DANIELSON

Killingly High school this season has one of the finest basketball teams in its history...

F. Burns was director and Mrs. Sidwell was secretary...

Publicity has been given to the fact that federal prohibition raiding officers unearthed a remarkable tunnel leading from the house to the barn...

There was no town court cases over the holiday and all was as quiet about the town court as on a midnight in a cemetery.

A Boston paper has been printing an interesting imaginative account of two deer supposed to have become intoxicated on mash discarded after use in a mill at Russell Rocks...

Here is some good news for Killingly people as a whole and Goodyear people in particular...

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Musgrave, Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, funeral services for Mrs. Eva Guild, wife of George B. Guild...

The store of Charles W. Hale was closed under an attachment made Wednesday in the interest of creditors...

Friday evening there is to be a meeting of the Circuit Epworth League at the Methodist church, in Moosup...

Motorists are learning with interest that the bridge that has been in the course of construction near the foot of Hampton hill is completed and the new state highway to Willimantic and Hartford is open without detour...

Damage estimated as amounting to between $50 and $100 was done to stock and equipment of the Keystone store by quantities of water that leaked down through the ceiling from the bath room in a club on the second floor of the Danielson Trust company building...

Ernest Skinner, the Hampton Youth who is held at Brooklyn jail, will be formally charged with murder in the first degree when he is presented in the superior court at Willimantic early in the coming month...

Danielson heard repeated rumors on Wednesday that a series of raids for liquor had been conducted the previous night by federal officers in the villages of the town of Plainfield...

A telegraph order for flowers for Christmas was received from New Mexico by a local florist and filled in accordance with instructions...

Very pretty and in some cases quite expensive calendars are being put out by Danielson firms to their customers...

Some especially fine strings of pickers are being brought in by local fishermen who have been on the ice of lakes and ponds in territory herabouts...

Mrs. Hattie Bailey, of School street, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bailey, who make their home with her, had as Christmas guests Mr. and Mrs. DeForest Wells...

Well also will be closed Monday as well as the majority of the stores. Danielson streets have been called among the best lighted he has seen in towns of similar size in New England by a visitor who has been spending a few days in town...

PUTNAM

The coming week will bring answers to various questions of those who follow politics and the political intrigues of the holding appointments in the gift of the city government...

Next week the newly elected common council will come into power and then all will soon learn just how many of the numerous important changes that have been talked of for so long will come into effect...

From as late as Wednesday afternoon, insofar as outward appearances were concerned, there was uncertainty as to what may happen in the way of making changes. Outside of those who intimately interest themselves in politics, the public at large awaits the changes with visible interest...

With the vast majority of the voters who have given their support will hold these officers responsible for the management of the city government during the next two years...

This best of voters as a body held that the men to whom the direction of the city government is given over are charged with the important responsibility of making good...

Of making good. No one pretenses to be a finish for a position, there will be a chance to square accounts two years hence, and that this effort will be made is guaranteed...

It was stated here on Monday. Above all, Putnam as a whole demands men of efficiency in its appointive offices, and those who are not efficient will seriously handicap the chances for re-election of the elective officers who are responsible for change...

That may be made on the criminal list for the January term of the Windham county superior court, the cases to be disposed of at Willimantic. Included in the list is the case of Ernest Skinner of the town of Hanford, charged with murder in the first degree...

The cases represent many varieties of crime including breaking and entering, assault with intent to kill, violation of the liquor laws, etc...

The complete list is as follows: Continued cases—State vs. Unzo Rowell, intimidation of witness; state vs. Mabel Minor, female minor leading a vagrant life; state vs. Joseph Sarrafin, theft; state vs. Frank Sedlak, aggravated assault; state vs. James Riley, assault with intent to kill and murder; state vs. Arthur Eldridge, abuse of female child and rape; state vs. Jolian Gray, Jr., breaking and entering; state vs. Walter Y. Count Game Warden Harry E. Batey is spending considerable time these days visiting ponds where fishermen are having sport hauling pickerel up through the holes in the ice or waiting hopefully for some pickerel to give them that opportunity. The warden is seeing to it that no pickerel are taken, or if they are, to take proper measures to bring about the punishment of guilty parties. Therefore, the warden was some what surprised and almost driven to look in the book of fines for penalties on over-size pickerel when, over at Quade pond, he came upon several Putnam men who had three pickerel, respectively 23, 24 and 25 inches in length, the largest weighing about forty pounds.

Gilbert Perry of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Perry, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Perry at the school. The school has a larger enrollment than ever this year and the students are representative of many foreign countries. Numerous members of the student body are engaged in taking technical courses, so many of them at the expense of the city government, which they will later serve.

Miss Ellen M. Wheelock of the city, Mrs. Helen M. Willey of Exeter and Miss Bessie Champlin of Boston, were guests Wednesday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waterman, all formerly well residents of Putnam.

Captain J. J. Whitehead, Jr., returned here Wednesday after spending the Christmas season with his parents at Lakewood, N. J.

Henry Brownson, student at the United States naval academy at Annapolis, is at his home here.

The next meeting of an organization of local physicians is to be held January 17, at Dr. J. J. Russell's.

Forces of clerks in various stores in Putnam are engaged this week in making the annual inventory of their stocks.

Rev. John Roney, pastor of St. Philip's church, this city, is to conduct services at Christ church, Pomfret, Sunday morning next.

Michael Daniels of the state treasury office at Hartford, formerly with the Putnam Savings Bank, has been a recent visitor with relatives in Putnam.

Miss Katherine T. Flaxer is spending this week with relatives in Danielson.

John Ash of Pomfret, recently returned from California, where he worked for a month, finds New England beautiful even in comparison with the Golden state, and makes special mention of his knowledge that the trees of New England are more beautiful than those of California.

It is thought possible that by Christmas season of 1922 Pomfret will have a permanent home in which to give the weekly presentations of the National star.

There are several cases of smallpox isolated in the criminal list for the January term of the superior court.

Banks here will observe next Monday as a legal holiday and will be closed throughout the day.
