What Is Going On Tonight

Vaudeville and Motion Pictures at Strand Theatre: Motion Pictures at Broad Theatre: Motion Pictures at Davis Theatre.

ANNOUNCEMENTS: At the United Congregational Church: The Junior Guild will meet in Miss Fuller's office Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Midweek worship Thursday evening at 7:45. The subject for the devotional period will be The Holy City that for the instruction time, First and Second Sam- uel.

The Camp Fire will meet in the Community house Friday evening at 8:45 for handcraft.

BREED THEATRE: The Congregational Power is announced by the Breed theatre for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. It is a Rex Ingram production for Metro and is a 9 Reel Ingram production with the assistance of all the national talents.

It is an adaptation by June Matha of Balzac's novel, Eugenie Grandet. The scene is laid in a provincial city of France, where the miserly old Grandet hoards his gold and lives in poverty with his daughter Eugenie.

Charles, a young boulevardier from Paris, who is a handsome, middle-aged man, is thrown upon the miser's city and is accordingly thrown out, shipping to Martinique with little money, but with the treasured memory of Eugenie's love.

The story is the beginning of Balzac's tremendous story of love and greed.

In the screen version, Allen Terry, the exquisitely beautiful Marguerite of the Four Horsemen, has scored a sensational triumph through her portrayal of Eugenie Grandet.

Other pictures on the bill include a Christie comedy entitled Headless Wives and the Pathic comedy, Continuous Show Monday, starting at 1:30.

Today's bill consists of Roper Hughes' production, Dangerous Curve. Ahead of today's show in All-Week, Harrison Hutz, and the Pathic comedy, Continuous show today from 1:30 to 10 p. m.

Davis Theatre Sunday and Monday: For rare beauty of background few pictures that have been screened this season can equal the picture version of Sir M. Barris's The Little Minister, which features the artistic director, produced for Paramount with Betty Compson in the role of Lady Blanche, made famous on the stage by Maude Adams.

The picture, which will be shown at the Davis theatre Sunday and Monday only, gives many views of the picturesque village of Trumani (Kirschwiler, Scotland), built in the style of the old Norman castle, with high ceilings, stone mullioned and leaded glass windows, high arches and hure stone carvings.

The story is an absorbing one and deals with the daughter of a Scottish Lord Lincoln who plays the part of a zephyr girl, whose tongue is treacherous after a series of thrilling events take place.

A rare treat for photoplay devotees is provided in Boris May's first starring vehicle, Footstep Age, which is the second picture.

Written especially for Miss May by Hunt Stromberg, who also supervised the production together with William A. Selzer, the director, The Footstep Age gives the audience a new thrill after the fashion of a novel idea, as Miss May appears in a comedy in which she has appeared in 12 hours' leave, Mary's Ankle and other of similar nature.

In a line of production in story value, in comedy, in laughs, in the skill of the charming young star and in direction, The Footstep Age is of high degree, according to most of the better known screen critics of the country. It is based upon a novel idea, as Miss May readily lends itself to the development of humorous situations.

A Paramount Magazine will also be included.

Today there will be the usual continuous show beginning at 1:30. Five acts of classy vaudeville and a gripping photoplay entitled The Call of the North, with Jack Holt.

AT THE STRAND: The management of the Strand has secured another extra good holiday bill for New Year's day in the form of four fine Keith's acts and an exceptionally good picture.

Benkey and O'Connell open the program with a sensation, "Roll Back the Years." They have skated in practically every country in the world. They are international roller skaters, having won many contests and championships.

Other acts in the program offer a very good comedy act full of life.

Worth-Whitney Four are ballroomers. You bet they are worth waiting for. They offer the finest ballrooming and their act is the same as the ballrooming in the circus (except the circus is not complete without it). Their harmony is perfect. Each has an excellent voice and each knows how to use it.

McDevitt Kelly and Quinn feature in an act called The Piano Movers, and the Actress. This is an exceptional comedy act, always something new. The piano movers offer to add the actress, after she has found out that the two young men of the act were to add her to her act, have shown up. She accepts the offer of the husky piano movers, and then the fun begins.

Feature photoplay is an exceptional masterpiece in the famous play House in the House. Facts to remember: The Servant in the House has toured the United States continuously for ten years; now touring Canada; played every city and town in the U. S. and Canada; endorsed by the press and public every where; 4,000,000 people have seen it as a stage play; clean and wholesome, amusing and dramatic.

Boston Elocutionist at Y. M. C. A. Sunday: The popular Boston elocutionist, Dorothy Barry Carpenter, who has been heard with much pleasure at least two occasions in Y. M. C. A. courses will render several selections at 4 p. m. tomorrow (Sunday) in the Y. M. C. A. assembly hall. The readings include "The Other Wise Man" by Van Hook, "Arabian Nights" and "The Chinese Rans."

This is a rare chance to hear an accomplished reader who always pleases her audience. The doors will be open at 3:30 o'clock.

Canada's Trade Invitation: At the general invitation Tuesday, Canada, in effect, issued an invitation to the United States to enter into closer trade relations by the opening of the Canadian market on both sides—New York and Toronto.

Spoony lovers make quite a stir in public.

"My face broke out with bad, red bumps which later turned to watery pimples. They itched and burned something terrible and would scale over, and every time the scale came off more pimples would break out. It was impossible to sleep. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using one can of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Lucy E. Roberts, R. 41 Box 29 A, Waterville,
