ANNOUNCEMENTS
Exhibition of Oil Paintings
There will be an exhibition of 30 oil paintings by J. Elliot Enneking of Boston, held at Statu Armory, Gall. 101 Main Street, New London, Conn., from Nov. 1st to 22nd, inclusive. For many summers Mr. Enneking has painted in Mystic, Conn., where he has found good material for pictures. The people of Norwich are cordially invited to attend this exhibition.
Conn. College Concerts
Frederick Weld, chairman of the committee for concerts of Connecticut colleges which is bringing the New York Philharmonic orchestra to New London to open the series at the State Armory, Saturday evening, November 5, attended a conference in New York last Saturday, called by Manager Felix Leitels to perfect plans to transport the orchestra with its baggage in case railroad service becomes crippled by the threatened strike. Conductor Stranaky and Rudolph Steiner, manager of the orchestra's New England tour, together with Mr. Leitels and Mr. Weld have agreed to have the orchestra travel by automobile if the strike makes it necessary. The public may rest assured there will be a concert in New London at once. Single tickets for this concert as well as all concerts of the series will be put on sale at Childs's November 1. Course tickets may be secured now and at any time up to the close of the first concert.
CONCERT PROGRAMME BEFORE DANCING AT BALL TONIGHT
Tonight's night when all roads lead the armory; the time, eight-thirty, when Hills-Boulanger orchestra will give a half hour concert program preceding the governor's ball, which has been occupying the attention of the girls of the Norwich Girls' Community club for the past month. This orchestra, which has been engaged to play for a series of entertainments in Washington, D. C., following a short engagement at Delmonico's until Saturday, is now playing at the evening sessions and weekly dinner dances of the Hartford Golf club, besides doing much college and fraternity work in New England. With the orchestra, Mr. Leitels, a seventeen-year old saxophonist, who has already made a name for himself in the musical world. Mr. Davis is to make records of Stolen Kisses and Vamping Rose in New York next month and has promised to feature both of these pieces tonight, the latter being the first encore after intermission. Following is the concert program:
Apple Blossoms (Tune Roverie) Kathleen Roberts
Hungarian Dance No. 5 Brahms
Loin du Bal (Tango du Vallee) Brahms
Simple Aveu Francis Thome
Zallah (Egyptian Intermezzo) Francis Thome
Major Russell F. Smith is to give a hot buffet supper at his home on Oct. 28 this evening, entertaining about 25 people, including the members of the governor's party.
At The Strand Theatre, Friday and Saturday.
After having a great many requests by the Norwich people who have not had a chance to ask Mrs. Eva Fay questions, the Strand management has decided to hold her over for the remainder of the week. Those who have not yet had a chance to ask Mrs. Fay questions, will now have an opportunity until Saturday to see the remarkable and mysterious Mrs. Fay. She is not a spiritualist medium and there is nothing supernatural about her. Yet she answers all questions in a way which will be a mystery. Mrs. Fay claims no supernatural power and performs altogether different than any other such performers.
Other acts are Charles Henry's peak, presenting A Cusine's Dream. This will be some treat for the children. Billie Bowman is a character monologue comedian being a very good impersonator. Moore and Pleasants, Bobe Danvers, of Darkydom. These are very clever dancers, throwing in a song or two and some good comedy for measure.
The feature photoplay is Cortina Griffiths in "The Black Track." This is a picture with dramatic comedy and thrilling situations, and is well rounded out as a photoplay. See "The Romance of the Seven Veils" in this picture.
Davis Theatre.
A cast of unusual excellence, including Madge Bellamy, Thomas H. Ince's latest "discovery," appears in support of Douglas MacLean's new play, "The Mount of Madness." "Passing Through" will be shown at the Davis theatre today and tomorrow. Mr. MacLean is cast in fine advantage in the role of Billy Barton, a young bank clerk who gets into difficulties through attempting to reason the misfortunes of others. Miss Bellamy is Mary Spivins, a lovely girl for whom Billy gets into a job more trouble.
Otto Hoffman offers a humorous play as James Mary's father, a grasping and straight-laced small-town banker. Willis Roberts and Edith Yorks, as Farmer Hartline and his wife are pleasantly humorous while Fred Nathorst is a thoroughly hilarious villain.
A high-spirited orphan who is in inherit money but has been so kept down by the strict, maiden aunt who brings her up that she "busts loose" the very day she is eighteen and gets herself into many adventures. Bobe Danvers has another role well suited to her talents in "One Wild Week," which is the second feature.
A Half-hour Boys' comedy entitled "A Chill Romance," will also be shown.
Breed Theatre.
Will Rogers heads the double feature bill at the Breed today and Thursday in a screen version of the famous American comedy success, "A Poor Relation." In this new vehicle Will Rogers is seen in the role of the disappointed inventor and it is one of the most sympathetic and at the same time most laughable through his very humanness and his sense of humor in the annals of American stage literature. It is his Rozertown.
For the second feature Vivian Martta will be seen in the rapid-fire comedy "Pardon My French." "Pardon My French" is a real Vivian Martta vehicle—light, entertaining, amusing and with many dramatic and holding features. It is the kind of story which Miss Martta has made peculiarly her own on the screen, half comic and half dramatic, and it will certainly increase the already established wide popularity of the charming star.
ANNOUNCEMENTS
Y. M. C. A. Bible Class Opens Tonight. This (Wednesday) evening at 8:15 o'clock, the first session of the season of the Men's Bible class of the local Y. M. C. A. will be held. A moderate price supper will be taken up. These studies will be such as are calculated to help young men in their daily lives; they will be practical and interesting.
