STANFORD GRID SQUADS TO SHOW EAST-WEST WAR—Stanford University, Cal., Dec. 19.—Football fans will have an opportunity to compare the strength of eastern and western college eleven when the University of Pittsburgh meets Stanford University in the big stadium here December 24.

The Panthers of Pitt are coming west with a high eastern rating, having defeated the powerful teams of Penn State, Washington and Oregon and Pennsylvania by scores of 14-0, 19-0 and 7-0, respectively. Two early-season defeats by Lafayette and West Virginia are the only blemishes on the Pitt record this year.

Stanford, while not the Pacific Coast champion, is a strong eleven and is getting stronger with each game. In the game here against the champion University of California team, Stanford lost 23-0 and fans will see this score in comparing the strength of Pittsburgh and California, which has a scoring machine that ranks high in the nation.

In the Stanford-Pitt game, Glenn Warner, noted eastern football coach who led the Carline Indians to gridiron glory, will be playing his right hand against the left. He is the Pitt coach and also has general charge of the Stanford coaching system. Both teams will be products of the Warner system.

Warner, who has been coaching Pitt several years, has asked last spring to come to Stanford to take charge of a team which had changed coaches three times in the preceding three years. He could not do so at once, on account of his Pittsburgh contract, which expires next year, so sent out two lieutenants, Andy Kerr, his assistant at Pitt, and "Tiny" Thornhill, former line coach at Centre College. These two Stanford coaches have been working with the full advice and consent of Warner and will turn over the reins to their chief when he comes out in 1924.

BRONKIE STARTED IN BRASS CITY—Waterbury, Dec. 19.—Herman Bronkie of Manchester, who is likely to be the next professional baseball career in Waterbury. He came here at the instance of Harry Durant in 1901 to try out as a pitcher. He was with Waterbury until the close of the 1909 season. In that year he hit for .311 and was the star of the team. He was with the Mobile club in the Southern association. He finished in seventh place. Bronkie played second base for Mobile and hit for .332. Last season he was utility infielder for the team.

Bronkie is a native of South Manchester and is a big favorite in this city, especially with the older generation of fans who remember him when he broke into baseball here.

Bates, Pittsfield shortstop, on whom wagers have been placed for the Hillies. Bates has been with Pittsfield for several seasons and ranks as one of the best shortstops in the league, his hitting making him especially desirable. It is not considered likely that Pittsfield will sell Bates at the winter price, it being probable that the Hillies have a chance to get rid of him at a better price outside of season.

OUT STEEL SHAFT CLUBS—New York, Dec. 19.—Asserting its refusal to permit use of steel shafted golf clubs in national championships had been misconstrued, the executive committee of the U. S. Golf association issued a statement today explaining its attitude and announcing that officials of the new sky's shaft club will be authorized.

"When we were asked to approve its use," a statement said, "we felt that it was a distinct departure from the accepted form and make of golf clubs, and that no one at that time knew enough about its possibilities to be sure that its use was, for the best interests of the game."

Accordingly, refused to permit its use in the national championships. Our feelings are still the same. The executive committee itself will try out the shafts and request that a number of the leading amateurs do the same and report their findings to the committee. They also will request that all other players who use the shaft and who desire to, should submit their views to the committee.

Justice Tierney granted the motion, holding that McGraw was not responsible, since he was violating the state's regulations at the time the accident occurred.

McAULIFFE MAY BE BARRED BY COMMISSION—Young McAuliffe of Bridgeport, former boxer and now active as a referee, may be barred from officiating in ring contests in Connecticut after a ruling by Mosey King, chairman of the state board. Secretary Castle and Commissioner Murphy could not be reached today, but Commissioner Thomas E. Donahue of New London said at Meriden last night, following the Kaplan-Herman bout that McAuliffe is "through as long as this board is in authority."

"McAuliffe made insulting and inelegant remarks to the secretary of the commission and to the other members of the commission," said when he was given $25 for officiating in tonight's bout. The rules, plain, say that a referee shall remain on the floor in Hartford, Bridgeport and New Haven and elsewhere. He got just what the regulations stipulate.

BRITISH YACHT CLUB ACCEPTS CHALLENGE OF AMERICAN CLUB

New York, Dec. 19.—Forecast of a keen season of international yachting competition in 1923 was seen today in an announcement that the first event between American and British crews had been scheduled, a series of six races between six-metre yachts to be sailed in August in British waters for the historic Seawanhaka challenge cup.

The trophy was captured last year by Colla III, owned by J. G. Stephens, of the Royal Northern Yacht club, of Scotland, and one of the British craft defeated by American six-metre skippers in the contest for the British-American cup. The Colla defeated the defender, Sakie, of the Manchester, Mass. Yacht club, in a series of races and the cup went overseas for the first time in its twenty-seven year history.

The formal challenge for the 1923 contest was made by the Seawanhaka-Connthian Yacht club, of Oyster Bay, N. Y., and has just been accepted by the Royal Northern Yacht club. The former organization will invite yachtsmen who are members of the recognized clubs to take part in trial races on Long Island sound before the start of the main event. The cup races will be sailed on the Clyde river, in Scotland.

ONE PLAYER HOLDS UP BIG DEAL—New York, Dec. 19.—The celebrated and long-awaited deal between the Yankees and White Sox hangs on the question of one player, according to Miller Huggins, who left for his home in Cincinnati yesterday and reviewed the trading market as he waited for a time to approach. The Yanks, he declared, have agreed on the three athletes whom they are willing to ship to Chicago, but the Sox balk at handing over a certain pitcher and the Sox also are unwilling to approach the insect in the ointment.

Huggins admitted that Kid Gleason has consented to part with Eddie Collins and leftfielder Bill Falk, the young star. It is known of equally good authority that the Yanks who will go—Lester is a trade—are Bob Meusel and Aaron Ward. But the Sox demand a pitcher, Waite Hoyt, and Huggins balks at this sacrifice of the Brooklyn boy unless he gets a "certain twirler" in return.

"You'll have to guess at the identity of this Chicago pitcher," said Huggins. "I've already told you about Collins and Falk. The White Sox also want a pitcher—moreover, a pitcher whom I can't get without getting another to take his place."

If the Yanks are agreeable to letting Hoyt go, the Sox probably have demanded Ted Blankenship, the nineteen-year-old Texan, in return. Urban Faber is out of the question, for more than one reason, and Huggins probably would not want Charley Root, of no-hit-re-run fame under the conditions that he has offered. Blankenship and Gorman Laverette, as possibilities, and it is likely that Huggins has insisted on Blankenship, who is one of the best youngsters in the big league. He is big and strong, with plenty of stuff and a good change of pace, and is young. Chicago critics assert that he will be a great buy before he has reached his majority, and Huggins was visibly impressed by him last season.

He is big and strong, with plenty of stuff and a good change of pace, and is young. Chicago critics assert that he will be a great buy before he has reached his majority, and Huggins was visibly impressed by him last season. The more so when the cowboy shut out the Yankees with a handful of hits in the late stages of the pennant fight.

Willing to Trade Hoyt—Last week Huggins refused point blank to part with either Hoyt or Sam Jones, but he has now brought himself around to the point of letting Hoyt go. The pitching staff is not weakened too much. With five veteran twirlers and two good youngsters in George Murray and Jake May, it would seem that the Yanks could best afford to let Hoyt go over a little strength in that department.

The dickerer for May is still in an unsettled state also. Vernon has accepted the Yanks' terms and they have agreed on the four players who will be delivered for the left-hander, but the trouble lies in the fact that other big league clubs have refused to waive on one or two of the quartet. Mike McNally, Al Davener and Camp Skinner have been mentioned as three that may go to the coast.

It is possible that the White Sox deal may slumber until the league meetings in February. Huggins may do a little better before that time, and there is a chance that he will run over to Chicago for another conference before February.
