The Value of your food—There is only one test by which economy in food may be measured. To be economical, an article of food must have high food value, nourishment, be readily assimilated and still remain reasonable in price. For a cheap food which fails to nourish or causes indigestion, you exchange your health and personal comfort—too high a price to pay for any food. Bread-and-Milk is the perfect, balanced food providing every particle of nourishment and food-value that the body needs for satisfaction and health. A pound loaf of Bread contains the same food value as one and a half pounds of round steak, one and three-quarter pounds of chicken, one and a half pounds of mutton, three quarts of oysters or a dozen and a half of eggs. Milk supplies all the nutrients to the diet—fats, carbohydrates and protein—and is capable alone of sustaining life for a comparatively long period. This is Bread-and-Milk week! Don't let it pass without proving the value of more Bread-and-Milk on your table. bread-and-milk at every meal.
