DANIELSON

Dr. O. C. Sharpe was hurried to the Day Kimball hospital at Putnam Sunday after he had been injured when struck by a heavy limb that fell upon him from an elm tree while he was calling at the home of Mrs. Frank Sweet, diagonally across North Main street from his own home.

When taken to the hospital for observation to determine the nature of his injuries Dr. Sharpe was found to have a fractured left thigh.

These limbs that fell up Dr. Sharpe had been partly broken off in a windstorm and was being cut off by Floyd Sweet, son of Mrs. Frank Sweet, when Dr. Sharpe was in the act of entering the house.

A woman passenger in the car of Samuel Mechanic, of Philadelphia, received a bump that raised a swelling on the side of her head, in one of the minor accidents of Sunday in this territory.

The affair happened in North Main street, near Merin avenue, and was brought about by a horse becoming frightened by a car approaching from the southbound. As the horse, driven by Arthur Bessant, 44 Elm street, halted and began to prance as the trolley came toward him, a Ford car bearing a South Carolina registration was halted by its driver so as not to crash into the rear of the ice cream wagon to which the horse was attached and which the Ford was following.

The car, which is in need of expensive repairs. The crash of the car against the tree threw the occupants of the machine about, but the one bump mentioned was the only noticeable injury anyone received. Chief John McFarland investigated the accident.

Grand officers of the Foresters of America came here Sunday to assist members of Court Oak Grove, F. of A. in paying the annual tribute in memory of the departed members of the local court. The officers, including the Grand Master, were accompanied by a large number of members from their hall in the Hyde block to St. James' cemetery, where the memorial ceremonies were conducted by Grand Secretary Thomas J. Sullivan of Waterbury. He also delivered the masterful address. Others who spoke at the services were Past Grand Chief Ranger Charles W. Bayley, Grand Lecturer William Danvers and District Deputy William Schneider, all of Waterbury. The list of eight departed members were decorated, six in St. James' cemetery, two in Holy Cross cemetery.

Following the services the members of the order returned to their hall, where refreshments were served and several addresses pertaining to the memorial observance and in the interest of the good of the order were made.

Stable poles from the local barracks raised the place of John Lowmyer, P. M. of the place, and brought away 30 gallons of cider. When presented in court Sunday, charges involving violations of the liquor laws, Lowmyer pleaded not guilty and the case was continued to June 20.

Attention of the state police was directed to Lowmyer's place by complaints that he has been engaged in the sale of intoxicants for students at the select Fremont school. Lowmyer denies that he furnished the wherewithal for the students to sprinkle their commodes with something stronger than beer, but the police say they have four deputations from students in which the allegations are made that they have obtained intoxicants from Lowmyer.

Theodore Zabrza has come to Danielson to make his home. He is of distinguished ancestry dating back to the halcyon days of the czars. Theodore arrived here Saturday morning after a trip from Toronto and is being confined here Wednesday. Theodore is a thoroughbred Russian wolfhound, the first animal of the breed to be owned in this territory. Joseph Birch procured the animal to which he has given the name of a distinguished family in dogdom, and among his forebears were eight champions.

Theodore isn't much to look at just now. He is but 13 weeks old, sallow and a bit uncertain in getting about on his long sprawling legs, but he has all the markings of a splendid animal and is expected to develop into one of the finest specimens of his kind.

The usual spring distemper that comes experience and which leads them to over-enthusiasm in tacking up placards and posters has again attacked the attendees of the John McFarland, the chief service notices on Sunday that decorating posts and poles with advertising matter must stop. He calls attention to the fact that this practice is against the law, that a penalty of $50 is provided by statute for the misdemeanor, and that he wants the practice stopped and hopes that this timely warning will be sufficient to achieve his purpose.

Announcement was made Saturday that Lester E. Shippee, is chief bank examiner in Connecticut, succeeding John E. Byrne, of Putnam, recently advanced to be deputy bank commissioner of this state.

Mr. Shippee, a graduate of Killington High school, formerly was assistant cashier of the Windham County National bank in Danielson. For several years he has been a bank examiner in this state, working under Mr. Byrne.

The new state highway to Little Rest will be completed as far as South Killington and open in about six weeks, it was stated Sunday. The work is going along smoothly and has been advanced to the point where the Little Rest is being applied to the long hill leading from the Hill place to South Killington center. From South Killington to Little Rest grading is going on. The entire stretch of new road to Little Rest will be completed and open to travel early in October, it is stated.

Blowers Brothers Carnival company closed a week's engagement here Saturday night. The carnival company came here under the auspices of the fire department, members of which expressed themselves as pleased with the carnival, about which there has been no complaint during its stay in this town.

Persons interested in horticulture will find at this time at Davis park something to attract their attention—a gas plant, which is now in bloom. The flowers are white and about 12 inches in length. The plant's leaves give off a small light when it is crushed. The location of this plant is in one of the beds near the fountain.

There will be no half-holidays for Danielson's stores during June. A revision of the plan for closing now limits the half holiday period to July and August only. Abandoning of the plan to close Thursday afternoon through June was brought about because all of the stores in the town would not agree to it, some of the exceptions being stores occupying important places in the lines represented.

Roy R. Allen, sub-master of the Tourtelotte Memorial High school at North Grovesend for the past three years, has tendered his resignation. Mr. Allen has been appointed supervising principal of the schools at Williamstown, N. Y. Mr. Allen came to Tourtelotte Memorial school from the Meriden High school, where he was vice-principal. He has been sub-master, teacher of science and mathematics and business manager of school athletics.

Teddy Roosevelt, an unusually intelligent parrot, and a great talker, is dead. He was 39 years old and belonged to Mrs. Ella Hartman of East Thompson. He was very fond of his mistress and two hours before he died said: "Teddy loves mother."

John J. Whitehead of New York has been the guest of his son, John J. Whitehead, Jr., editor of the Patriot.

A rumor gained currency Saturday morning that the police were hot on the trail of De Trilo of Death letter writer who had been arrested in Connecticut. It is in so, the police are non-committal, for they say there is nothing new in the strange case.

Coal dealers in Putnam report anthracite coal scarce and that at present they are unable to supply the demand. The strike of the anthracite miners is the reason for the shortage. Apparently the dealers and the public are not worrying and are optimistic regarding next winter's supply. Dealers express the opinion that before long a large amount of anthracite in the manufacture of gas, is now using coke, and according to present plans intend to continue with this substitute. Dealers express the opinion that before long drastic measures will be taken to end the present strike and that some way will be found to bring anthracite coal to the surface. They predict that there will be a supply of coal on hand by the time winter arrives, or sooner.

Mayor Archibald Macdonald has issued his annual proclamation concerning the observance of Fourth of July, fireworks and firecrackers may be used as provided by the city ordinance on that day.

The city has purchased a lot with a 50-foot frontage, corner of Church and Providence streets, from the Nightingale estate. It is intended at some future time to erect a fire station on the property, to be used for the company in the north end of the city. The property is a valuable one as it is a corner lot, and is in a business section. The present fire station is on Smith street and is not easily accessible and the company is more or less inconvenienced in responding to alarms.

John Burleson, about 75, is dead at his home on the River road. Mr. Burleson had lived most of his life in this section. For years he was employed as a book-keeper by the French River Textile company in Andover, N. H. His last employment was with the Putnam Coal and Wood company. He is survived by his wife and daughter.

Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Richardson were present at the commencement exercises at Northfield, returning Tuesday, June 5 in company with their daughter, Miss Vera Richardson. Mr. Richardson occupied the pulpit Sunday, June 4.

The grange strawberry supper held Tuesday evening of last week, was largely attended. The crate and a half of berries was quickly exhausted and the disappointed ones were disappointed in the latter empty of shortcake, but they were able to secure ice cream and cake in plenty. The entertainment was excellent, consisted of piano solo by Mrs. Earl Gilbert, songs by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ballou, reading by Mrs. Faust and Miss Pippine, closing with a song by William Christopher. Forty-eight dollars was netted from the supper.

At the first regular grange meeting in June, a very impressive memorial service was held consisting of songs and readings by several members of the order. A memorial address was given by Brother Fred Kennehan and Sister Lucy Grey very impressively marched to the center of the hall, placing a bunch of lilacs of the valley on the altar, in memory of Brother Conard, who died the one member removed by death the past year. Prayer by the chaplain, Rev. J. P. Richardson closed the services. The refreshment committee served chicken pie and lemonade.

Many attended the Children's Day exercises in the churches here Sunday, also visited the cemeteries as it was Firemen's Memorial day. The members of the fire companies marched to decorate the graves of their departed comrades and services were held at River Bend cemetery.

The Red Cross association of Westery, at its annual meeting Thursday evening, made good reports. The work of the association has been most successful. The executive secretary, Lucy Crowley, reported that she had secured excellent work by them and has become one of Westery's most helpful institutions. It shows a report of $1,200 in expenses for the year, with $2,000 in receipts, leaving a surplus of $800.

The baseball game between Stonington High school team and Vocational team of New London at Owen Park, proved of interest to the fans. The game was a close one, the pennant of the league, Stonington won, 5 to 3, so is led for first place with Westery. By special agreement of the league officials the game counted for two games should be played in order to properly complete the league schedule. The game Saturday attracted many to the ball grounds and a good game was played. Stonington team as well as the Westery team arrived at 10 o'clock and the match was well matched this season and all have been playing good ball. The Westery boys were particularly interested in the outcome of the game because only a victory over Stonington would give the Westery boys a chance to win the pennant and unless Stonington won the honor would go to the New London team. The interscholastic baseball season will be closed here unless a game for mutual financial benefit is arranged between Westery and Stonington. The Westery boys were out in full force Saturday to cheer for a victory for their neighbors which was rather unusual and showed a friendly spirit.

The shocking news of the death by accident in Brooklyn or New York on Friday of Frank J. Burdick of Woonsocket, was received by telephone Friday night by Mrs. Joseph Roode. All that could be learned was that he had been injured in an automobile accident, and died shortly afterwards in a hospital. Miss M. A. Burdick of this place is his only sister, and has been visiting in Woonsocket for several days. Mr. Burdick was the resident manager for Swift & Co. of Chicago and was in New York on a business trip. He had been with this company for 25 or 30 years.

There was a Children's Day concert at the Congregational church Sunday morning which was in charge of Mrs. E. E. Robinson. The program was most interesting and the young women decorated the church. The organ loft was decorated with laurel and roses, and the platform was decorated with ferns, palms, daisies, roses and gladioli. A young people's choir composed of three classes of girls led the singing. William McNeil, superintendent of the Sunday school, announced the programme and presented the collection. The Rev. J. P.
