NORWICH BULLETIN

George Leslie Rowell, 28, of Mansfield Center, pleaded guilty in the police court Tuesday morning to the charge of placing ties on the tracks of the New Haven railroad with the intention to derail a locomotive. Judge Frank H. Foss bound Rowell over to the next criminal term of the Windham county superior court, under bonds of $1,000. The session lasted only a few minutes.

Rowell was taken to Brooklyn jail later in the day, being unable to furnish the bond for his release.

Willimantic Postoffice, 84 per cent, wrong, attended the weekly meeting held Tuesday noon and heard Postmaster John O'Rourke tell of the strides made at the local postoffice which during the past year brought the office into the rating as select, or first class.

Postmaster O'Rourke who was the guest of Augustus Greene, told of a few things in the postal business little known to those not in touch with affairs. A great thing, he said, is the proper addressing of mail matter. Many people think that the mail address is the important feature, thus securing the sender of the return of the letter or parcel if the address mailed to cannot be located, or an error is found.

Special delivery letters are believed by many to insure them against loss of value by articles or money sent through the mails in this way, but this is not true. The special delivery stamp only insures that the letter will be sent to the party named to more quickly than with ordinary postage.

During the past year at the local office money orders and postal savings have amounted to $319,000, money orders amounting to $245,000, postal savings to $65,000. There is now on deposit at the local office $153,000 in postal savings. An idea of the work done during the year can be gained from the following: Postmaster O'Rourke said, Registered letters sent out have totalled $3,850, including $1,000, and transit letters have totalled several thousands.

Since January 1st, treasury certificates to the value of $18,000 have been bought through the local office. Sales of stamps and postal delivery returns during the past year have amounted to $43,235, this being the factor in making the Willimantic office in the select class, anything over $40,000 assuring entrance to this class. Willimantic hopes to continue in the select class.

To a great extent the entering of the local office into the select class came about through the use of the mails by local industries in sending parcels. Instead of using freight or express, which has been found to be slower.

Postmaster O'Rourke was given a rising vote of thanks for his talk. The meeting opened at 12 o'clock with Frederick W. Standish, Jr. presiding. Several songs were sung following which the drawing for the meeting next week took place. Samuel Feldman was selected for the life story and Alme J. Martineau was the presentation speech.

The life story Tuesday was given by John C. Tracy, who was born in South Manchester, in time going into the jewelry business there, beginning at $100 a year. Later he bought a half interest in the jewelry business of Leander Freeman of this city and soon gained control of the business, conducting it until the present day.

The presentation speech was made by Valentine L. Murphy who gave Mr. Tracy a fish scale to weight his catches and, and a tape measure to insure greater accuracy in describing the length of his catch.

Harry W. Standish announced that beginning Tuesday, attendance would count toward the prizes to be awarded at the week end of three months. Guests of the club at the meeting were Peter J. Hines of New York, Arch Lee of the Hildreth, N. J. Rotary club, William E. Jackson of the New London Rotary club, and John Ward of Belleville, N. J., and Postmaster John O'Rourke of this city, meeting closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Mansfield authorities are trying to unravel the mystery of the party or parties who left the body of a dead female infant at the side of the road, in the back thoroughfare between Sura and Chamerville, some time between midnight Sunday and Monday night. The discovery was made by men in the employ of the animal department of the Connecticut Agricultural college, the body being wrapped up in a Hartford Courier and a Hartford Times of Saturday, June 2nd.

Medical Examiner Dr. F. A. Converse of West Willimantic, who pronounced the child about five months old, appearing to have been delivered by a abortion. There were no marks of identification about the body aside from the newspaper. The body was turned over to Solomon Flaherty and was buried. As the road on which the body was found is not traveled very much, it is thought that the mother resides in some town other than Mansfield. The state police are to make an investigation.

Officers of Willimantic police department are to be taught proper use of the revolver by the direction of Officer James J. Lee, who served as a lieutenant with Company L overseas. The officers are also to be taught how to operate automobiles and motorcycles, a motorcycle recently being added to the equipment of the department. Orders to this effect were announced Tuesday afternoon by Alderman William E. Jackson, chairman of the police committee.

Two freight cars which were attached to a switcher near the gate dividing the property of the American Thread company and the New Haven railroad yard, broke loose Tuesday morning, about 10:45 o'clock and rolled down the incline there past the shipping and warehouse of the plant, crashing into a tree, where the large track ends in front of the box shop. The cars which remained standing ripped up a section of the track for a short distance. Shortly after noon the cars were pulled back on the iron and were run back into the freight yard.

Word has been received here of the death in Providence, R. I., of George Cronley, a former resident of this city. Mr. Cronley is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Cronley of Springfield, Mass., three brothers, John, Joseph and Fred Cronley, and three sisters.

Mrs. Wealtha Harries, wife of James Harries, died Monday night at her home at 48 Maple avenue. Mrs. Harries was born July 22, 1848 in Danielson, the daughter of Ezra and Cynthia Ann (Smith), Siles. She was an active and ardent member of the First Baptist church and belonged to the D. A. R.

Frederick W. Kaye, executive manager of the Y. M. C. A. drive for $12,000 had a special sewer Tuesday for an enthusiastic worker who breezed into the office during the morning and seeing Mr. Kaye said, "so you are the engineer who is running this campaign?" "Exactly," said Kaye. "Back Mr. Kaye, and the workers are the firemen who keep up the steam." The person who evidently had some steam went fishing out intending to keep the pressure at better than 100 pounds. The drive is going forward satisfactorily, more than half the required amount having been subscribed and favorable reports being turned in hourly.

The Victrola is the standard of musical value

Victrola No. 260 $160 Mahogany or walnut

When purchasing a sound-reproducing instrument consider these important facts:

- 1 Musical performance is the first consideration—and it is evident that the greatest artists would not make records for the Victrola if it did not present their interpretations true to life itself.
- 2 Nowhere else can you find such a collection of music as contained in the Victor Record Catalog—and the Victrola is the one instrument specially made to play Victor Records.
- 3 The Victrola embodies all the worth-while basic and fundamental improvements of the past quarter-century. There isn't a material nor an idea nor a process that enters into talking-machine construction which has not been put to the test in the Victor experimental and research laboratories.

Victrolas $25 to $1500.
