OBITUARY

Thomas E. Burke.

(Continued.) Following an illness of many months, Thomas E. Burke died Friday morning at his home at 18 East Baltic street. Mr. Burke was a native of Hartford and came to this city several years ago to take charge of the local territory of the International Correspondence School, with headquarters in the Central building.

During the World War Mr. Burke served in the army as instructor on air brackets in the position for which he was well qualified.

On May 21, 1920, he was married to Miss Clara M. Thiel by the late Rev. John H. Broderick. He leaves his wife, who died in 1918, and Mrs. Arthur Mitchell of New Hartford.

He bore an excellent character, was jovial and proved to be an interesting conversationalist. He was a member of the Loyal Order of Moose, Norwich Lodge, No. 350.

Mr. Burke possessed an excellent tenor voice and sang in the choir at St. Peter's church, Hartford, of which parish he was formerly a member. He was also a gifted musician. The stricken household has the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

The Norwich Branch of the Department of the Daughters of Veterans, Department of the G. A. R., Division Commander Stephen of the Sons of Veterans, and the department president of the Ladies of the G. A. R. The program included violin solos, readings, vocal solos and to dancing.

For the special feature in the entertainment by Clara Barton tent of this city Miss Harriet Syleman, daughter of Mrs. Newbury, president of the tent, beautifully interpreted two soprano selections. There's A Merry Brown Turbul, by Buck and Four Leaf Clover, by Brownell. Miss Newbury is a pupil of C. D. Geer of this city and for her age has a beautifully developed voice.

Following the entertainment the soldiers at the home were presented cigars, candy, oranges and other eatables by the visiting G. A. R. members and Daughters of Veterans. The visitors were thanked for their entertainment of the old soldiers and the superintendent of the home and the officers of the tent.

BATTERY B WILL START FOR CAMP THIS AFTERNOON Orders were received here Friday by the officers of Battery B and the Combat train that changed the time of their leaving for Camp Detrick (Saturday) from morning to afternoon.

The orders are that the Norwich field artillery company and combat train are to leave here at 4:45 p. m., standard time, by rail for the New Haven station. The Danielson company will come to Norwich by truck in order to take the train here with the Norwich men. The Danielson truck will remain at the Norwich armory until the men return from camp.

The baggage detail has been ordered to report at the armory at 9 o'clock this morning. It was to have reported Friday afternoon in anticipation that the battery would leave Norwich Saturday morning.

The men have been ordered to report at the armory at 12:30 p. m., standard time.

There will be 133 enlisted men and seven officers to go to camp in the Norwich company and 43 men and three officers in the Detrick company. Thirty-two men of this company have already left for camp on camp detail.

It is expected the trip to the Virginia camp will take from 20 to 25 hours. At New London the troops will change from the local train to a through train that will take them the whole route to camp for their 15 days' tour of duty.

BAR ASSOCIATION PAYS TRIBUTE TO FANNING FOR REPORTED MEMBERS

Eulogies upon four deceased members of the Norwich county bar were pronounced in the superior court here Friday morning before Judge James H. Webb. There were quite a number of the attorneys of the county present and it was quite a touching affair.

Judge Gardner Greene had a chair beside Judge Webb and President William H. Shields of the County Bar Association presided. The report of the committee consisting of Messrs. Douglas, Judge N. J. Ayling, P. L. McGuire, John C. Geary and Arthur M. Brown.

Joseph T. Fanning. Attorney Arthur M. Brown read the resolutions which had been prepared by the committee consisting of Messrs. Douglas, Judge N. J. Ayling, P. L. McGuire, John C. Geary and Arthur M. Brown.

Tribute by R. M. Douglas. Attorney Roderick M. Douglas delivered the tribute to Joseph T. Fanning, speaking in part as follows:

Again we called upon to publicly pay a tribute of respect to the memory of a deceased brother in our profession, the late Joseph Thomas Fanning, who has been called upon to suffer the loss of his brethren of this bar, and who during all those years was ever true and faithful in all his associations with his fellow members of the profession.

It is our duty to give him the respect and honor of the state, and especially to his brother lawyers of this county who knew him longest and best.

For the moment we cease from our usual daily vocations and concentrate our thoughts upon the memory of our brother who has gone. Memory brings him back to us. We see him in his neat attire, his dignified carriage, his ready and cheerful manner, his intellectual faculty, his kind and generous heart, his whole-souled and sincere greeting, his kindness and his perfect observance of the rules of propriety in all his relations and intercourse with his fellow members of the profession.

It is our duty to give him the respect and honor of the state, and especially to his brother lawyers of this county who knew him longest and best.
