

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

Grandma kept her locks dark, glossy, and youthful with Sage Tea and Sulphur

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandma's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also promotes that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

Mrs. Newton P. Smith.

After three weeks of painful illness the outcome of an operation about a year ago, the life of Jennie Amelia Gullis, widow of Newton Smith, M. D., formerly of Norwich, came to a close at the home of her brother, Charles E. Smith, in New London on Thursday at 3 a. m.

Coming to Norwich from Hampton, Conn., 29 years ago, she shortly married Dr. Smith and from that time her unassuming character and friendly interest in those calling professionally at his office characterized her. A wide circle of acquaintances and friendship she found was hers in later life.

After a number of years spent at 25 Park street, she lived in a cottage at a few years ago. Following failing health and previous to the death of Dr. Smith in September, 1918, where they spent the winter at the grave in the cemetery.

From the latter part of 1918 she lived for a year or more with her brother, Albert, at Hampton, between that time and her death she was housekeeping at Amston, where she found a home for herself and son, Newton, at 100 Main street.

During her last sickness she was furnished by every care that affection could provide by both her brother and her son in their home at 27 Bristol street, New London.

A son, Newton E., 12 years of age, survives and will make his home at 27 Bristol street, New London. An older son, Morris, died of influenza after arrival at his father's last sickness, in 1918, and his funeral was held on the same day as his father's.

There are also surviving five step-children by the first wife of Dr. Smith: Emerson, of Boston; Annie Stearns, of New York; George, of New York; Raymond of New York city; Mrs. Jennie Fay of Morningdale, Mass., and Edward Almy Smith of Atlanta, Ga., in the U. S. army.

She also leaves four brothers and one sister, John of Whitecourt, South Dakota; Sidney of Rumming, N. H.; Charles of New York; and George Gullis of Danvers, and Mrs. Eva Harwood of Los Angeles, Cal.

Bromley of Groton. The service was conducted by Rev. F. S. Dunbar, pastor of the First Baptist church. Following the wedding a reception was tendered to relatives and immediate friends.

The bride is the daughter of William and Mary Warren Bromley of Groton and has resided at home. The groom is employed as a carpenter. The couple are well known and their many friends wish them all success in their new life.

KENNETH HILL INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Kenneth Hill, 22, son of the late Irving H. Hill, a former resident of Norwich, sustained a broken pelvis, and two wounds, when he was killed in an automobile accident last Sunday night at South Portland, Me., when the automobile in which they were riding hit a cement wall at the bridge entrance and rebounded and struck the iron work of the bridge. The driver of the car, Everett L. Knapp, disappeared after the accident and was arrested some time later at the station on Portland on the charge of intoxication and failure to report an accident.

One of the women, Mrs. Katherine Johnson, was found wedged between the front wheel of the car and the side of the bridge with her neck broken. Her husband, Miss Alice N. Sullivan, died shortly after she had been taken to the hospital. Mr. Hill was thrown from the machine to the floor of the bridge and was conscious when picked up, but too dazed to give an account of the accident.

Knapp, the driver, has been held on $5,000 bond on the charge of manslaughter for the death of the woman and $15,000 for the other charges against him.

If you would know what a woman does not mean, listen to what she says.

It is well to remember, as a fundamental fact, that democracy was not something imposed upon us from without, but the development of something from within. It is the growth of a new principle of government, a new principle of life, a new principle of action. "LET'S GO" EXPOSITION WEEK

DEC. — 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 STATE ARMORY NORWICH

The new December Victor Records are in. Drop in and hear them. THE TALKING MACHINE SHOP 21 FRANKLIN SQUARE

After complaint had been received that Don had nearly run into the Backus hospital ambulance at Yantic Thursday night and that the men with the car were under the influence of liquor, the police arrested John and Harry McLeod, brothers of Buffalo, N. Y., here later in the evening. Superintendent E. Leonard Hutchins and Dr. C. C. Gildersleeve, who were with the ambulance insisted that the men get a driver to bring the car to the city and one was secured. The car was found by the police in a garage, one of the men at a rooming house and the other on the street.

It is estimated that $742,000,000 will be spent in the United States on highway construction during this calendar year.
