DANIELSON

Up at Goodyear operatives at the mills are now getting in an old-fashioned day of work.

Chairman F. E. Cunniff of the town school committee and Leon M. Ferrin, new supervisor of schools, have been making visits to the schools in various parts of the town at Killington and by Wednesday evening the new supervisor had become fairly well acquainted with the schools that are under his jurisdiction.

Attention of dairymen in towns hereabouts is being called to the fact that Karl B. Musser, eastern field representative of the American Guernsey Cattle club, is to speak tomorrow (Friday) evening at the Windham County Farmers' association headquarters in Putnam, and that all interested in dairy work are invited to hear him.

Ten miles east of here, at Hopkins Mills, blasting operations to clear the road route laid down for the Danielson-Providence highway are continuing. As soon as spring opens road building operations will be resumed in order that the work of completing the Rhode Island part of the highway from Hopkinton to the Connecticut-Rhode Island line at Little Rest, a distance of about five miles, may be accomplished by the early fall of this year, giving a new through trunk line from Providence to Hartford via Danielson and Willimantic.

PUTNAM

Dependent William E. Warren, 68, committed suicide at his home on Belle-rose street, early Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Warren had been in poor health for some time past and also apparently melancholy, but his family and friends were entirely unprepared for the shock that came when he took his life by placing the muzzle of a shotgun under his chin and partly blowing his head off. Death was instantaneous.

Only a few minutes before the tragedy Mr. Warren had visited at the Cutler home, only a short distance from his own home in the Oak Hill section of the city. He gave no intimation that he intended to take his life, but upon returning to his home went upstairs into a bedroom and then into a closet and killed himself. Dr. F. A. Morrill, medical examiner, viewed the body.

Mr. Warren had been a resident of Putnam practically all of his life. He was of the Warren family long so prominently identified with the affairs of Putnam. He was a member of Quinebaug lodge of Masons and of the Warren Drum corps, made up largely of members of the Warren family. This drum corps was known throughout eastern Connecticut and remained in existence for years, playing on holidays, at political rallies, for parades and other special occasions.

Mr. Warren leaves his wife and two sons, William P. of this city and Edward of Providence.

A plan that it is hoped will iron out the difficulties that have beset the fire department for several years is expected to be put into operation following a meeting that likely will be attended by members of the fire department committee of the common council, the new chief and his assistants this (Thursday) evening.

It was stated on Wednesday that a usually reliable source that a new No. 1 company had remained in the present company and from members of a former No. 1 company that was retired two years ago following the city election of December, 1917.

There is a large attendance of voters at the special municipal caucus for tomorrow (Friday) afternoon. This meeting will pass upon a matter as important as saying what shall be done about issuing $150,000 in bonds of the town of Danielson, which may be the town's interest in the rate of interest.

Scores of slaters found entertainment by the icy surface of the Assawamuck river during Wednesday.

State Officer Howard A. Elliott was a visitor in Danielson on Wednesday.

It is believed possible that the highway leading from Davyville Four Corners past the Killington town farm may be inaugurated in the near future.

James A. Fernald of Providence was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Wednesday.

Members of people here noted that communications come to them this week bear in the face the figures 1921.

Local followers of the boxing game have a promise of an opportunity to see the Demosy-Carpenter pictures taken at the ring-side, a local theater having booked the films, which are being shown throughout the country.

Others are continuing to keep a sharp outlook for Sam the Sinner, and there are many volunteers who would like to match him; at least the volunteers say so.

Killingly starts 1922 with its industries working full time and this is a source of encouragement to the workers and to the business interests of the borough.

Hugh Gorman, Sr., is slowly recovering from injuries he received in an accident at Brooklyn several weeks ago.

John A. Damon of Meriden was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Wednesday.

THE TIME TO TAKE PEPTO-MANGAN

When You Feel a Little "Off" It Will Bring You Back to Health

Some people never need any medicine at all. They are as the saying goes, "strong as a bull." They are mighty lucky. Most people need a good tonic once in a while. They take cold, or through overwork or social activity do not get enough sleep; many eat improper food and thus hurt the digestion. It is mighty wise to take God's representative, Pepto-Mangan, for a few weeks and build up. One cannot have too much good health. Pepto-Mangan gives you plenty of red blood, and everybody knows that red blood, and everybody knows that good all the time. Sold by druggists in liquid and tablet form. Advertisement.

and experienced men obtainable from the membership of the present company and the membership of the former company. It is the plan to have a new fire department, for little is expected to be heard in the future about disaffiliations that have had their roots in political troubles. Following the reorganization of the present No. 1 company a new No. 2 company will be organized to replace the one that resigned two years ago, leaving the north end of the city without its usual company and fire apparatus. This has been kept at the central fire station since the war.

The people of the city will wish that success may crown the efforts of those who desire to straighten out all of the difficulties in the fire department, and that harmony will reign again. The settlement, if it may so be called, that it is expected to effect this evening, is expected to be permanent.

Captain J. H. Bolger, who failed of reappointment as captain of police by the new common council, is to remain on duty throughout this week, completing his work on Saturday, after which the post captain, Remi Delage, will be on the job.

Captain Bolger has filed the office from which he is about to retire for the past three years. He has made an efficient officer and exerted every effort for the upbuilding of the department. During his period of service he has introduced various improvements in the policing system of the city, in keeping the department records, and in other ways made the force more effective. Of a kindly and courteous nature, he has made scores of friends, all of whom wish him the utmost success in any future undertaking. Captain Bolger said Wednesday afternoon that he has not decided upon his plans for the future. He has had the utmost success in any future undertaking. The following committee appointments from among members of the common council have been announced by Mayor Archibald Macdonald, again serving the city as chief executive: Finance, Dean; street lights, Dean, Dumas, Chapdelaine; city property, Miller, J. Bay, Pigeon; parks and amusements, Rev. Father Dumas; police, Libby, Magnan, Miller.

High lights in Mayor Macdonald's address to the common council at the opening of his administration include a recommendation for the consolidation of town and city administrations under a commission form of government, extension of permanent pavements until streets of the city are paved, extension of the sewer system, and increase in the efficiency and equipment of the fire department. With the characteristic straightforwardness that was such a factor in making his previous administrations such periods of successful management and achievement in municipal affairs in Putnam, the mayor sets forth his views in the following inaugural address to the common council.

The highways of Putnam, as you well know, have been continuously improved since the inception of the city. The most important matter, namely, the permanent paving of streets, has been cared for. I believe that the city's endeavors to make all the streets permanent. This, of course, cannot be finished in our administration, but a start has been made. The extension of permanent pavements until streets of the city are paved, extension of the sewer system, and increase in the efficiency and equipment of the fire department.
