REV. ROCCO J. GUERRIERO PREACHES ON SIGN OF CROSS The parable of the Pharisee and the Publican was the gospel of the Sunday read in the Masses throughout the Catholic world yesterday, the tenth Sunday after Pentecost, the Scripture passage being Luke 18: 9-14. The Epistle was I Corinthians 12: 2-11. Preaching at the 10:30 mass in St. Patrick's church, Rev. Rocco J. Guerrero considered the Sign of the Cross, a mark and badge of the Christian, testifying to his belief in the Trinity. The Saviour referred to this sign and St. Paul cries out "in what shall I glory save in the cross of Christ?"

From the earliest ages, the Catholic church has made use of this sign, which gave the martyrs their fortitude, which Holy Church uses to open to her services and ceremonies, and which should be the first knowledge imparted by every Catholic mother to her child reaching the age of reason—the sign which should be made by every man, woman and the last on retiring. Tertullian, who lived shortly after the time of Christ, narrates the constancy with which this symbolical sign was used by the early Christians, and the significance which they attached to it.

Briefly the preacher summed up the reasons for the reverent making of this sign by Catholics, who realize that in life it is their passport to heaven, and that death comes to them they will sleep in Christ and rise again in Him, through this sign which they make with such reverence and such firmly founded faith.

WOMAN KILLED WHEN HURLED FROM MOTORCYCLE (Special to the Bulletin) Danieison, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Marjorie Upham, 19, wife of Joseph E. Upham of Goddard died within 20 minutes after she had been hurled to the state highway from a motorcycle on which she was riding with her husband about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, between Dayville and Hartford. Mrs. Upham suffered a fracture of the skull and although Dr. J. M. Perreault responded very promptly to a call for a physician he was unable to do anything for Mrs. Upham who died in a nearby house to which she had been carried.

Coroner Arthur G. Hill went to the place where the accident occurred and gave permission for the removal of the body to Danieison in charge of Undertaker L. E. Kennedy. The accident happened when Mrs. Upham attempted to pass a car which was going in the same direction that her motorcycle was traveling. As he pulled up abreast of the car the driver pulled out to pass still another automobile also going in the same direction. This forced Mrs. Upham to swerve into the grass beside the highway and officials there investigated the accident say they understand that Upham deliberately tipped over the motorcycle to escape running into a ditch that was just ahead of him. Upham was practically uninjured in the accident. Coroner Hill said he would hold an inquest today.

FISH AND GAME ASSOCIATION HOLDS THIRD ANNUAL OUTING

Over 150 people attended the third annual outing of the Norwich Fish and Game Association held Sunday at Gardner Lake.

Members of the association arrived at the lake at an early hour in the morning and were soon trying to land the big catch and win the silver loving cup offered to the fisherman who brought in the largest fish.

Those who did not go fishing remained at the grove and enjoyed themselves until the call for chowder came about 1 o'clock.

Evidently the smell of the cooking chowder spread out across the lake for about this time after about of hungry men came in shore, some boats bringing in other fish, "fisherman's luck." John Irish had two that went a pound and a quarter and that time it looked as though he would land the cup. Other men came in with fish and soon the big catch weighed a pound and ten ounces. The record catch for the day, however, came in late in the afternoon, Perlin Calkins having landed a catfish that went three and a quarter pounds.

The chowder was served to about a hundred and fifty and was followed by sandwiches, watermelon, bottled soda and other refreshments. The picnic was an excellent one and the manner in which the crowd made the chowder disappear testified to that fact.

One of the hard luck stories of the day came in the form of a motorboat which was being towed by a fisherman, "Doe" who is a great fisherman, when asked about his luck, pulled the usual does about almost landing a big one. Oh, it would go nearly ten pounds at least.

In the afternoon the contests were run off and were watched by the crowd with interest. A number of fishermen contested in each event and the scores were close in several of the events.

In the bait casting contest one man threw so high he landed in a tree near the lake by his fast motorboat. The woods instead of the water that the scorers failed to locate his distance. The first prize without a doubt when the boat was in the crowd when Leo LaPage, fifth floor of the city, threw an average of 104.4 feet and won two spoils of line. Gordon Bidwell, a two hand artist, did the line out five times for an average of 91 feet and took second prize. Stephen Minnow, who was a close third, his five casts averaging 87.7 feet and winning for him a wooden minnow.

In the contest for accuracy Len LaFane with his eagle eye and nimble thumb was given a close battle by George Dolbear, an old time fisherman, who fishes all through the state law gives him possession of the fish. LaFane landed his fish on a rick mark, set a fifty feet on every cast, his nearest cast missing the plate by only a foot. For his accuracy he won first prize, an aluminum bait box. His average for accuracy in five casts was 1.7 feet. George Dolbear, who came within 6 inches of the mark in one cast took second prize, a wooden minnow, with his five casts averaging 1.5 inches. Lewis Oat again took third prize, a spinner, with his average of 2.5 feet.

Following the bait casting contests the fishermen were given a treat by William H. Hayes of Canterbury, a veteran fisherman and rod manufacturer. Using a fly Mr. Hayes waded the waters of the lake and made several casts of trout, one of them going a trifling distance. Mr. Hayes received applause for his exhibition work and had the wind been favorable he would have been able to send the fly better than 100 feet from the casting point.

The casting of flies for members of the association came next. George Dolbear sending the line out nearly seventy feet for his longest cast, and had an average of 51.5 feet for the longest five casts in five minutes of casting. His prize was a fly holder and a dozen flies. Ned Hall with an average of 42.5 took second prize, a fish scale, and Archibald Mitchell, Jr., with his average of 36.5 feet took third prize, a trolling fly.

In fly casting for accuracy George Dolbear again won first prize, his five casts averaging an average of 2.1 feet and first prize of 25 yards of line. Second prize, a half dozen flies, went to Ned Hall, whose average was 4 feet. Archibald Mitchell with 4.5 feet took third prize a dozen leaders.

One of Norwich's oldest fishermen demonstrated that age does not tend to spoil accuracy. Archibald Mitchell, Sr., dropping the fly in and around the mark for an average of 1.5 feet. Mr. Mitchell demonstrated his ability to handle the rod, and had he been one of the contestants he would have taken the prize easily.

One entertainment feature not included on the program took place during the afternoon when A. C. Brown hopped on to an aquaplane and was towed about the lake by his fast motorboat. The crowd speculated on his chances of keeping his footing on the plane and when it came to corners the crowd was right. Brown usually, to use a fisherman's term, "let the water take care of itself." Charlie Parsons proved his ability as a bareback rider much to the delight of the crowd, but disappointed because he failed to fall off his rickety perch into the water.

The outing, which was a success, was ably arranged for by a general committee consisting of the officers of the association. The contests were arranged by George Dolbear and Archibald Mitchell, Jr. The eats were in charge of Joseph Oat and Lewis Young. The prizes were given by the committee. The contests were held at Gardner Lake, which is owned by the Fish and Game Association.

HOMOBILE MEN ENJOY OUTING AT LAKE Humpmobile men from many cities of the state attended their annual outing at the cottage of C. V. Pendleton at Gardner Lake Sunday, the outing being given by the L. & H. Motor company of Hartford for their dealers and the salesmen and mechanics of the dealers.

The automobile caravan began to arrive at the lake shortly before noon and soon the sports of the day were in progress. An early morning sport was motor boating, in which a baseball game, quoits, rowing and other games, after which a hearty appetite had been built up and every man was ready for the call for dinner.

The dinner consisted of steamed clams, broiled lobster, green corn, potatoes, onions, bread and butter, watermelon, ginger ale, cigars and cigarettes.

This party broke up about 8 o'clock and the motor cars left for their homes. In having enjoyed one of the best outings in the history of the association.

COMBAT TRAIN OUTING AT BRIGHTON POINT

About forty members of Combat Train, 92nd Artillery and officers of Battery B, enjoyed an outing Sunday at Barnes' Point, Brighton Point, R. I.

leaving this city in the morning in the two army trucks and arriving at the shore via the Westerly pike at about 11 o'clock.

Numerous games were entered into by the call for chowder at noon when all pitched in and filled up.

In the afternoon the sports program was run off beginning with a baseball game between two picked teams of both sides which had sluggers in their ranks, causing Lieutenant Haselden to call out a skirmish line several times to search the outfielders for lost balls.

Hits to the outfield were the only ones that caused trouble, four balls gave Lieutenant Ives and his men plenty of work to do around the backstop.

However, the game was finally over, and Private Pelouquin's warriors won by the close score of 13 to 10. The feature of the game according to the men was Shannon's diving slides into the base, which did everything to him but spoil his uniform. The boat shunting contest was a thrilling event and was won after a hard tussle by Private Shannon and Corporal Kravansh, the prize being an Ingersoll watch in the tug-of-war the two husky teams pulled, and grunted, and the team composed of Burdick, Rowe and Anilowski won and split the prize, a carton of cigarettes. In the shuttle put, A. Burdick, with a heave of 33.87 feet won over a big field and took the prize, a fountain pen. The 100 dash was won by Private ottschick, and for showing such cut-throat speed he was given a safety razor. In the potato race Gotschick again won out for his speed and was given a knife. The French wrestling fall entered into by all present and finally simmered down to three contestants. Arthur Private Zubowski and Private Gillis. Burdick proved to be the best "Frenchman" of the three and won a gold pencil.

The boys then went to Watch Hill for swimming and an appetizing bake. The menu of the bake was as follows: Clam Chowder Crackers Roast Chicken
