What is going on tonight
Canton Winham No. 2, P. M., I. O. O. F. meets at 87 Main street.

At a meeting of the evening school committee it was voted to begin the evening school October 19, sessions to be held at the Natchaug Grammar school as in the past. The school to be in session three or four nights each week until the middle of March 1922.

The committee was called into session by the chairman, Horvath Dico, the following members being present, Walter E. King, superintendent of school E. A. Case, and Principal of the Evening School William O. Brooks.

Since the close of evening school last year the legislature repealed the law which required children between 14 and 16 to attend evening school, but the local committee is planning to offer attractive courses this year in hopes that many of these children might be encouraged to attend. Registration of students for all courses is to take place Wednesday and Thursday, October 3 and 4.

Particular attention has been devoted this year to the organization of courses that will be likely to appeal to all classes of people. Any subject is to be offered where classes of twenty or more can be secured. Different courses have already been suggested by the principal. The committee has taken into consideration that many adults would like to do an even particular subject but feel that they cannot devote all winter to the work of that course.

To accommodate these people and interest them in furthering their education the evening school is to offer several short courses of 20 evenings each. It is expected that some interesting and valuable courses can be offered free to the public. The committee has aimed to provide subjects of interest not only to those who take courses in English or whose education was terminated at an early stage, but to anyone desirous of attending night school.

Attorney Thomas J. Kelley of this city received a telegram Thursday morning informing him about the arrival in this city of the body of his son, Thomas A. Kelley, killed while flying on airplane July 13th last at Lake Field, Hawaiian Islands. The telegram read as follows:

Dear Mr. Kelley, California, Sept. 21.
I am sorry to hear of the death of your son, Thomas A. Kelley, late Sergeant Fourth Observation Squadron, Air Service, U. S. A., forwarded today American Railway Express. Should arrive September 27.
JNO. T. KNIGHT.
G. M. Supply Officer.

Willimantic Lodge No. 1311, B. P. O. 1212, accepted the invitation of Rockville Elks to attend in a body the Elks' fair at Rockville in October. The committee appointed to arrange for the trip consisted of the following: Thomas P. Shea, Albert Lord, James Fogarty and William Green. The committee is to complete arrangements at a later meeting.

The local police station now contains what remains of five pills, the results of visits to nearby towns by Federal Prohibition Enforcement Chief William R. Condon and his men. The latest addition is a copper boiler and cooling system seized from Julius Salton of Colchester, Wednesday. Salton claimed he was making the whiskey for his own use and will be given a chance to explain all about it before United States Commissioner Earl Mathewson of Norwich.

Funeral services for Katherine C. Sullivan were held Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the home of her brother, Michael Sullivan, No. 13 Fairview street. Requiem high mass at St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock was sung by Rev. John E. Clark. Seated in the sanctuary was Rev. J. J. Tyler of St. Mary's church. A funeral march was played by the organist, Mrs. A. W. Turner as the body was borne into the church. At the offertory Mrs. Henry Mathieu sang O Salutaris and for a waiting hymn William Costello sang Pace to Face. Members of the Saint Anne Society and Daughters of Cantile attended in a body. The attendance was large and beautiful floral offerings were received. The bearers were William Flynn, John Pahey, Daniel McCarthy, John McGuinness, Theodore Morrisette and James Shea. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery where Rev. John E. Clark read a committal service.

Over four hundred Willimantic residents attended Brooklyn fair Thursday the day having been called Willimantic Day by the fair officials. All local stores were closed for the afternoon and shortly after noon automobiles began leaving for Lincoln Square, Brooklyn-bound. Over forty cars started from the square but many others left from other sections of the city. The weather was ideal and upon their return from the fair during the late afternoon all who had made the trip stated that they had been royally entertained. The Brooklyn fair, which enjoyed their stay at the fair grounds immediately. The new highway from Willimantic to Brooklyn and beyond brings the city and the surrounding towns together in these days of horseless wagons and merchants believe that it will work to the advantage of residents of both towns continuing the friendships made Thursday.

Enumerators of school children are finding their work harder this year than ever before, due to the increase in population among residents of foreign birth. Children of foreign birth are in a majority in all three of the districts in the town. The enumerators find that children of French, Polish and Russian birth are making the largest increase and believe that the day is not far distant when they will be in the majority. There is also an increase in the number of children of Italian and Jewish birth.

About a dozen children between fourteen and sixteen presented themselves before A. W. Buchanan of Mansfield, special agent of the state board of education Thursday when he made his weekly visit to his office in the town building. Tests were given all these seeking employment certificates.

"Jack" Barry's Salem Town baseball club will be the Thread Makers' opponent here for the week end game. The Salem Town club has been playing ball before crowds that average well up toward 20,000 and are rated a fast club. They have also one victory over King Bader to their credit, and their visit to this city is in the endeavor to clinch the New England semi-pro championship. Al Kroeg who hurled the locals to victory over the Boston Red Sox a week ago is to be on the mound this week and it is believed that he can put a crimp in the Salem Town hopes for the championship.

There's Nothing Complicated About this Spreader

One big reason why the John Deere Spreader gives highly satisfactory service at low cost for repairs is its simplicity. It has no chains, no clutches, and only about half the parts necessary on the ordinary spreader. It gives extra years of service.

JOHN DEERE SPREADER
The Spreader with the Beater on the Axle
The beater-on-the-axle construction has made it possible to produce so simple and so durable a manure spreader. This feature is patented—no other spreader can use it. Its driving gears are entirely enclosed—they operate in oil within a dust-proof case—they will wear for years.

In looking at the John Deere Spreader, be sure to note that all of the main working parts are mounted on the rear axle, where they can't get out of line to cause binding, heavy draft and breakage.

The John Deere is a low. There is no machine we sell that we recommend more highly. Come in and let us show it to you.

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear catarrhal deafness, or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears, go to your druggist and get one ounce of Parmitin (double strength) and add to it a pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with catarrhal deafness, or who has head noises, should give this prescription a trial.
