots used in the elections were three feet long with thirty eight candidates for the city council and eight for the board of school visitors. From this list of candidates the voters were to elect seven council men and three school visitors.

It was reported from New London early this (Tuesday) morning that Wm. E. Fox, John Murray, Thomas Foran and Malcolm Scott all seemed to be most likely of election to the council.

HARRY H. COMSTOCK DIES SUDDENLY IN THE NIGHT

Harry H. Comstock of 81 Peck street died during Sunday night at his home and was found dead in bed Monday morning when his housekeeper went to call him. He had been in poor health for some time with heart trouble and had been attended by a doctor on Sunday. About 1 o'clock Monday morning he asked his housekeeper not to sit any longer with him and he retired. It was apparent that he had been up after

UNITED CHURCH BROTHERHOOD MAKES PLANS FOR SEASON

The Brotherhood of the United Congregational Church opened their season's meetings Monday evening with a supper and business meeting in the Brotherhood rooms at the Community house on Church street. There were about 50 members present and the gathering proved a very enthusiastic one, giving promise of much activity during the fall and winter.

The supper was served at 4.30 and following the menu the business meeting was called to order by President Nathan A. Gibbs. Plans for the fall and winter were discussed. The Brotherhood is making arrangements to give a course of three lectures in the near future.

Following the conclusion of the business Arthur L. Pease gave a very interesting talk on Indian relics. Mr. Pease exhibited a large collection of arrow heads, tomahawks and other weapons of war. The meeting came to a close about 8 o'clock.

An unusual gift has been donated the committee in charge of St. Patrick's school fete, Miss Nellie McCarthy, of Thameville presenting the members a month's old live pig, to aid the fund.
