

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

A full century of life was rounded out Monday by Dennis Cook Rawson, resident at Millville, two miles north of here, with his son, Royal C. Rawson. At the present time Mr. Rawson is confined to his bed as the result of a fall suffered about eight weeks ago, but his condition is not considered critical and it is thought likely that he will be up and about again before long.

Deaths have not figured much in Mr. Rawson's hundred years of life insofar as his own personal health has been concerned, though the centennial is fully appreciative of what great benefactors members of the profession are to humanity as a whole. He has been one of the lucky persons among the myriads of human beings who come into this life and more or less quickly pass on again, and has been blessed with exceptional health.

Mr. Rawson was born in Bristol, Vt., Jan. 23, 1822. Three years after his birth his mother died and he was taken to Millfield, Mass., to live with his grandfather. His early schooling was at Millfield and later he studied at Winhall, Vt. He came to Hampton in 1848 and worked as a cabinet maker. April 11, 1848, he was married in Hampton to Miss Elizabeth C. Wood of Brooklyn, where he lived for years. The children born of this marriage were Royal C., Joseph Henry, now of Milford, Conn., and Mary Elizabeth, the two latter now dead.

Mr. Rawson lived in Brooklyn and Canterbury for a period of nine years and then purchased a farm in Hampton and engaged in agriculture. Mrs. Rawson died several years after he located in Hampton. Dec. 9, 1868, Mr. Rawson married Miss Chloe Miller of Westfield, Vt., she dying Oct. 27, 1877. May 1, 1889, Mr. Rawson was married for the third time. At this time he was 67 years of age. His third wife was Nancy Beane, who died about 12 years ago. Following her death, Mr. Rawson came to this town to make his home with his son.

Compliments poured in upon Mr. Rawson on his hundredth birthday. Hundreds of his mail and cheering letters came in his name, and he also received gifts. Mr. Rawson has never seen a motion picture, but is familiar with the ways of the modern screen. He is an omnivorous reader, being particularly interested in historical works and books on travel.

After a lapse that has extended from Feb. 4, 1920, it is again possible to travel all the way from Danvers to Webster by trolley, as one may from New London to Worcester again, if this fact be of interest. Long drawn out negotiations have resulted in resumption of service between North Grovesendale and Webster, a section car which runs daily on the route mentioned, a date when a terrific winter storm blotted the line, which has since that time been completely abandoned. The new service will be conducted in connection with Webster and Danvers at 11:25 a. m. Other cars will go through Danvers and Webster at 10:15 a. m., 12:15 p. m., 2:15 p. m., 4:15 p. m., 6:15 p. m.

At his home at East Killingly funeral services for John Chase were conducted by Rev. J. William Carpenter. The service was attended by a large number of friends. The body was placed in the receiving vault at Westfield cemetery, which was managed by Rev. J. G. Smith, Frederick H. Smith, George Lang and L. S. Barstow. Louis E. Kennedy was the funeral director.

Miss Ruthella of Wauregan was appointed in the federal court at Hartford, Conn. to have the payment as the result of having violated the Volstead act. The enforcement instrument of the 1920 amendment to the constitution. Revision officials made a raid at Mr. Rutledge's place a few weeks ago and seized a quantity of intoxicants, which they found in a tunnel leading from the house to the barn. Attorney A. G. Bill represented Mr. Rutledge at Hartford.

Ernest Skinner of Howard's Valley, Conn., who is happy in his new environment. He seemed delighted when taken to the institution in charge of Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Ayer of this town and another officer. Skinner seemed under the impression that he was being entered as a student in some school. He showed much interest in the big barn on the place.

The mercury touched 5 degrees below zero in Danvers Monday morning after a night during which a strong gale blew from the northwest. Ben. Dr. Robert L. Roberts of Norwich will preach again this (Tuesday) evening at 8 o'clock in a series of four sermons planned for Danvers this week. This evening the service will be at the Baptist church.

Twenty-four members of the Bohemian club who are interested in the pinocchio tournament will pick their set of six names at the club this (Tuesday) evening. Miss A. Henderson of Bridgeport was a visitor with friends in Danvers on Monday.

At the Orpheum theatre on Monday the audiences were delighted with the showing of a feature film, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." Attention is called by County Game Warden Harry B. Batey to the fact that the stray dogs are now being cared through the dog show this year on Jan. 27, next on the grounds of the Orpheum theatre.

North Grovesendale and Webster. There were various reasons for this, and chief among them was the fact that non-union crews were operating cars on the Connecticut side of the line, following a strike that was inaugurated in July, 1919, which union crews were running the cars on the Massachusetts end of the line. The strike had been in effect for some time, and the fact that the trolley company's former business seemed permanently lost to which much of the trolley company's former business seemed permanently lost.

At Danvers Monday a crew of men was engaged in plowing the lot that is to be stored in a new house erected on the shore of one of the ponds north of the village. In the interest of pure milk supply, the commissioner on domestic animals for Connecticut, James M. Whittelsey, of Hartford, has sent to Danvers a motion picture film entitled "Out of the Shadows," which manager J. L. Lewis of the Orpheum theatre had kindly consented to show at Thursday's entertainments.

Miss Annie Dwyer of New York, formerly of Danvers, has been a visitor here. Rev. Alpheus Charter, M. S. of Hartford, has visited at his home here. At 8 o'clock church at 2 o'clock Monday morning Miss Anna B. Harrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harrington of Church Street, Brooklyn, was united in matrimony to William J. Guilbert of Putnam, Rev. John Rook, M. S., performing the marriage ceremony and celebrating the nuptial mass. After the wedding in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Guilbert will make their home in Putnam, from which the groom went out for service in the world war.

PUTNAM As was announced would be done, trolley service through Webster has been resumed. Cars of the Worcester Consolidated company are now running from Webster to North Grovesendale, connecting at that place with cars of the Connecticut company operating on the Putnam line. The resumption of the service is chiefly due, it is said, to efforts of the Webster and Dudley chamber of commerce, which has labored for months with trolley officials to attain the end now realized.

The first car now leaving this city for Webster gets away from Putnam at 5:30 a. m. Other cars leave Putnam for Webster at 6:45 a. m., 8:45 a. m., 10:45 a. m., 12:45 p. m., 1:45 p. m., 2:45 p. m., 4:45 p. m., 6:45 p. m., 8:45 p. m. All of these cars connect at North Grovesendale for Putnam excepting the 10:15 p. m. car, which furnishes service to North Grovesendale only.

Erst Coleman of Attawapung made his appearance in the Putnam city court Monday morning and was fined for having been intoxicated. Twenty dollars and costs, a total of $31.24 was the tariff assessed, and the fact again demonstrated that getting drunk is a tremendously expensive indulgence these days—in court penalties as well as in the price of hoodlumism. Coleman was before the court last fall following an outburst he made at a local theatre in protest against the showing of Lloyd George in a news reel.

County Agent Frank L. Davis will be in Danvers Monday and Tuesday of next week attending the annual meeting of the New England Milk Producers' association, in which there are many members from this section of the county. Among the important matters to be taken up at the meeting are what is known as the station charge, a discontinuance of which will be asked; minimum price for butter fat, rating plan, relation of Boston and lower markets and the greatest of all the questions confronting the dairymen—what to do with surplus milk. The need for direct marketing facilities is sure to be in the forefront of the discussion. This section of the county.

Change now from spotty hot air heat to ARCOLA'S hot water warmth. An ARCOLA installation means an American Radiator in each bedroom. An ARCOLA installation means an American Radiator in your dining-room and parlor.

RIGHT NOW, in the middle of winter, is the economical time to make the change. Your Heating Expert has much more time now than he will have later on. And you need not hesitate because the days are cold. Your furnace or stoves can remain until ARCOLA is installed and at work.

The three cold months are coming. The months when chilly bed-rooms mean discomfort for adults and the danger of coughs and colds for the children. What a satisfaction to have an American Radiator in every room, sending out its healthful hot-water warmth. What a delight in the morning to come down to a dining-room comfortably warm. What a comfort to have all the hot water you want for washing and bathing.

All these comforts come with ARCOLA, and the installation can be made in a very few days. Telephone your Heating Expert (he may be classified as "Plumber" or "Steamfitter"); ask him for an estimate. Do it now—today—and enjoy ARCOLA's friendly warmth through the three cold months that are still to come.

first day will be taken up largely with reports of the year, the second day with discussions. Only about $1,000 in overdue taxes remains unpaid to the city. Tax Collector Archibald Macdonald said Monday morning that the delinquents continue to pay and it may be possible after all to forego collection. If successful liquor raids continue to be made, there will be sufficient quantities of intoxicants at the police station to warrant starting a bonded warehouse, although most of the concoctions seized here during the past year would hardly be considered worthy in the old days of being allowed within ten miles of such a depot. Jakes, moonshine, sour wine, home brew and other substitutes for the old lines of intoxicants make up the bulk of the present day seizures, and the same man drinks none of them. At 6 o'clock Monday morning temperatures down to 6 below zero were recorded in this city. Throughout the day the temperature remained so low as to have an effect on business inasmuch as many out of town people were kept away by the cold. The Barlett High school team of Webster will come here this (Tuesday) evening for a game with the Putnam High school team. Attorney Arthur S. Macdonald left Monday for a brief visit with friends in Boston. Wilfred J. Guilbert of this city and Miss Anna B. Harrington of the town of Brooklyn were married Monday morning at St. James' church in Danvers. They will make their home in this city. George L. Padgett, who was in Boston for a few days for treatment for his eyes, is again engaged at his editorial duties here. The new and lower schedule of wages announced last week became effective Monday at the plant of the Manhasset Manufacturing company, as was also the case at Attawapung, Ballouville, Pineville, Gool-year, Danvers and Wauregan. A few more cases will receive attention.

PLAINFIELD The musical comedy, All Aboard, was given at the Community House Friday and Saturday evenings. This was one of the best entertainments ever presented in Plainfield. The cast consisted of eighty local people. The principal characters were: Billy Brady, Ray Green, Beatrice Sloan, Edna LaRoche, Mrs. Sloan, Beatrice's mother, Mrs. Wilton, Dorothy Brady, Billy's Sister, Katherine Walsh, Johnny, Philip Peterson, Capt. Kidd, Mr. Cullen, Alexander, Mr. Lee, woodyard sailors, Paul Peltier, Byron Trovost. The remaining number consisted of tourists, Johnny, sailors, sweethearts, antedotes, witches and nymphs. The play was largely attended both evenings after a successful presentation at the Rocky Point orchestra played for dancing. Frank Green, who has been confined to his bed with a severe grip cold for the past week, is able to sit up for a few hours each day. Joseph Jolly has moved his family to Canterbury.
