ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC FLEETS CONSOLIDATED

Washington, Dec. 7.—Consolidation of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets into the "United States fleet" with Admiral H. P. Jones in supreme command, and Vice Admiral E. W. Eberle as commander-in-chief of the "battle fleet" unit, was announced tonight by the navy department.

Under the new plan, the U. S. fleet will consist of the battle fleet, composing the main fighting strength of the navy prepared to engage an enemy fleet, the scouting fleet, the duty of which would be to locate the enemy preparatory to engagement of the battle fleet; the control force, organized to exercise control of the sea after this had been obtained by action of the battle fleet, and the fleet base force, intended to support the operations of the fighting force.

The whole organization for purposes of administration in peace or war would be under command of a single officer with rank of admiral, no matter how far scattered its elements might be.

Admiral Jones, now commanding the Atlantic fleet, is the first to command the United States fleet, while Admiral Eberle now commanding the Pacific fleet takes the rank of vice admiral and command of the battle fleet.

In explanation of the purpose of the re-organization, the navy department made the following statement: "It facilitates passing from peace to war conditions, thereby saving time at the beginning of the war when time is vital."

"It allows the various units to be trained in peace for the duties which they must perform in war by the officers who are to command during the war."

"It places the whole fleet under the command of the officer best suited to command it in time of war and gives him the officers in command of the major units opportunity to gain necessary experience in command and in making plans to carry out their assigned tasks."

"It creates an organized fighting force which can only be expanded in emergency to be ready for any campaign."

A woman seldom laughs at a man's jokes unless she has an ax to grind.

FINDS NO BLAME ON MOTORMEN IN TWO FATAL TROLLEY ACCIDENTS

Coroner J. J. Desmond of this city, who has been investigating two fatal trolley accidents, one at Waterford and the other at Mystic, has determined that no criminal liability attaches to the motormen in either case.

In the case of the accident at Mystic Saturday night when Patricia Macdonald was instantly killed by a trolley car on the track or can explain how she got there.

In the case of the accident at Waterford on Thanksgiving evening, the coroner finds that Taylor was not to blame. The coroner finds that the motorman held his automobile as a warning to Macdonald and did everything to avoid running over the man.

Money Back If "Gets-It" Fails

Nothing is so utterly needless as the suffering from aching, painful corns.

It is as easy to peel a corn as to skin a banana. Touch it with "Gets-It" and the corn is done. For hard corns, soft corns, any corn—or callus. All pain stops instantly and the corn process to loosen and soon can be lifted right off.

Your money cheerfully refunded if it fails. But it never fails. Get it at a drug store, E. Lawrence & Co., 317 1/2 Chicago.

Sold in Norwich by Chas. Osmond, Pitcher & Service, Lee & Osgood.

YOUR EYES should be examined once a year to see if any changes have taken place and corrections are necessary.

It means better eye protection and the avoidance of discomfort and undue strain on the nervous system.

We examined your eyes—WHEN? We recommend that you have them examined now. If we find that your glasses are correct for the present, we shall be pleased to tell you so.
