JOHN POTTER BEFORE COMMISSIONER
ON WARRANT SERVED BY FEDERAL MEN

John Potter of Jewett City was presented before U. S. Commissioner Earl Mathewson at the commissioner's office in this city Thursday afternoon on a federal warrant charging illegal possession and sale of liquor, which in this case is cider.
The hearing was continued for two weeks to Aug. 10 at the request of Thomas M. Shields, counsel for Mr. Potter, who gave bonds for his appearance.
The federal warrant which was served on Mr. Potter was drawn by Assistant U. S. District Attorney J. A. Danforth and was in the hands of Deputy U. S. Marshal Wheeler, who brought Mr. Potter to this city.
At the same time Federal Prohibition Officer Martin Briggs attached and took into possession the 129 barrels which caused Mr. Potter's arrest about two weeks ago. It had not been removed from the town hall since the court trial.

GOVERNOR WILL VISIT
THE CAMP AT MANTIC

Camp Lake, the state camp at Mantic, where the One Hundred and Sixty-Ninth Infantry is having 15 days' field training, is being made ready for Governor's day today (Friday) when Governor Ladd and his family will visit the camp.
The men were busy Thursday cleaning equipment and drilling to perfect themselves for the exhibitions and review by the governor and other state and army officials.
Major Frank C. Mahin, senior infantry instructor, arrived at camp Wednesday from Camp Cole, East Haver, where he had been visiting target practice by machine gun companies and by units of the Third battalion. He was particularly interested there in the work of the three machine gun companies of the 169th Infantry, supervised by Capt. Harry Curry, United States army, instructor for these companies. Captain Lewis L. Field of D Company is acting as regimental machine gun officer. The companies laid down a machine gun barrage of indirect fire type and on the 169th machine gun system.
Major Mahin also inspected the rifle fire work, giving special attention to scores of target practice. The full regimental band of 48 pieces played.
Interest was on the eve over the night maneuvers for Thursday. The companies participating each acted as advance guard of an imaginary battalion. They were A, B, C, E, F, and G companies. The First Battalion and Second Battalion Headquarters companies also had part in the exercises. The men moved from camp in light marching order. One force marched at 5:30 and another at 7 o'clock. The men returned to camp about 11 or 12 o'clock.

STATE BAR ASSOCIATION HELD MIDSUMMER LUNCHEON

Connecticut State Bar association held its midsummer luncheon at the Geiss hotel at Eastern Point Thursday with a large attendance of members of the bar from all over the state. The luncheon was served in the grill at 1:45 and the menu was elaborate and appetizing.
William R. Boardman of Bridgeport, president of the association, presided and among the distinguished members of the bar present were senior Court Judges James H. Webb of New Haven, George E. Hinman of Willimantic, and John H. Deane of Bridgeport, and Congressman Richard P. Freeman of New London.
The luncheon was followed by an informal social time, there being no set program of speaking or entertainment.
For burial in Waterbury
The body of Charles A. Gardner of Waterbury who died in this city Thursday morning was taken in charge by the Hourigan Brothers and shipped on an afternoon train to Waterbury.
Mr. Gardner leaves several relatives, including his wife, Mrs. Roger Grenier of Pawtucket, R. I., before returning to her home in New York city.
A benefit performance for the Fire Company, No. 2, was played in the Hillside theatre Thursday afternoon and evening. The proceeds are to be used to help defray expenses of the addition being made to the fire house.
Miss Jennie McShaffrey has returned to her home on South A street after a ten days' vacation spent at Block Island, R. I.
Mr. and Mrs. Goody of New Bedford, Mass., are occupying their newly purchased home on Merchants avenue.
The twelfth game played on Wednesday evening between the T. A. A. and the "Wit-Bee" was won by the T.

WILLIMANTIC THREAD MILL
PROVIDES FOR GIRL EMPLOYEES

The American Thread company of Willimantic provides excellent living quarters for the girl employees of their plant. The Elms, as the girls' home is known, is located at 247 Main street, within three minutes' walk of all mill gates. Surrounded by spacious lawn and large shade trees, the Elms is ideally located for the girls, who are employed at these mills. The rooms are all outside rooms, steam heated, with electric lights and bath rooms on each floor. There is also a large, well-lighted dining room with a seating capacity of sixty persons, where excellent meals are served at a minimum cost. The food is prepared by efficient cooks in a large airy kitchen, containing the most up-to-date sanitary equipment. A large truck garden operated by the company supplies the Elms table with a variety of fresh vegetables each day. Two nicely furnished recreation rooms containing piano and phonograph are provided for the girls, where they may entertain their gentlemen friends. In addition to this, a large sewing room with sewing machine is available for those who care to take advantage of this. One of the most attractive features during the summer months is the large, wide porch extending around the entire front of the building, with its easy piazza chairs and pretty window boxes. All girls have full use without charge of the laundry which has been provided for their convenience.
An experienced matron and dietitian who is interested in the girls' welfare, through Willimantic stop for a short time to inspect the Elms and also recreation park, the employees' gardens and other activities carried on by the company for its employees.

STARTING ENGINE REPAIRS
AT GROTON IRON WORKS

Edward E. Regan of the New Haven road, asked Thursday, concerning the "case of the Groton Iron Works, said that the road proposed to give a large amount of work on rolling stock of the railroad.
He said that the locomotives will be sent to Groton just as soon as Mr. Wragge gets his forces organized and ready to take care of the work. Mr. Regan said that this is an opportunity for the New London chamber of commerce to get busy and back up Mr. Wragge's enterprise and see that he has co-operation in every way, for if the thing works out as planned, there is no reason why his forces organized and ready to take care of the work. SEARCHES FOR GAS LEAK
WITH MATCH, USUAL RESULT

The fire department was called out Thursday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock for a blaze in the pocket pool room, No. 14, Thames street, operated by Aristoteles Sederopolous. The fire was soon out and practically no damage resulted. The building is owned by David and Charles Gordon.
According to Sederopolous there had been a smell of gas about his poolroom and he had called in aid to find the leak, without result, so he searched for the cause of the smell, using a match and as after events proved, he found it near the gas meter.

The jurymen were drawn from the list of jurors which was made up by the jury commissioners recently.

CONNECTICUT EDITORS TO HOLD SUMMER MEETING

The summer meeting of the Connecticut Editorial Association will be held at Storrs, July 29-30, at which members of association, their wives and guests will be the guests of the board of directors of the Connecticut Agricultural college.
Already the indications are that this meeting will exceed all others in numbers attending, and President Beach and his co-workers at the college are preparing for at least 100. One feature of the meeting will be the serving by the college at 12:30, (standard time) on the 29th, a dinner prepared entirely of Connecticut-grown products.
There is also to be an exhibit of the weekly newspapers of Connecticut, which will be judged by Prof. M. V. Atwood of Cornell University and publisher of the Groton, N. Y., Journal-Courier.
