

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN Willimantic Office 21 Church Street Telephone 1002

In police court Thursday morning, the charges continued of Dr. Durt K. Dow of this city charged with non-support of his wife, Blanche L. Dow was brought up and was again continued to two o'clock in the afternoon to give the defendant time to get his attorney to come here from New London.

At the afternoon session of court, Dr. Dow entered a demurrer which was overruled. No evidence was offered. Mrs. Dow said that up to three months ago she had received $10 a week from her husband but nothing since. The court asked her if $10 a week or $10 a week and house rent would suffice and she said that it would. Mrs. Dow then further asked for the back payments for the three months when she did not receive any but she was refused.

Dr. Dow gave a notice of appeal to the superior court, after he had been ordered to pay his wife $10 a week for his three months. Bonds of $100 were fixed and returned by John G. Trasey.

A small boy was slightly injured and a Ford coupe was badly damaged about noon Thursday when the Ford car and a Buick touring car were traveling east on Valley street. At the junction of the streets the Buick plowed into one side of the Ford and pushed it over on its side, in front of the Congregational church. The rear wheels of the Ford were broken and the fenders were badly bent. The Buick received dents in its front fenders. As the coupe was pushed on the sidewalk it struck Arthur Cloutman, seven, of No. 436 Valley street, who was on his way home from school. When the accident happened the boy became confused and was struck in an attempt to get out of the way. Outside of a bruise he has no injuries.

Final preparations were made Thursday for the holding of the New England States Fire and Drilling championship at the Hotel Hamilton, New London, Conn. The championship will be held at the hotel on Saturday. It is expected that Willimantic will be lively during the day. So far twenty-five corps have registered to appear here. The judges of the contests will be Major William E. Martin, of Hobboken, N. J.; Michael J. O'Brien of Hobboken, N. J.; Dempsey of Bridgeport and Lieutenant Jeremiah McCarthy of this city. James Guilford will be in charge of the parade.

Napoleon Tetreault died at his home, 2 West Park street, Wednesday night from gastritis. He was born in St. Eustache, April 30, 1850, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Messier Tetreault and had lived here for twenty-seven years. He was a shoemaker by trade. Mr. Tetreault was highly respected and leaves many friends. He was a devout member of St. Mary's church and of the Sacred Heart Society of the city and of St. Jean Baptiste society of Spencer, Mass. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Malvina Dionne of this city and Mrs. Adeline Tetreault, Spencer, Mass.; three sons, Napoleon Tetreault, Jr., of Spencer, and Alford Tetreault of Lonsdale, Mass., and Louis Tetreault of this city. He was buried at St. Theophile's church at Willimantic.

Folk are wondering if it was the brass buttons and the shiny badge in the uniform of Inspector F. T. Caron which confused a Windham woman on Thursday afternoon. In doing so she took up the whole of Main street and succeeded in knocking down a fire alarm box on the south side of the street. The standard was torn from its fastenings and the casing broken, causing the fire alarm to ring. She was told that she would have to try again for her license but she turned the other that she had had enough of driving.

The Twenty-ninth district republican senatorial convention for the purpose of nomination a candidate for state senator will be held at the town hall in this city Saturday. A senatorial committee also has been chosen. The present committee comprises Charles O. Thompson of Pomfret, and A. Lin Weatherhead of this city. So far there is but one candidate, John Ash, of Pomfret.

The public meeting of Willimantic Camp No. 8, Woodmen of the World, will be held this (Friday) evening, beginning at 7 o'clock in Central Labor Union hall. Colonel R. F. Clark of New Haven will be the speaker, his topic being "Perfection Woodcraft." The committee in charge comprises Ernest Sallis, chairman, Carl Johnson and Stanley Healey.

The call for the senatorial district convention for the purpose of nomination a candidate for state senator has been issued by Valentine M. Murphy, a member of the democratic state central committee from the Twentieth district. The convention will be held at the town hall in this city Saturday, Oct. 7. But one candidate has been mentioned so far, Charles N. Williams, of Plainfield.

Best Memento. Mrs. F. T. Reid, who has been the guest of the families of Robert H. Fenton and Mrs. Charles Fen-ton, sustained a broken shoulder recently, when she tripped and fell in the latter home. Mrs. Reid left Thursday for her home in New Rochelle.

Everett J. Sturges, formerly bank commissioner, now of New York, was a local visitor Thursday.

Miss Eva Dion has returned home after visit with friends in New Haven and Holyoke, Mass.

Charles Wingersman, formerly of this city, now of the Hartford police force, was a local visitor Thursday.

Mrs. Helen Ross Cummings has as her guest for the week Mrs. George M. Both of Chester, Pa.

John King, son of Attorney William A. King, left Thursday to resume his studies at Yale university.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Pendera will leave for Ocala, Florida, where they will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Remington are entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Alfred J. Miller, of South Amboy, N. J.

Dr. and Mrs. Chester M. Scripture have returned from an automobile trip to New Rochelle, Mrs. Lella Mason who went with them, remaining in their daughter, Mrs. Frederic Richardson, for several weeks' visit.

MONTVILLE

The two hundredth anniversary of the Montville Center Congregational church will be celebrated at the church Sunday, Oct. 1, at 10 o'clock a. m. there will be a historical address by Rev. Sherard Soule, state superintendent. At noon the people are asked to bring basket lunch, and the church will serve coffee.

The afternoon service will begin at 2 o'clock with greetings from the pastors of the different churches in the town and others who have served the church in former days followed by addresses by County Moderator Rev. Alexander H. Abbott, State Moderator George S. Palmer, also by Rev. William S. Board of the National Home Missionary society, Rev. J. Romney Danforth from the mother church in New London will also give addresses.

The meeting of the Montville District Nurse association will be held at Palmer Memorial hall in Palmertown tonight (Friday).

The open air song service being held each Sunday evening on the lawn in front of the Union Baptist church is being enjoyed not only by the members of the church but by the residents of the village some distance from the church.

Mrs. Ambrose Sullivan and Mrs. Hubert Dart attended the republican county convention at Norwich Saturday as delegates from this town.

The Unassville Choral club plans to give a free concert at the Community house in Oakdale on the evening of October 1st.

The Missionary society of the Union Baptist church is to meet at 8 o'clock at Mrs. Thomas Church this (Friday) afternoon at 3 o'clock.

If you will cut out this advertisement and mail it to The Plant-Cadden Company, Norwich, Conn., together with your address you will receive a Book of Old Fashioned Songs free—adv.

Mrs. Kellough and Miss Margaret Fingert entertained their Sunday school classes of the Unassville M. E. church with a picnic at Browning's Beach, Saturday. Refreshments and lunch were served and sandwiches were served on the beach.

Miss Curtis Simpson motored to Boston Saturday.

Earl LaFramme and family have moved into one of the Palmer tenements.

Mrs. Myra Watt and son, Harry, and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hope were recent visitors in Ansonia.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dart of Unassville spent the week end at Mason's in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Browning of Norwich and Mrs. Tourlet of Worcester, Mass. were callers on friends in Oakdale Sunday.

Rev. John H. Stearns and wife were callers in Norwich Monday.

Mrs. Lillian Comstock of Norwich Town is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edmund Rogers of Montville Center.

Mrs. G. A. Sharp and three children and Mr. Thomas Hyland and son visited relatives in Oakdale Sunday.

Miss Charles Parker of Delbeare Hill was a recent guest of Mrs. E. A. Henkle of New London.

Mrs. P. Coffey and son, of Norwich, and Mrs. Coffey and son, of Norwich, spent several days with Mrs. Thomas Church.

Miss Julia Douglas of Montville Center is improving after a recent illness.

The Wednesday evening chorus which meets at the parsonage was omitted this week.

YANTIC

The coon-hunting season has begun and the excited sportsmen have been out trying out their dogs.

The few Jewish visitors who were in town over the holidays, have left for New York.

John Frost visited town long enough early Tuesday morning to give all the impressions of his call. Floral fasci- cles were among those presented and they heavily were minus them at sub-up. Already some of the leaves on the trees are turning.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bailey and daughter were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Betram Bailey, of Waterbury.

If you will cut out this advertisement and mail it to The Plant-Cadden Company, Norwich, Conn., together with your address, you will receive a Book of Old Fashioned Songs free—adv.

Mrs. George Manning spent a day recently with relatives in New London.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Lane of Stafford Springs were recent guests of Mrs. Lane's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Potter, Mrs. Lane returning to Stafford Springs Sunday night and Mr. Lane going to New York on a business trip.

Mrs. Edwin Northrup and Mrs. Potter of Stonington spent Tuesday with Mrs. Northrup's sister, Mrs. John Kilroy.

Mrs. Elias Stockert and her guest, Mrs. Edith Stockert, of Stonington spent Tuesday in Franklin, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kinney.

Louis Pendleton, a student at Worcester Polytechnic institute, was a guest Sunday of his great-aunt, Mrs. Thomas Lillibridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bates, of Waterbury were guests Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pendleton.

PLAINFIELD

A very pleasant event was the recent welcome home reception given in the Community House to Rev. R. P. Morrissey on his return from European trip. The hall was filled with members of John's parish, representative citizens and guests from out of town. An interesting program was carried out as follows:

Children's day drill and singing, in the direction of Miss Margaret Sullivan and Miss Marion Lee; presentation address by the chairman, Rev. J. J. Tyler; Father Morrissey's address, presented by Miss Imelda Vincent. Seated on the stage with Rev. Father Morrissey were Samuel Butterworth, Charles Heap and the following clergymen, Rev. William C. Normand, Moseup, pastor of the church which closed the evening was furnished by Drimel's orchestra of Jewett City. A farewell address and presentation of a token of the appreciation of the people of St. John's parish for the able ministry of Father Morrissey was made by John Leary. The K. of C. entertained the guests at luncheon in the parlors of the

WAUREGAN

James Arthur Atwood, Jr., who died at the home of his father here on Wednesday about 12:30 p. m., had been ill for some months and was lately removed to the hospital at New York, where he had gone from Providence for treatment. Mr. Atwood was born here, received his first years of his education at the public school, then at Yale university, from which he was graduated a few years ago. He took up the mill business with his father, getting the practical end at Posenaw hills, Tataville and Wauregan. He became so efficient that he was soon made assistant treasurer of Quebeaug, Wauregan and Tataville mills, which position he held at his death. He was also vice-president of these concerns.

Like his father, though busy most of the time, he spent a few moments when occasion demanded, to assist in promoting anything which would be a benefit to the people employed. He was an active lover of all sports, and played on the local baseball team and those who were on the team testify to the kind of a ball player he was, one of the best in the state. He was deeply mourned by the loss of Mr. Atwood, as his wife and two children, his father, J. A. Atwood, and Miss Dorothy, his sister.

Leo Farland is at the Day Kimball hospital Putnam, with a compound fracture of the leg as a result of being struck by an automobile Sunday evening while riding on his motorcycle. On the rear seat of the motorcycle was Earl Mott who received injuries to his foot which caused him to receive treatment at the same hospital. While riding along at a speed which witnesses say was between 40 and 35 miles per hour, a machine operated by A. A. Babcock, of Jewett City, darted from an approaching machine which was ahead of him, and did not see the boys in time to prevent a collision, although the boys did all they could to prevent it. Leo Farland seeing the machine make a sharp turn, off the rear and applied the brake, steering for the bank,

Fairbanks Morse "Z" Engine High Tension Magneto Throttling Governor

Greatest Farm Engine In the World

The farmer who thinks he cannot afford an engine is in reality losing money by doing without one. Just figure it out for yourself. If you use up one hour a day pumping water, turning the cream separator and doing similar jobs that a "Z" can do for you, just that much time is lost which could be more profitably spent on other work.

The Jordan Hardware Co. will gladly talk over your engine needs with you. They know what others are doing and can help you decide just the size of "Z" engine that your work requires. And they will give you advice and service on a par with "Z" engine quality.

The Jordan Hardware Co. Tel. 700 Willimantic, Ct.

community building. The evening was an exceedingly interesting one and was well attended. The pastor of St. John's church after a long absence touring abroad. A pleasing feature of the evening was the inspiring address of Father Morrissey in response to the gift by his people in which he briefly but interestingly reviewed his travels in the different countries through which he had passed. He spoke beautifully of the joy and pride which he felt as he again stepped on the soil of his native land.

William P. Barlow has been in Hartford on a brief business trip.

If you will cut out this advertisement and mail it to The Plant-Cadden Company, Norwich, Conn., together with your address you will receive a Book of Old Fashioned Songs free—adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fontaine motored to Boston this week. Mrs. Fontaine remaining to visit friends.

Miss Ruth Hall went to New York Wednesday to visit friends for a few days after which she will resume her duties as teacher at Rosemary Hall, Greenwich, Conn.

Mrs. Turner Greene entertained a large number Wednesday afternoon when the Ladies Aid society met with her.

Winifred (Gladys) and her friends and changes in the home of Pearl Lewis.

The first leg of the Morris-Babcock special bowling match rolled on the local courts Wednesday evening. Young Moffit won a 23 pin lead over his rival. He also had high single of the evening with 159. A new speed record was established for the alley when the pair rolled the ten strikes in 30 minutes. The final leg Friday night ought to prove a first national record. How the pins fell: 10-12, 136, 122, 150, 126, 120, 111, 124, 112, 120-1218.

Babley-163, 145, 121, 104, 142, 96, 91, 147, 120, 107-1174.

The dancing season in the Community house opens this week. The dance committee under Chairman William Collins has secured a big orchestra from Providence. Many musical novelties will feature the evening. The community house opens this week. The dance committee under Chairman William Collins has secured a big orchestra from Providence. Many musical novelties will feature the evening. The community house opens this week.

98 Out of Every 100 Women Benefited

An Absolutely Reliable Statement Important to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 50,000 Women Answer

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?" Replies, to date, have been received from over 50,000 women answering that question. 98 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it. Think of it—only two women out of 100 received no benefit—98 successes out of a possible 100. Did you ever hear of anything like it? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Of course we know that our medicine does benefit the large majority of women who take it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing. It only goes to prove, however, that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure all—one that is made by the most scientific process; not from drugs, but from a combination of nature's roots and herbs, can and does do more good than hastily prepared prescriptions.

You see, we have been making, improving and refining this medicine for over 50 years until it is so perfect and so well adapted to women's needs that it actually has the virtue to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who take it. Its reliability and recognized efficiency has gained for it a sale in almost every country in the world—leading all others.

Such evidence should induce every woman suffering from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see if she can't be one of the 98 THE LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., Lynn, Mass.

If you like LIPTON'S TEA TRY IT

Also The World's Finest

PORTON'S YELLOW LABEL COFFEE

YOUR COTTAGE OR CAMP can be furnished at a reasonable cost with selections from our large stock of local furniture, stoves, etc. WARD BROS., 46 Jackson St., Willimantic, Phone 612-1.

Kilourey Bros. FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS 8 Union St., Willimantic, Conn. Phone 292 (Lady Assistant)

JAY M. SHEPARD Succeeding Filmore & Shepard Funeral Director & Embalmer 80-82 NORTH ST., WILLIMANTIC Lady Assistant. Tel. Connection

MURRAY'S BOSTON STORE Willimantic, Conn.

Autumn's Newest Things ARE ARRIVING DAILY

As we swing into cool autumn days, additions to the wardrobe are the thought of all fashionably clad women. And what, indeed, could be a better sign of the new fall season than to see the new things which delineate new thoughts and emphasize anew the originality of American and Foreign designers.

NEW FALL DRESSES AND FALL COATS are among the daily arrivals, and even now the variety is broad enough to satisfy many of your individual requirements.

THE H. C. MURRAY CO.

JEWETT CITY

Twenty members of the Methodist Episcopal league attended the meeting in Putnam of Quebeaug Valley circuit league. Members were present from Putnam, Moseup, Danielson, Sterling, Attawaugan and Jewett City. The speaker was Rev. V. V. Sawyer, a former president of the Norwich District Episcopal league, now of New Bedford. A social time followed the service.

Leah Danes of Ansonia-Ashland-Cashio, tonight—adv.

Edward, Harold and Ellen Faust returned by automobile from the summer resort in Camps Winona and Wyanogone, Denmark, Me. Edward and Ellen Faust climbed Mt. Washington and came down met David Clarke and a party going up. Harold Faust had the pleasure of following the golf players, Walter Higgins at Eastern Point. All three have become Red Cross Life Savers. Ellen Faust finishing as far as her age will allow. She has entered Abbott Academy, Andover, Mass. Edward has entered Yale university and Harold has returned to Loomis Institute in Windover and has been elected president of the junior class.

Rev. Howard Stephenson left Wednesday to enter Yale Divinity school, being in Jewett City on the week-end.

CHESTERFIELD

Mrs. Henry Smith has returned home after spending a week with friends in Hartford and Springfield.

Mrs. Cora Williams is visiting relatives in Niantic.

Abraham Snow, Louis Ball, Truman Chipman, Jacob Kaplan, Louis Kaplan, William Tinker and J. E. Powers, attended Springfield Fair last Thursday.

BOZRAH

The Woman's Missionary society is to hold the September meeting with Mrs. C. W. Hanna at the Congregational parsonage Saturday, the 30, at 2:30. Mrs. B. D. Rhone of Norwich will be the speaker, giving personal recollections of the South Sea Islands.

To the Woman Who Demands the Utmost in Flour Quality

Every sack of Occident Flour is sold under an absolute "Money-back" guarantee.

It is a guarantee of better bread on your table, no matter how good your baking is now.

You be the judge. If you are not entirely satisfied that Occident-made bread is whiter, lighter and better tasting than any other, the full purchase price of the flour will be refunded without argument.

OCCIDENT

The Guaranteed Flour

Not only better bread—but better citizens and countries too. Order a sack of Occident today.

YANTIC GRAIN & PRODUCTS CO. WHOLESALE DISTRIBUTORS NORWICH, CONN.

Costs More Worth It

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Bradley Theater, Putnam.

Walter Scanlan, singer and actor, is a strong advocate for pure unadorned American amusements and declares those engaged in entering to the public do not fully realize the power they have to create good or bad citizens.

"While I am by no means a reformer," says Scanlan, "God knows we have an oversupply of these long-faced, sanctimonious gentlemen, yet an occasional radical change must come soon, and the sooner the better. If the spoken drama is to survive, it is quite evident that the theatre-going public must be directed at the offerings presented now, today or we would have more company off the stage."

Rev. Howard Stephenson left Wednesday to enter Yale Divinity school, being in Jewett City on the week-end.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Walter Scanlan, singer and actor, is a strong advocate for pure unadorned American amusements and declares those engaged in entering to the public do not fully realize the power they have to create good or bad citizens.

"While I am by no means a reformer," says Scanlan, "God knows we have an oversupply of these long-faced, sanctimonious gentlemen, yet an occasional radical change must come soon, and the sooner the better. If the spoken drama is to survive, it is quite evident that the theatre-going public must be directed at the offerings presented now, today or we would have more company off the stage."

Rev. Howard Stephenson left Wednesday to enter Yale Divinity school, being in Jewett City on the week-end.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Norma Talmadge Pictures at Strand.

Norma Talmadge, whose latest starring picture for Associated First National Pictures, Inc. is showing at the Strand Theatre, is a strong believer in the quality of cast and direction through a series of productions. As evidence of this she points to the fact that many of those associated with her in her present venture have had similar duties in her other pictures and are being retained for her future productions.

Harrison Ford, the famous leading man, appeared with Miss Talmadge in "The Wonderful Thing," and will have similar roles in pictures that the star will make in the near future. Albert Barron, the director, will direct the first picture of Miss Talmadge's pictures. It has been announced.

Familiar faces are seen among the other members of the cast, which includes, in addition to those already mentioned, Montague Love, Cooper Cliffe, the Waterman, Michael M. Barnes, E. Fernandes and Frayde Conroy.

"Love's Redemption" was adapted by Anthony Paul Kelly from Andrew Bontar's novel "On Principles." It is an unusual story, set in the West, and is a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was in the past—an institution for educating our people in our own ideas and not what it appears to me to be today—a medium for representing and indicating foreign thoughts into our citizens. It is not too late to return to our traditions. Our people want to see the demand, and when they get it they'll find the spoken drama back to where it was years ago, and our theatrical public satisfied in the theatre. Failure of one producer to do so why not follow the lead of the picture producers and elect a head for the spoken drama, a real thoroughbred American. Our speaking stage out to be today what it was