

PROPOSED BOND ISSUE

Expresses the Opinion That It Would Disturb the Financial Tranquillity of the Country—Secretary Mellon Believes Such a Bond Issue or Short Term Notes Would Handicap the Refunding Operations of the Foreign Debt—Chairman Fordney Says the Bill Will Be Passed at This Session of Congress.

Washington, Feb. 14.—President Harding thinks it is impracticable to raise by a bond issue in this time a large sum of money to finance the larger bond issue. It was stated today at the White House, and he is unalterably opposed to the suggested eight percent program, which is a part of any of the taxes that have been repealed.

The executive was represented as being favorably disposed toward the bond issue and the president is believed that when he appeared before the senate last July to ask that its enactment be deferred he had not taken a position on whether it should be passed at this time or later. It was stated that the president had not been just right of mind, but it was pointed out that no exact time had been fixed for the passage of an advanced compensation bill.

The attitude of the executive, it was added, led to that of finding a need for a bond issue. The president is believed to be of the opinion that on the one hand and having regard for restored stability in the market.

It was said that there was a question whether there was the same sweeping determination at this time that there was during the president's responsibility when the president was said to doubt the possibility of obtaining new through a bond issue the sum required for the sale of the government securities. It was stated that the president was said to doubt the possibility of obtaining new through a bond issue the sum required for the sale of the government securities.

BROKERAGE INSURANCE CO. BRING SUIT FOR $25,000,000

Against the New York Stock Exchange, Schiff and Other Defendants—Allege Failure to Account for Profits Derived from Coal Lands Owned by the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Company—Federal Courts Are Swamped With Fake Stock Swindling Cases.

New York, Feb. 14.—A $25,000,000 suit against the New York Stock exchange, the estate of Jacob H. Schiff and other defendants named as managers of the reorganization of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad company for alleged failure to account for profits derived from coal lands owned by the company, became known today when Supreme Court Justice Giegerich granted a motion for a writ of habeas corpus in Pennsylvania. The suit was brought by the Mercantile Fire Insurance company and the Narragansett Mutual Fire Insurance company of Providence, R. I.

In the complaint a copy of which was filed with the order to dismiss, it is alleged that the railroad company purchased a large amount of coal lands in Pennsylvania, and that the United States Steel corporation, which is made a co-defendant in an effort to obtain a writ of habeas corpus, agreed to purchase 1,000,000 tons thereof a year.

It is further alleged that neither the railroad nor the defendants named in the complaint accounted for the profits derived from the coal lands and that the plaintiffs sold their stock holdings at low prices because they believed it the wisest course to pursue under the circumstances, thus becoming "entitled to damages."

The New York Stock exchange is named as a defendant, it is set forth, because of its "winking" at alleged violation of the state law, thus becoming a party to the fraud, at least, in a constructive fraud.

DISAPPEARANCE OF 141 CASES OF BONDED WHISKEY

Bridgport, Conn., Feb. 14.—The disappearance of 141 cases of bonded whiskey from the Clark Drug Company's store in Danbury has been reported to Federal Police Commissioner Charles W. Whiting, says the Bridgport Telegram this morning. In a statement published by the newspaper, Charles W. Whiting, federal police commissioner, said that the whiskey was stolen between December 6 and February 2. He reported the value of the liquor at $100,000.

The report to Commissioner Whiting was made by Federal Reserve Agents J. H. Estes and H. H. Huggins of Washington. They discovered the loss of the liquor last week when they went to Danbury to check up on the whiskey and seize it.

Following a hearing before State Police Director McKenna in Hartford last December, the Clark Drug Company was ordered to pay for the loss of the whiskey and the concern was ordered to pay the 141 cases of whiskey which it had on hand for seizure by the government.

Michael Delahoy, Jr., who is now under bonds of $10,000 in connection with an alleged conspiracy to kill 140 barrels of bonded whiskey, is general manager of the Clark Drug company.

NO DISORDERS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE TEXTILE STRIKE

Boston, Feb. 14.—The second day of the strike of operatives in cotton mills in New Hampshire textile centers and in Lowell, Mass., passed without either disorders or any serious incidents, according to a statement from the state department. The fact that the workers in New Hampshire were as much disturbed by the increase of six weeks in the strike, and the large wage reduction averaging twenty per cent, which went into effect in many New England mills this week, was indicated by a statement by a union leader at Manchester, tonight.

This leader, James Starr, vice president of the United Textile Workers of America, said that the workers in New Hampshire would hold out against the return of the 54 hour week if it took six months. The Amoskeag mill of Manchester, employing 1,500 workers, and the large mill at Dover, N. H., are the only mills which have announced wage reductions. The employees continued at work.

There was no call today for the services of a military or police force in readiness in Rhode Island to quell possible disturbances in connection with the strikes in that state which have been in progress for three weeks.

CHICAGO WHEAT PIT IN WHIRL AS PRICES RISE

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Excited trading at a big volume kept the wheat market of the Chicago Board of Trade in a whirl today. The prices at the opening especially was one of the widest yet recorded in the history of the market. The disturbance was later somewhat lessened but the market was again seething at the close.

The main part of a rise of 1-2 cents a bushel in the price of what wheat took place at the outset was retained, with the market quivering at $1.38 1-2 and $1.21 3-4 to $1.27. The May option advanced 1-2 cents to $1.27. The two months in which speculative dealings are at present centered, tonight, led to a rise of 1-2 cents in higher prices were credited with having as a result brought additional holdings today instead of selling out. According to current news from miscellaneous sources, the advance in prices here followed gains made yesterday at Liverpool and other foreign markets while American markets were closed during the holiday.
