BUSINESS REVIEW SHOWS IN THE REVIEW OF PAST WEEK

Practically All the Available Signs Point to a Further Improvement in the Volume of Industrial Production—Industry is Going Ahead as Fast as the Car Shortage Will Permit—Coal Mines and the Grain Trade Are Experiencing Difficulty in Getting Their Products Moved.

New York, Oct. 8.—With the Turkish crisis apparently yielding to the processes of negotiation, financial and business sentiment showed a distinct recovery during the past week. A sharp rally in security prices undoubtedly was a factor in the matter, but a greater disposition existed to look at the favorable aspects of the domestic situation.

Practically all the available signs point to a further improvement in the volume of industrial production. Car loadings for the week ended September 23, the latest for which statistics are available, showed a 10 per cent. increase over the corresponding week in 1921.

Bituminous coal production continued to hold close to the 10,000,000 tons a week level. It would be greater if coal mines were more plentiful. Nevertheless, the amount being mined seems to be reasonably adequate for the present rate of industrial activity.

In the steel trade, the loss in blast furnace capacity occasioned by the August strike has been made good. Pig iron prices, as well as those of coal, are easier; the supply of iron evidently is meeting the demand.

Banking circles now stress the need for a stabilization of the European situation as may be seen from the speeches delivered at last week's convention of the American Bankers' association.

Italy surrenders to demands of fascisti. Rome, Oct. 8.—(By the A. P.)—The Italian cabinet decided yesterday not to undertake repressive measures against the fascisti but to continue to maintain public order by persuasion.

Wife shoots former policeman in Brookline. Brookline, Mass., Oct. 8.—When Frank Mealy attempted to leave his residence here yesterday morning, a woman, who was identified as Mrs. Mary Mealy, shot him in the back of the head with a revolver.

Russia not to interfere in American relief work. Moscow, Oct. 8.—(By the A. P.)—The soviet government has given definite assurance that the Riga agreement, giving the American relief commission authority over the distribution of supplies in Russia will not be changed.

Grand stand at Danbury was destroyed by fire. Danbury, Conn., Oct. 8.—Three persons were injured yesterday when a grand stand at Danbury fair last night was destroyed by fire.

Cattle burned with a barn in Wassafoord. Branford, Conn., Oct. 8.—Fire broke out Sunday night in the barn of a farmer in Wassafoord, burning a large lot of cattle and a barn.
