

OUT OF HOUSE AND HOME

Most of the ill... have been caused by "nerves". When the mind is overworked...

When I would sit in the chair by the window, it seemed as though I would cry. The smell of food made me sick.

FREE TRIAL TO YOU... Mark your ailments. Remember we do not use our own medicine.

Goldline Remedies are sold in Norwich by Geo. G. Engler and Lee & Osgood...

RESIGNS AFTER MANY YEARS AS TEACHER... Miss Katie Willey who has taught successfully for forty years in the schools has resigned.

MOOSY TO HAVE FIVE AND DRUM FIELD DAY... The Eagle Club and Drum Corps of Mooson, Conn., is to hold its first annual parade...

Caveats on Franklin Square... A small, paved section of the vitrified brick pavement between trolley tracks in Franklin square...

Highway Commissioner Charles J. Bennett says that the work on the improvement of the highways in the state will be practically impossible to obtain materials.

The date of the big state athletic meet of the American Legion was changed from July 4 to July 15 at a monthly meeting...

The automobile telephone system by means of which a person making a call makes his own connection...

The sewing circle of which Mrs. Elsie Dombroski is a member was disbanded Thursday evening at her home in Preston.

Reserves Decision in Two Cases... Judge Charles E. Waller tried the case of George S. Gadhola against John Turley and Bernard Turley...

Chair Boys at Pleasant View... The choir boys of Christ Episcopal church, with the chorister, Ernest E. Ibbittson in charge...

The tightrope walker is all there when it comes to the straight and narrow path.

THE HOUSEHOLD... BULLETIN BUILDING 74 FRANKLIN STREET TELEPHONE 531-4

Glad to See You Appreciate Good Values — Those $1.97 LADIES' GINGHAM STREET DRESSES...

MR. AND MRS. GOOD CITIZEN... Are you interested in the Salvation Army? Do you want to help in its great task?

READ THE WAR CRY! Sincerely, Capt. & Mrs. Chas. Carpenter

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Holloway of Oak street are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Bailey in Groton.

Mr. and Mrs. James Austin and Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Dorey and son of McKinley avenue and Kenneth Hall of Union street left Sunday for a week's vacation at Oakland Beach.

Central Baptist outing deferred on account of uncertain weather. Notice has been given for a similar outing on Saturday night.

The annual outing of the Middlesex County Bar association was held Saturday at Higginum.

Christ church picnic, Tuesday, June 27, car leaves square 3.15, (at a 1.15) - adv. Judge Edward B. Bennett and Mrs. Bennett of Hartford are spending the summer at Watch Hill, R. I.

Wilson S. Dakin, agent of the state board of education, is securing this summer at the Ohio State University at Columbus.

Nine girl scouts of the Central Baptist church have completed the Red Cross course in home nursing and have received their diplomas.

The U. S. civil service commission announces an open competitive examination for junior accountants on July 19. Entrance examinations will be held at the following places:

Thames Rebekah Past No. 70 Grand Association will meet at Jewett City next Wednesday, where its members will be the guests of the lodge of that place.

Connecticut will have three delegates at the annual meeting of the American Association of Instructors for the Blind to be held at Austin, Texas, June 27 to 30.

Insurance Commissioner Burton Mansfield has authorized the Jewish National Relief to accept a fraternal benefit society, to do business in this state.

Mayor of Connecticut cities will meet Tuesday (Monday) at the home of L. S. Starr, president of the Connecticut Company, on general rotary matters.

Stary members of Groton grange gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Whitman in Pleasant Valley Friday and witnessed the variety race from a yacht.

Governor Lake has appointed Frank O. Smith of Hartford, and Francis H. Robbins of Waterbury, to appraise the Connecticut state prison property at Waterbury.

Misses Elizabeth Williams and Dolly Mitchell were the leaders at the B. Y. P. O. Central Baptist church, Sunday, evening, the topic was Making America Christian.

Frederick H. Gannett of South Norwich was elected state dictator of the Loyal Order of the Moose during its annual convention in Stamford. He succeeds George H. Raynor of New London.

Mrs. Sturtevant of Groton has held a party of friends on her yacht. Mrs. Sturtevant is spending the summer at Fisher's Island.

Concrete walks are being laid in the rough of Stoughton in places where they are needed for some time. The laying of a smooth walk makes it much safer for pedestrians.

Officials and employes in the internal revenue department, the federal prohibition department, and the department of the United States marshal at Hartford held an outing Saturday at Maumausgum, Conroy Beach.

T. Connell has had his newly purchased lot cleared of brush and grass preparatory to starting the foundation for a bungalow which will be pushed to completion for occupancy as soon as possible.

Acting upon special instruction from the commissioner of prohibition at Washington, federal dry law officers of Rhode Island are going to bring test cases against persons conducting a business for the sale of "home-brew" ingredients.

A call for a meeting July 20, of the democratic state central committee at Sevin Rock has been sent out by Secretary A. S. Lynch. Dates for primaries at state and other conventions will be set. The state convention will be about Sept. 19.

Stock and mutual insurance companies in the state will be exempt from tax under the new capital, stock tax law which will go into effect July 1. The insurance companies will, however, be taxed under a different section of the law.

Receipts of the state department of motor vehicles exclusive of the gasoline tax for the first four months of this year nearly doubled those of the corresponding period of last year, as disclosed by figures made public by Commissioner Stockwell.

Highway Commissioner Charles J. Bennett says that the work on the improvement of the highways in the state will be practically impossible to obtain materials.

The date of the big state athletic meet of the American Legion was changed from July 4 to July 15 at a monthly meeting of the department executive committee in New London Friday afternoon.

The automobile telephone system by means of which a person making a call makes his own connection...

The sewing circle of which Mrs. Elsie Dombroski is a member was disbanded Thursday evening at her home in Preston.

Reserves Decision in Two Cases... Judge Charles E. Waller tried the case of George S. Gadhola against John Turley and Bernard Turley...

Chair Boys at Pleasant View... The choir boys of Christ Episcopal church, with the chorister, Ernest E. Ibbittson in charge...

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL PUPILS GRADUATE

Commencement exercises for St. Patrick's parochial school, with a graduating class of 33, were held Sunday afternoon at 3.30 in the church where there was a large attendance.

The diplomas, which were tied in the class colors of red and white, were presented to the class by Rev. Fr. McManus, the pastor, who gave the graduates valuable words of advice in his brief but earnest talk.

The following was the programme: Processional, selected, Prof. Frank Farrell; Praise Ye the Lord, Gebel; graduation sermon, Rev. Fr. McManus; M. S. Hymn to the Sacred Heart, graduates; conferring of diplomas, Rev. Fr. McManus; act of consecration, Graduates; benediction of the blessed sacrament; recessional, selected, Prof. Frank Farrell.

The singing by the graduates was a part of the exercises which won much commendation. Their training for the graduation hymns has been under the direction of Prof. Farrell, who sang with notable harmony and melody.

The following were the members of the class: Bertha E. Deard, Nora Veronick, Katherine Moriarty, Annie Deirdre, Adelaide Crawford, Seymour Victor DeRusha, Wilfred Nelson Disco, Lawrence Dixon, Clara Mary Duhamel, John Joseph, Edward J. Gorman, Madeline Loretta Fitzgerald, Ruth Claire Furlong, Helen Rita Gorman, Stella Aronson, Cecilia Moran, James Cyril O'Neil, James Ann Moran, William Patrick Shannon, Norma Deane Shea, John Daniel Sullivan, Katherine Patricia Sullivan, Louise Anna Scalfhauser, Rudolph Anthony Tobin, Corneilia Ellen Tobin, Catherine Rita Twomey, Joseph Francis Trinch, Michael Raymond Joseph Woods.

Awards for scholarship, which were the gift of Rev. Fr. McManus, were awarded to Ruth Claire Furlong.

The prize for United States history, the gift of Rev. Fr. McManus, was awarded to Ruth Claire Furlong.

The class officers were the following: President, Madeline L. Fitzgerald; vice president, William F. Shannon; secretary, Veronica A. Hagerty; treasurer, Mary M. Pilburn; and the class patroness, Our Lady of Good Counsel.

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL PUPILS GRADUATE

Commencement exercises for St. Patrick's parochial school, with a graduating class of 33, were held Sunday afternoon at 3.30 in the church where there was a large attendance.

The diplomas, which were tied in the class colors of red and white, were presented to the class by Rev. Fr. McManus, the pastor, who gave the graduates valuable words of advice in his brief but earnest talk.

The following was the programme: Processional, selected, Prof. Frank Farrell; Praise Ye the Lord, Gebel; graduation sermon, Rev. Fr. McManus; M. S. Hymn to the Sacred Heart, graduates; conferring of diplomas, Rev. Fr. McManus; act of consecration, Graduates; benediction of the blessed sacrament; recessional, selected, Prof. Frank Farrell.

The singing by the graduates was a part of the exercises which won much commendation. Their training for the graduation hymns has been under the direction of Prof. Farrell, who sang with notable harmony and melody.

The following were the members of the class: Bertha E. Deard, Nora Veronick, Katherine Moriarty, Annie Deirdre, Adelaide Crawford, Seymour Victor DeRusha, Wilfred Nelson Disco, Lawrence Dixon, Clara Mary Duhamel, John Joseph, Edward J. Gorman, Madeline Loretta Fitzgerald, Ruth Claire Furlong, Helen Rita Gorman, Stella Aronson, Cecilia Moran, James Cyril O'Neil, James Ann Moran, William Patrick Shannon, Norma Deane Shea, John Daniel Sullivan, Katherine Patricia Sullivan, Louise Anna Scalfhauser, Rudolph Anthony Tobin, Corneilia Ellen Tobin, Catherine Rita Twomey, Joseph Francis Trinch, Michael Raymond Joseph Woods.

Awards for scholarship, which were the gift of Rev. Fr. McManus, were awarded to Ruth Claire Furlong.

The prize for United States history, the gift of Rev. Fr. McManus, was awarded to Ruth Claire Furlong.

The class officers were the following: President, Madeline L. Fitzgerald; vice president, William F. Shannon; secretary, Veronica A. Hagerty; treasurer, Mary M. Pilburn; and the class patroness, Our Lady of Good Counsel.

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL PUPILS GRADUATE

Commencement exercises for St. Patrick's parochial school, with a graduating class of 33, were held Sunday afternoon at 3.30 in the church where there was a large attendance.

The diplomas, which were tied in the class colors of red and white, were presented to the class by Rev. Fr. McManus, the pastor, who gave the graduates valuable words of advice in his brief but earnest talk.

The following was the programme: Processional, selected, Prof. Frank Farrell; Praise Ye the Lord, Gebel; graduation sermon, Rev. Fr. McManus; M. S. Hymn to the Sacred Heart, graduates; conferring of diplomas, Rev. Fr. McManus; act of consecration, Graduates; benediction of the blessed sacrament; recessional, selected, Prof. Frank Farrell.

The singing by the graduates was a part of the exercises which won much commendation. Their training for the graduation hymns has been under the direction of Prof. Farrell, who sang with notable harmony and melody.

The following were the members of the class: Bertha E. Deard, Nora Veronick, Katherine Moriarty, Annie Deirdre, Adelaide Crawford, Seymour Victor DeRusha, Wilfred Nelson Disco, Lawrence Dixon, Clara Mary Duhamel, John Joseph, Edward J. Gorman, Madeline Loretta Fitzgerald, Ruth Claire Furlong, Helen Rita Gorman, Stella Aronson, Cecilia Moran, James Cyril O'Neil, James Ann Moran, William Patrick Shannon, Norma Deane Shea, John Daniel Sullivan, Katherine Patricia Sullivan, Louise Anna Scalfhauser, Rudolph Anthony Tobin, Corneilia Ellen Tobin, Catherine Rita Twomey, Joseph Francis Trinch, Michael Raymond Joseph Woods.

Awards for scholarship, which were the gift of Rev. Fr. McManus, were awarded to Ruth Claire Furlong.

The prize for United States history, the gift of Rev. Fr. McManus, was awarded to Ruth Claire Furlong.

The class officers were the following: President, Madeline L. Fitzgerald; vice president, William F. Shannon; secretary, Veronica A. Hagerty; treasurer, Mary M. Pilburn; and the class patroness, Our Lady of Good Counsel.

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

The class motto was Ad Majorum Dignitatem (To the greater honor and glory of God).

OBITUARY

Dr. John S. Blackmar, prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Dr. Blackmar was born in Norwich in 1874 the son of George F. Blackmar, who lost his life in the trenches of 1870, and Harriet Stanton Blackmar, daughter of Rev. E. Stanton, a former pastor for many years of the Greenfield Congregational church. Dr. Blackmar was a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city. In the Spanish American war he was assistant surgeon and later practiced his profession for two of our half years in the Harlem hospital, New York city, and was a member of the

Dr. Blackmar was prominent in medical circles of this city, died early Saturday afternoon at his home, 24 Oneco street, after an illness of several months. Death was caused by a general prostration.

Special Meeting TONIGHT

Fletcher Post,