DANIELSON

A suit for $10,000 against the Quinebaug company has been instituted by Hugh Gorman, of the Allen Hill section of the town of Brooklyn, to recover for injuries he received when the cart drawn by a pair of horses which he was driving was in collision early one evening...

The Quinebaug company has only an incidental interest in the suit as the truck that figured in the accident is covered by insurance and the legal battle insofar as the defense is concerned, for compensation sought by Mr. Gorman must be waged by the insurance company which issued the policy covering the Quinebaug street truck.

Papers in the suit were served and returned to the office of the clerk of the superior court in Putnam on Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Edwin Be met.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Call are to leave Thursday of next week for a southern tour. As members of a party, they will go first to Washington, where they will enjoy a brief stay, and then to Southern Bines for another or so, from whence to Jacksonville, from which point they will start out on a three-week motor tour of points of interest on the east and west coasts, visiting at the various resorts, including a number of places where residents of Danielson and vicinity are having a long holiday during the period in which the resorts hereabouts are getting the most possible out of cold weather operations.

After their Florida tour Mr. and Mrs. Call will cross over Cuba for a stay of about ten days. Returning to Florida they will gradually journey north, leaving at points of interest and will return to Danielson April 1.

What the state is doing to stimulate public interest in raising sheep on a pure milk supply will be illustrated at the Orpheum theatre today (Thursday) by a film entitled "Out of the Shadows" which is being shown here through the courtesy of Manager J. F. Lewis, by the commission of domestic animals.

The Bulletin carried a telegram from Wednesday morning in which the news that the preparation of a pure milk supply was being experienced in parts of Connecticut. To Danielson residents who have their vertebrae rattling after they have taken just one sour and restricted milk, the telegram is a most welcome news. It is a fact that there wasn't even a drop of sour milk in that bit of news from the Pine Tree state. What is the practical question which is a large one? When a food is on its shelves and is good to eat, why not eat it? That is the practical question which is a large one.

The Roundabout club observed "Gentlemen's Night" Tuesday evening at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Ingham, on the West Side. Bridge white was played. The following being the winners: Ladies' first prize, Mrs. Helen S. Dove; gentlemen's first, Arthur W. Williams. Ladies' consolation was a tie between Mrs. L. E. Kennedy and Mrs. Orsay Potter, but in the end Mrs. Potter captured the award. Gentlemen's consolation Orsay E. Potter. Midway in the evening a luncheon was served, consisting of sandwiches, olive salad, fancy cookies, candy, punch and coffee.

The Grosvenordale company has followed the lead of other mills engaged in manufacture of cotton textiles hereabouts and has announced a reduction of wages that will amount to approximately 20 per cent. The Grosvenordale company is one of the most important of the cotton manufacturing concerns in eastern Connecticut, with splendidly developed and equipped plants at Grosvenordale and North Grosvenordale. The company employs well over 1,000 operatives and is one of the largest concerns in its line in this part of the state.

Captain Henri Delage of the police department announced Wednesday that hereafter police supervision must be arranged for by all who arrange for the holding of public dances and other social events of this kind. This ruling is made in order that the police department may be represented and in a position to quickly perform the functions required of it in case of necessity.

Nothing like a cold wave, which drives many people to cover, has any terrors for Putnam's dog wardens, Nelson Clark. At the present time he has five strays at his place on Park street, and owners who desire to recover them will have to come across with an assessment of $3 per animal, the fee allowed by law.

Mr. Clark, one of the most efficient dog wardens in the state, said Wednesday he has a St. Bernard puppy and an Alsatian at his home that are selling for more money.

Dr. G. T. Lamarche has been elected president of the newly organized Putnam board of health. A. Newton Vanhook has been named as secretary. Dr. Black and Dr. Osborne of the state board of health have been in Putnam this week to confer with the members of the health board, which hopes during the year to accomplish much of benefit to the city. At the organization meeting of the board various matters pertaining to public health came up for discussion.
