YALE ATHLETICS BEFUDDLED, MISHANDLED SAYS TREVOR

New York, June 16.—The athletic situation at Yale "is so befuddled and mishandled that it seems nothing short of complete remodeling of the system of control, finance, and coaching will serve to remedy it," says a report of the "voluntary committee on Yale athletics" made public tonight by George S. Trevor, of the class of 1915.

The committee declares it represents the views of a large number of Yale men, former captains, members of present teams, coaches and graduates interested in the situation.

"Many graduates feel that those in control at Yale have fumbled the ball," says the report, which particularly assails Professor Clarence W. Mendell, chairman of the board of control.

"Professor Mendell has never had any athletic experience," says the report. "His recent report on the present athletic situation is somewhat misleading. Professor Mendell has summed up his year's work as follows: 'On the whole we can look back on a reasonably good year.'"

This committee cannot agree with Professor Mendell, because in its present athletic year so far Harvard varsity teams have defeated ours in football, hockey, basketball, track, tennis and golf.

"The alibi for all this is that we are out of luck. We are not fully satisfied that we are not out of luck—we are merely out of athletic brains."

Outline of Needed Reforms "After a careful review of the whole unsatisfactory situation," continues the report, "we believe that Yale athletics cannot be established on a sound and happy basis until these reforms are made: 'A consistent athletic policy and system. 'More athletics for more students. 'A qualified and specialist, and organizer as head of Yale athletics, who shall be a member of the faculty. 'A director of freshmen athletics. 'Competent coaches and more of them. 'An efficient business manager. 'Committee supervision, but not committee direction. 'Responsible and open publicity. 'Invest coaches with more authority. 'Less alibi for defeats, more sympathy with graduate co-operation. 'A more complete and accurate record and accept a broader vision of our athletic future. 'This is not all critical, if serious thought is given to this report and its purpose good may come of it. Yale graduates should get together and demand a change. Yale has the best athletic material of any university in the country, but its records for the last ten years are deplorable. 'Financial importance of Athletics. 'There is another side to the matter. Athletics at Yale have become of financial importance. Large sums of money are taken in and spent, and yet only a few in the university, those fortunate enough to get on the relatively small number of teams have the opportunity to take part in organized athletics, either for pleasure or to develop what ability they may have in the hope of making a varsity team. They are not getting a square deal in the matter of being selected, and they have the right to expect as a part of every under-graduate's life. 'In 1920, Yale football receipts were $35,000 and in 1921, $54,000. Yet last year there was an athletic year of $100,000. There should be better management than that. Nearly $600,000 spent for a string of defeats! 'Some of those who have been actively interested in Yale athletics all so have been inclined to resent the attitude of the university toward the athlete with small financial resources. The athlete who is hard put to it to find the means for his education seems to be viewed with suspicion, and those in control of the athletic regime and by the bureau of appointments. Athletes are discriminated against. They are asked to seek assistance from money they have been objecting to outside assistance for athletes—why force them to seek it? 'The football program last season was given to two students on a percentage basis. One of them had graduated the previous year, and the other needed to work for only part of his expenses. These two students cleaned up $9,900 and $4,500 each! At that time the best athletes in the university were without funds, and their tuition and were worried as to how they were going to eat. These men were compelled to borrow money from their families, and with the sanction of the Yale authorities. They were not out for football and could program committee. But how much fairer it would have been if, instead of giving the program to two men, it had been given to ten men, some of whom might have been athletes working their way through college? It would have put them through for a year, and this committee fails to see how it would have tainted them with professionalism."

YALE CREWS IN HARD FIVE

Gales Ferry, June 15.—The Yale crew had a hard noddie on the Thames late last night, when they were struck and raised to a fast clip several times during the row. The freshman crew kept even with the varsity and junior varsity boats nearly all the way and appeared to be in much improved form.

Payne Whitney and J. M. Goethicus of the rowing committee watched the practice from a launch. Charles S. Payson, chairman of the committee, said that the Yale oarsman, also was here today.

FISKE RED TOPS CLASH WITH KACEYS SUNDAY

On Sunday the Fiske Red Tops will be the attraction at the Fairgrounds. The Red Tops have been very strong and will be worthy opponents of the local Kaceys. As for hitting strength, it is possible that the Red Tops are a little stronger than the local team, but they will have to travel to get the ball by even the first line of defense, to say nothing of extending their attack beyond the outfield. The Kaceys will line up the same as last Sunday.

New York, June 16.—Declaring that he is unconvincing of Joe Dempsey's sincerity in his declared willingness to meet Harry Wills, negro challenger, Mr. Rickard, sports promoter, said last night he was not impressed with the prospect of such a bout this summer or fall.

"I will say right now that Dempsey will never get $100,000 from me for fighting Wills or anybody else," the promoter declared. "If he boxes for me he will get on a percentage and if he gets $200,000 he will be doing very well."

PROF. MENDELL REFUSES TO COMMENT ON YALE ATHLETICS

New Haven, June 16.—Professor Clarence W. Mendell, chairman of the Yale board of athletic control, was shown a copy of the report of the "voluntary committee on Yale athletics" tonight after which he gave out the following statement: "This report coming from a voluntary and unnamed committee calls for comment at this time from the authorities entrusted by the Yale corporation with the control of Yale athletics. The board of athletic control is the body to whom criticisms and advice should be directed and the board will always welcome such criticism and make use of everything constructive that comes to them in the proper way."
