Imma Zolotte of Stafford Springs is a patient at St. Joseph's hospital suffering from injuries which he received Monday noon when he made an unsuccessful attempt to regain the companionship of his wife, Mrs. Zolotte in Mr. Zolotte's second wife and she is now living in Columbia. Zolotte came down from Stafford Monday and went to Columbia to try to get his wife to come back to him. While arguing with his wife Frank Zolotte bit him in the face. Zolotte succeeded to have no recollection as to what he was hit with but his face was badly cut and both eyes very much swollen.

In a dance condition he was a ride down from Columbia to this city in a truck. On arriving here about 3 o'clock he began looking for the Stafford Springs bus and not being able to see very clearly he walked into the front of an automobile which was proceeding down Railroad street, but luckily was not injured. Officer Grady picked up the man and brought him to the police station. Dr. M. Riordan was called and Zolotte was taken to St. Joseph's hospital. State Policeman Russell J. Harmon investigated the affair but at the suggestion of the Columbia grand juror no arrests were made.

The case was noted as Federman only wholesaler wood and sells to Sam Seigel of Columbia.

The accident happened on Main street Friday, Nov. 3. Mr. Gagnon is still confined to the hospital. Anderson is under bonds of $300.

A plea of not guilty was entered in the case of John Dunn of Colliaville charged with speeding on West Main street, Sunday, November 5. Officer Bromberg, who gave chase on his motorcycle, testified that Dunn was going 40 miles an hour. Dunn said that he was speeding, but acknowledged not having in his possession a driver's license of a car registered.
