

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Rev. Walter J. Greene, M. S. D. D., has been assigned as an assistant to Rev. John Roush, M. S., pastor of St. James church, and has taken up his duties here, being celebrant of the 9 and 10:30 o'clock masses Sunday morning. Father Greene succeeds Rev. Augustus Chastain, M. S., who has been one of the assistants here for the past year and who has been assigned to the faculty of LaSalle college, Hartford.

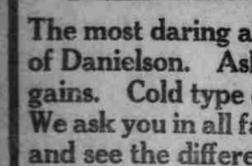

At the masses Sunday Father Roush made the announcement that Father Chastain had been transferred and that he wished to say farewell to the congregation for this, also made the announcement of the appointment of Father Greene to St. James' parish.

Father Greene is a native of Brooklyn, N. Y. His early studies for the priesthood were made at LaSalle college in Hartford. Having completed the work there he went to Rome and from 1917 to 1918 was a student at the Gregorian university, from which he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity and Doctor of Philosophy. His ordination was in Rome in May, 1918. Since his return to the United States in 1918 he has been a professor of Latin and English at LaSalle college, Hartford, and his assignment to Danielson is the first permanent parish work of his career. During his early years he was a resident in Meriden, Sunbury and Bristol. At the Gregorian university in Rome Father Greene was editor of "The Messenger," the LaSalle periodical.

Many have watched with interest the making of measurements about various corners of property of W. R. Pike, C. E., and have been informed that the purpose may be to inform the public that this work is being done in connection with the re-division of the Crystal Water Company's map of the business of Danielson and the remainder of the territory outside the borough limits which the corporation serves.

This work has been done from the late in existence of the borough and adjoining territory referred to. It also shows approximately the location of buildings in the territory mentioned, but has not been corrected as to being a date for about fifteen years. When the work was under way in completed every building of any importance in Danielson will be shown upon the map.

MINARD'S FOR PAIN LINIMENT

Saturday, W. E. Smith, evangelist of West Somerville, Mass., will preach at services to be held at the Pentecostal church, Academy street. Rev. Mr. Smith has been a pastor and evangelist for the past 27 years and has labored in England, Scotland and Canada as well as in the United States. Sunday's three services were at 11, 3 and 7 p. m. The evening services, which are to continue until February 6 inclusive, are at 7:30.

There will be special music by Mrs. Esther S. Brown, with autoharp accompaniment at each service. Rev. A. F. Gallup, pastor, has extended a general invitation to the public.

Incidental to the invitation given last week by a local paper to the public to submit for publication letters in support of and against prohibition, The Bulletin has been proffered the following on the subject by Dr. C. H. Kingsbury, one of Danielson's best known residents:

Prohibition a Product of Fanaticism: Nature's workings are but the expression of God's law and hence must be wise. Alcohol is a universal product of nature and forms in any soil under the sun, which is exposed to the atmosphere; its wide range of usefulness has been proved throughout the whole scope of human experience.

Rank materialism dominates prohibition activities which is foreign to the principles of self government, the public not having been given a vote in the passage of the present prohibition laws. Prohibition has virtually closed the avenues of access to alcohol for medicinal and other legitimate uses, but has not closed the avenues to its manufacture and use.

Because of secret methods adopted in the illegitimate manufacture, distribution and use of alcohol, statistics of arrests, etc., are of doubtful value and far from convincing.

Loss of revenue and license fees compared with the excessive cost of an ineffective attempt to suppress a vast army of violators of these prohibition laws has resulted in enormous financial loss to the public, which always has to foot the bill as an earnest to convert many thousands of bitless law-abiding citizens into law breakers who are becoming more experienced daily in their transgressions.

Some of the results of prohibition to date are: 1.—A futile attempt to set aside national law. 2.—Rank internationalism, disgusting to every true American. 3.—Unethical manufacture and use of alcoholic beverages. 4.—Illegitimate manufacture and use of alcoholic beverages. 5.—Loss of revenue and license fees to public. 6.—Increased cost to public of prohibition enforcement. 7.—Increased cost of alcoholics. 8.—Wholesale law violations, encouraged.

A far better condition of affairs obtains in Canada where superior alcoholics may be obtained readily at food and drug stores at a more reasonable cost, while the abuses resulting under our prohibition laws are unknown.

World it not have been interesting in the great majority of Danielson people who know so well, especially the former parishioners here, to hear in their own homes Sunday afternoon the voice of Rev. M. Joseph Twomey, D. D., pastor of the Public Memorial Baptist church, being broadcasted by radio telephony in a sermon that entertained hundreds of people in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania towns and cities as well as throughout southern New England?

Rev. Mr. Twomey, formerly pastor of the Danielson Baptist church and a resident of Norwich, preached Sunday afternoon at a chapel service in Newark, N. J., his sermon being flashed by wireless telephony to listeners in widely separated towns and cities in the eastern United States. Those fortunate enough to have apparatus that allowed them to hear the organ and male quartet of the church of which he is the pastor, assisting at the service.

Following this (Monday) evening's installation of the officers of the Killingly grange will come Tuesday evening the installation of the officers of the Brooklyn grange, at Brooklyn. Mrs. S. S. Hyde of Brooklyn will install the officers of the Killingly grange this evening, while the officers of the Brooklyn grange will be installed Tuesday evening by Deputy Frank K. Haines of Abington. The new officers of the Killingly grange are: Master, E. C. Babson; overseer, O. F. Atwood; lecturer, Mrs. Mabel Ennis; steward, Arthur Ennis; assistant steward, William H. Walters; chaplain, Miss Helen Palmer; treasurer, R. B. Stetson; secretary, Mrs. A. C. Hyde; gatekeeper, Mrs. Hannah Witter; Ceres, Miss Mildred Pike; Promoter, Miss Wilfred Harris; Flora, Miss Doris Fitzgerald; L. A. steward, Miss Laura Pike.

On her recent visit here to speak for the members of Sarah Williams Danielson chapter, D. A. R., Mrs. John Laidlaw, Bristol, states recent, told of her trip abroad last summer. Members of the Danielson chapter had members of Elizabeth Porter Putnam chapter, D. A. R., as their guests.

Producers of milk in all the territory heretofore are interested in the coming meeting in Boston, January 21 and February 1 of the New England Milk Producers' association.

Rev. Dr. Robert L. Roberts of Norwich will preach this (Monday) evening at three o'clock at the first in a group of four sermons scheduled to be held here this week.

There was a threat Sunday of labor trouble here that it was being stated would develop this morning at the plant of the Peck Manufacturing company on Furnace street. The forecasting of what might happen was said Sunday to be due to the fact that several employees were discharged Saturday because they did not wish to work over night. The Peck company has not yet been running full time, but also has been getting in evening work up to 9:30 for some time past.

More street came Saturday to glaze the streets and sidewalks as fresh as that humanity might continue to watch his step with extra caution. Rain that came late in the afternoon as well as hail cut through the new ice sheeting and helped to make getting about something less difficult and hazardous, but the going continues dangerous in this territory, as has been the rule for the past two weeks.

The Connecticut Mills basketball team has been reorganized and is now arranging matches, the first to be played here in the near future.

Thomas Jessup of the executive staff of the Connecticut Mills was called to Danville, N. Y., Saturday by the death of his mother.

PUTNAM

The atmosphere about police headquarters and the city court room was permeated with an odor of sour mash Saturday morning. The locked vault contained a quantity of liquids and there was an overflow of full receptacles in a nearby garage. One of the nearest four gallon kegs that ever came under the observation of the police was among the quantity of contraband equipment which came into the hands of the officers as the result of three raids Friday evening. There were three defendants before the court charged with keeping intoxicating liquor with intent to sell and with reputation. Rosie Lawrie, of 23 Mechanic street and Arnold Zamajna and America Bisiana of 139 Mechanic street, all pleaded not guilty to the two counts against each. Upon request of the prosecuting attorney the cases were continued until nine o'clock this (Monday) morning.

The raid came off after six o'clock Friday evening and was headed by Captain Raimie Deane, with Officers George Laird, William Jarvis, Eugene Gibson and John Ryan. At the home of the Lawrie woman the officers took a copper still, three boxes of remains of fifty pounds each, 20 quarts of beer mash, 4 one-gallon jugs of wine, 1 five-gallon jug of wine, 1 two-gallon jug of wine, 2 three gallon jugs of wine, 1-2 gallons of diluted whiskey, 48 gallons of mash in still and some rubber hose.

At Zamajna's home 1 five-three gallon barrel of wine was seized, together with a barrel of grain mash, 14 quarts of wine and a carboy of wine. From the home of Bisiana, who lives in the downstairs tenement under Zamajna there was taken 28 quarts of wine, 1 barrel containing 53 gallons of wine and a half barrel containing 36 gallons of wine.

Prosecuting Attorney J. P. Carpenter made a statement to the court which emphasized that Putnam is going to be dry if it is possible to make it so. In ordering his remarks he said he wished there were more people in the court room to hear what he had to say. He said that while that was the first session of court since the new administration came in, the police had not been idle. He stated that 460 stuff that is now being stored in the city. Attorney Carpenter said that the police had acted quickly and he complimented the captain and his men and said that with their assistance Putnam was to be made a trading center for legal merchandise but not for illegal goods. Attorney Carpenter again referred to the police and again complimented them, saying that although there had been no court cases since the first of the year the police had been active and had stopped house cases where Jamaica ginger or other intoxicants are made. He stated that it was to be the aim of himself and the police department not to burden the court with a lot of cases especially of family differences and minor matters when the cases could be settled to the betterment of the community, and all concerned without court action.

The first meeting of the Putnam Checker club held in Red Men's hall Friday evening, was a success. The announcement that Victor C. Townsend, chairman of the city of Boston, was to be present and give exhibitions of his skill drew but fifty and sixty members to the meeting. The first exhibition was the playing of four opponents on four separate boards by Mr. Townsend, without observation of the boards in play. This was done by numbering each of the squares. When an opponent made a move from one square to another the numbers were called out and Mr. Townsend would call out the number of the squares from and to which his man was to be moved. The exhibition was most interesting as far as any had seen the game played in this manner before. Mr.

Townsend won the game on board number one and the three others were a draw. Those who played at the boards were: J. J. Bernick, Charles Paul, and Harry K. Burdick of Putnam, and Joseph Gorman of Danville. Following this exhibition Mr. Townsend played eighteen games at once. Fifteen players were seated at tables around the hall. Beginning at number one table the opponent would move and Mr. Townsend would move then pass to the next table and keep making the round in this manner until he had defeated each of the 18 opponents. Mr. Townsend is making a tour of Connecticut. On Washington's birthday he will appear at the annual meeting of the Boston Checker club at the New American Hotel, Boston, and play ten boards at once while undisturbed, without a day's delay.

The prevalence of smallpox in Bridgeport and a few cases having been reported from a nearby Rhode Island city was aroused the attention of Putnam health officials. Dr. G. F. Lamarche, public school physician, is closely safeguarding the welfare of this city. Dr. Lamarche states that there are not over fifteen children in the school of Putnam who have not been vaccinated. These fifteen have no good reason or excuse for not being vaccinated. The attention of the health officials. While there are some few children who have not been vaccinated under advice of their family physician, which is an excuse under the law, there are now less than two per cent. of pupils in the schools who have not been inoculated. This is a great improvement over the time when a school physician was first appointed. At that time several years ago there were forty to fifty per cent. of school pupils not vaccinated. There has been but little opposition of children regarding the vaccination of children but all probably the few remaining children will have to undergo vaccination or be denied the privileges of the schools. There is also a penalty which may be imposed upon parents who refuse to allow their children to be vaccinated without legal cause.

A five months old baby placed by its mother in the custody of a Putnam family may become a charge on the hands of the officials of this city. The mother of the child came to Putnam several months ago seeking her husband. The man was located here but before steps could be taken to force him to support his family he disappeared. The mother and infant were left destitute. The matter coming to the attention of Mrs. W. J. Bartlett, of the state committee for the protection of girls and women, she advised the woman to place the baby in the home of some family and to work to support it. The mother found a family willing to take the infant, also found work in a mill. The woman lost her job in the mill seven weeks ago and left Putnam to seek work elsewhere, since which time she has not been seen. What to do with the baby, which has developed into a lusty youngster, is the problem that confronts the officials if the mother does not return to claim the child.

In a list of eleven honor students of Trinity college, Hartford who attained the rank of B or better in all studies appears the name of Arthur B. Andrews. Mr. Andrews is a graduate of Putnam High school, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand N. Andrews, Fairview street.

Putnam was covered with a coating of ice Saturday morning that made all kinds of travel dangerous.

Funeral services for Ferdinand L. Winslow were held at the Grove street cemetery chapel, Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. J. A. Book of the Methodist church officiating. Years ago Mr. Winslow was for a long time baggage master at the railroad station. Later he was engaged in the grocery business and also worked at the freight depot. Just previous to his death he had been employed at the Manassett mill. He was one of Putnam's long-time residents and for 27 years had been a member of the Royal Arcanum.

Mrs. Mary F. Thurber, 65, died Sunday afternoon as the result of burns received during the morning hours at the home of her nephew, John Marsh. Not feeling well upon awakening, Mrs. Thurber remained in bed. Members of the household brought an oil stove to her room to make it more comfortable and in getting up and about the room, Mrs. Thurber's garments came in contact with the stove and they were ignited. The noise of her struggles to free herself of her burning garments attracted attention, but she was so late to prevent her from being terribly burned.
