CONTRACT AWARDED AT ABOUT $40,000 FOR NEW WARD BUILDING AT HOSPITAL

At the quarterly meeting of the trustees of the Norwich state hospital held Friday morning at the institution the contract for a new ward was awarded to the Torrington Building company whose bid was the lowest of the nine bids submitted. The building will be of brick, will have accommodations for 125 patients and will be equipped with a large dining hall. It will face west. All the other buildings of the institution face the other way.

The contract awarded Friday is only the general contract and the wiring, plumbing, etc., will be taken care of by additional contracts. The erection and completion of the building will entail an expense of about $180,000.

It was expected that the meeting of the trustees would be honored by the presence of Governor Everett J. Lake.

HAD EATEN NO SOLID FOODS FOR YEARS

Providence Resident Pours Out Gratitude to Tanlac for Restoring Health.

"Tanlac has made me so well and happy that I want to pass the good news along for the benefit of others who are trying to find the right medicine for their troubles," declared Mrs. Leontine Vena residing at 10 State St., Providence.

"My stomach had been bothering me for ten years, and I was in such miserable condition that almost drove me to distraction. For several years I hadn't been able to eat solid food, but just eating the postpaid Tanlac and telling me this caused me agony. Headaches and dizziness nearly worried me to death. I was almost a nervous wreck, and many nights would lie awake with restless sleep. I was so weak and worn out that my housework was a drudgery for me, and I don't believe there was anyone in Providence who felt any worse than I did.

"Nothing is left of my troubles now, however, but the memory of them, for Tanlac has restored me to the very best of health. I have almost done up my kind, can do my housework with ease and just feel grand in every way. I just can't praise Tanlac enough, and if anyone wants my statement verified just let them come to me."

Tanlac is sold in Norwich by National Drug Stores Corp., at the Taftville Pharmacy and in Plainfield by F. L. Merrier, Charles R. Carey, Jewett City, Conn.

E. MacKenzie, federal prohibition director for Connecticut.

The restraining orders were sought, it was said, to carry out the order issued by Director MacKenzie yesterday, in which he directed saloonkeepers selling beverages with more than one-half of one per cent alcohol to close their doors.

Directors MacKenzie today addressed letters to the mayors of all cities in the state asking their co-operation in the proposed activities against prohibition law violators.

"In order to get down to the bottom and root out the source of the evil conditions existing here, we must have the co-operation of every official in all cities of the state," Director MacKenzie wrote. "I earnestly hope you will pledge your hearty support in our efforts to enforce the prohibition law to the fullest possible extent."

LODGE NOTES
KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

One of the most optimistic signs of the recent industrial revival is revealed by the report of the William J. McKinley in his analysis of registrations for the Knights of Columbus national evening school system for the 1921-22 term.

"There is an unprecedented demand for admission," he finds. "We have had the busiest registration period in the three years that our schools have been established, and 95 per cent of the students enrolled in the schools are former members who have returned to us after having been established in other schools. This is a very gratifying sign, as it indicates that the schools are doing their work in following trade mechanics such as telephony, auto mechanics, plumbing, painting, etc."

"A substantial percentage of the 50,000 persons so far registered are at present unemployed, but their search for employment has impressed them with the necessity of learning some practical trade to fit them for work at a specialized calling. More than 50 per cent of those registering in the K. of C. schools are former members who have returned to us after having been established in other schools. This is a very gratifying sign, as it indicates that the schools are doing their work in following trade mechanics such as telephony, auto mechanics, plumbing, painting, etc."
