TWENTY-FIVE YEARS IN PASTORATE OF GREENEVILLE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

REV. C. H. RICKETTS

His silver anniversary in the pastorate of Greenville Congregational Church was celebrated for Rev. Charles H. Ricketts by a reception given to him and Mrs. Ricketts Tuesday evening in the Sunday school room at the church where over 100 members of the congregation gathered to express the love and affection that have grown through the years and the hope that the pastoral relation may long continue.

Tangible evidence of their regard for their pastor was given expression in the gift to him of a purse of $115 in gold.

Coffee and cake were served during the evening. Mrs. Charles E. Mosch and Mrs. C. D. Foster poured and members of the Bluebirds and Rainbow circle served as follows: Bluebirds—Juth Metzger and Margaret Whiting; Marguerite Southill, Adelaide Christian; Rainbow Circle, Evelyn Eastland, Marie Atterbury, Ruth Drescher, Viola Levinsky.

The arrangements for the reception were successfully carried out by a committee consisting of Mrs. C. J. Truel, chairman; Mrs. S. S. Lathrop, Mrs. M. Young, Mrs. John A. Scott, Mrs. Archibald Torrance, Mrs. Reid McIntyre, Mrs. Thomas Haslam.

and the presentation of a beautiful basket of yellow chrysanthemums to Mrs. Ricketts.

Of Rev. Mr. Ricketts' forty years in the ministry, all but seventeen have been with the Greenville church. Of the present-day Norwich ministers only Rev. Dr. S. H. Howe, who has been forty years pastor of Park Congregational church, exceeds him in length of pastorate with any of the churches of Norwich.

Following a period Tuesday evening during which the pastor and his wife received the congratulations and good wishes of all present, while music was furnished by Geer's orchestra, John McWilliams, senior deacon of the church, made the gifts on behalf of the church, speaking briefly as he did so of some of the admirable qualities in their pastor. Among other things he mentioned his sympathy in times of sorrow, his power as a preacher, his popularity in the city and his example as the head of a Christian household.

The pastor and his wife were served during the evening. Mrs. Charles E. Mosch and Mrs. C. D. Foster poured and members of the Bluebirds and Rainbow circle served as follows: Bluebirds—Juth Metzger and Margaret Whiting; Marguerite Southill, Adelaide Christian; Rainbow Circle, Evelyn Eastland, Marie Atterbury, Ruth Drescher, Viola Levinsky.

STONINGTON SILK WEAVER

SUES FOR $5,000 DAMAGES

Jack Varvelli of Stonington, a silk weaver, has brought suit for $5,000 damages against Harry P. and Irene Hanko, husband and wife, of Groton, for injuries which Varvelli received on Nov. 6, 1922 when he was struck by an automobile driven by Hanko.

Varvelli claims that he was walking on the state highway, near Denton avenue, Mystic, about 9 p. m. and was on the wrong side of the road going towards Mystic. The machine hit him in the left hip, knocking him down and causing injuries because of which he will be obliged to spend much money for medical treatment and will lose much time from his trade, at which he earns $40 a week.

The suit is returnable before the superior court in December.

CHRISTMAS SALE CONDUCTED BY UNIVERSALIST WOMEN

The holiday colors of red and green made the attractive decorative scheme for the annual Christmas sale and supper given Tuesday afternoon and evening at the Universalist church by the Ladies Aid society. Patronage for the sale and supper was large and the proceeds will be a good sum for the treasury of the society.

In the ladies' parlor were the fancy work and domestic tables. The first was presided over by Mrs. Arthur G. Crowell, Mrs. Charles A. Gager, Mrs. George D. Fillmore, Miss Agnes Woodruff, Mrs. A. S. Constock and Mrs. E. Eliver. At the domestic table were Mrs. John H. Bell, Mrs. Walter A. Busser, Mrs. Fred Young, Mrs. Myron Ladd and Mrs. Peter Wilson.

In the large room the children's table made a fine display of children's dresses, aprons, and other articles. The first was presided over by Mrs. Arthur G. Crowell, Mrs. Charles A. Gager, Mrs. George D. Fillmore, Miss Agnes Woodruff, Mrs. A. S. Constock and Mrs. E. Eliver.

The candy table which offered the home-made candy for which this society has long been famous was presided over by Mrs. M. A. Barber, Mrs. Nellie E. Bailey, Miss Jessie E. Hill and Mrs. William Tomerson.

The cake table were Mrs. Scott Look, Mrs. H. C. Wright, Mrs. H. D. Ralston and Mrs. John Irish, with a tempting array of cakes of many kinds. The ice cream was dispensed by members of the Unity class, Miss Mary E. Rogers, teacher.

Miss Grace Tait had a table on which was displayed some of her work in the shape of hand-painted boxes and hand-made jewelry.

The luncheon in charge of the fine supper that was served at 5.30 and 6.20 consisted of Mrs. Joseph L. Oat, Mrs. John A. Burton, Mrs. S. W. Armstrong, Mrs. Alice Boers, Mrs. David Cushman, Mrs. Rollo H. Harris, Mrs. William C. Young, Miss Hattie A. Harris, Mrs. H. M. Tait and Mrs. William Stevens.

Mrs. M. A. Barber, Mrs. Nellie E. Bailey, Miss Jessie E. Hill and Mrs. William Tomerson.
