CITY NEWS.

REPAIRED.—The pavement corner of Water and Locust Streets has been repaired. It is a great accommodation to pedestrians who travel that way. It was much needed.

The new stained glass is being put in the windows of the Episcopal Church. The work will be completed in a short time.

NEGRO DROWNED.—While the steamer Sam Orr was laying at the wharf day before yesterday, a negro man fell overboard and was drowned. He never rose after sinking beneath the surface of the water. He was employed as a hand on the boat.

BOARD OF TRADE.—The Board of Trade met at the usual hour yesterday, with a fair attendance. Samples of articles were on exhibition as usual, and $500 in gold was sold on 'Change, which was all the sale that was made, we believe.

ROW.—A row occurred at a late hour night before last at that institution called the Zouave. Several glasses were broken, and a few pistol shots fired, but no serious damage was done.

RECORDER'S COURT.—There were absent, having gone to New Harmony. Esquire Davidson was officiating in his stead.

We heard of a case of wife whipping yesterday. As the matter will probably be investigated by the Recorder, we omit names.

THIS WEEK.—We are told that all of this week will probably be taken up by County Commissioners in equalizing the assessments of taxes. Next week will be devoted to such other business as may come before that Court.

SOLD.—We are informed that already three thousand tickets to the Soldiers' Picnic have been sold, and that it gives promise of being one of the grandest affairs that has ever taken place in Southern Indiana.

We learn that Miss Annie Mayhew, formerly of the Golden Theatrical Company of this city, has gone to Washington City, where she has an engagement for this summer.

IGNORANT.—The editor of the Rockport Democrat says, in allusion to the "knock down" argument the Democratic candidate for State Senator used a few days since to a crippled soldier in that County, that he does not know anything about the circumstances of the affair. Of course not. If it had been "his animal that had been gored" it would have been a different matter altogether.

OPERA HOUSE.—The work on the contemplated Opera House will be commenced soon, and pushed forward with rapidity. We believe that it is the intention to have the walls up and the roof on at least before the winter season, and if possible to have it ready for use. It is hardly probable that it can be completed this season.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Some old buildings on Second Street are being worked over and moulded into neat business rooms. They will add to the appearance of that square when completed. There are many old buildings in the business part of the city that will give place soon to others, more attractive. It is gratifying to see so many improvements going on in the city at this time.

SUPPER FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE ORPHAN ASYLUM.—The warm-hearted and benevolent ladies of our city, who propose to give a supper or festival for the benefit of the Orphan Asylum, to be held on Tuesday night, have been kindly tendered the use of the large and commodious sale room on Main Street, belonging to and occupied by Messrs. Roelker & Blount.

Those gentlemen have given the use of the room free of charge, for which they deserve special commendation and praise. It is large and roomy, and we consider that the ladies have been quite fortunate in securing such a desirable place.

The most extensive preparations will be made for the accommodation of all, and it will no doubt prove a brilliant affair and a grand success. These ladies have labored steadfastly and earnestly for this noble object, and have already accomplished a great work for the orphans of our city. It is now proposed to place the Asylum in a condition to fully meet the requirements of all who are entitled to aid, and for this the supper will be given. It is no sectarian move, but one that should, and we feel sure will, meet the hearty approval and liberal patronage of our open-hearted citizens. We shall confidently expect to see the house crowded on that occasion.

MECHANICS.—We alluded, a few days since, in general terms, to the mechanics of our city, both as to the character of their work, and to the promptness with which it was dispatched. Our attention has been called to another mechanic who came to the city at an early day, and who has been employed on many of the principal buildings in the city. The gentleman referred to—who does not wish his name to appear in print—erected the first iron front to a building on Main Street. He laid the first brick of the splendid residence of Mr. Robert Barnes; and assisted in the construction of the large house of Willard Carpenter, which is perhaps one of the most substantial in the city, having very thick walls, with all the modern improvements. He also erected a large number of the business houses in the city, as well as many of the neatest and most substantial dwelling houses. He was one of the difficult jobs, which gave entire satisfaction to the City Council.

Of late years his skill and superiority as a mechanic has been exhibited on many of our finest and best buildings. His services in the construction of city sewers have proved invaluable, more especially in the upper part of the city. The gentleman referred to, is now erecting the large business house of S. E. Gilbert & Co., on First Street, which will prove a fine structure when completed. He is assisted by two excellent mechanics, who are also superior workmen, and these energetic gentlemen will push the work forward to completion at the earliest day possible. The manufacturing and mechanical interests of our city, are matters of great pride to all. Our people are emphatically a productive people, workers, who seek to elevate labor, and honorably maintain its dignity. In this respect, we feel that ours is the equal, if not the superior, of any city in the State.

A GOOD MAN GONE.—We have seldom been more deeply pained than when on yesterday we received from a friend in Terre Haute the following brief, but sad, announcement, by telegraph: "Charles Wood, died last night."

Mr. Wood has been, since its first opening, the Secretary and General Ticket Agent of the Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railroad, a position he has filled with the highest credit to himself, and satisfaction to officers and stockholders of the road. Our business relations with Mr. Wood for several years, were intimate and highly pleasant. We knew him well, and always found him upright, generous, and just. He was emphatically a good man, with wonderful business acquirements, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. About a year ago he lost his wife, which greatly depressed him, and wore harshly on his tender nature. In common with a large circle of acquaintance, we sincerely lament his death.

Efforts are being made to have the various packets plying up and down the river to bring excursion parties to the city on the Fourth of July, at half fare. If the arrangement is effected, it is thought a large number will visit the city on that day from neighboring towns.

THE LATE HORSE FAIR.—THAT FAST TIME.—The New Albany editors are mighty funny fellows. Gay jokers are they, and fond of sarcasm. They have the funniest way of blowing up men and things, and appear so much in earnest, that one would think they were talking seriously were it not for the introduction of statistics or figures, which betrays the under current of humor that pervades their panegyrics.

Some time ago they had a horse fair in the vicinity, which they blowed for weeks previous, during its progress and after its close.

We watched the reports from day to day with some interest, anxious to record the fast time made. On the first day one horse made his mile in 2:36, but we waited and watched for fast time, but waited and watched in vain. We mentioned the time, 2:36, to some of our citizens who drive favorite family horses, and it elicited a broad smile.

We made inquiries among men versed in such matters, and learned that there were almost any number of family carriage horses in this city good for that time, or better.

Henry Morgan's Ellen Douglas has made her mile in 2:35 on a bad track. C. R. Bement's mare, Jennie, has made her mile, when not in training, in 2:40. Wm. Brown's family carriage mares are good for 2:45 together; one of them in 2:35, single. R. K. Dunkerson's Joe Adams, famous as the most docile, safe and reliable family horse in the State, and a great favorite with the ladies on that account, has made his mile in 2:38, and was never trained for racing. Henry Morgan's colt, at four years old, made his mile on a quarter track in 2:58, and if in training now, would make it in 2:30.

Capt. Dexter's John A. Logan, on a crooked track, made his mile, on the fifth heat, in 2:30, which, on a straight track, was equal to 2:27.

After obtaining these facts, we saw "where the joke came in," in the grandiloquent reports of the New Albany papers. They are mighty funny fellows.

AN ANXIOUS NIGHT AND DAY.—On Monday morning Mrs. Blackburn, a very worthy widow lady, who resides three miles from the city, sent her son, a lad of twelve years, to purchase. The day passed away and the night also, and the boy did not return. Every parent can appreciate the painful anxiety of that fond mother, as four after hour passed and her loved one did not return. Her heart was tortured with the most painful apprehensions, as visions of her boy drowned, or perhaps murdered, rose before her mind. Yesterday morning she came to the city, and had a notice written for the JOURNAL, setting forth the facts and describing the lost one. But greatly to her relief before the notice was in type, the boy was found, and joy again illumined the doating mother's heart. The lad had gone aboard a steamer lying at the landing, and was carried off. He was landed at Henderson, and returned on one of the packets yesterday morning. It is to be hoped this little adventure will be a lesson to him, not to loiter when sent on an errand.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure of meeting our esteemed friend Col. Prather in the city yesterday. The Colonel is the Union candidate for Representative in Bartholomew County. He was for a long time connected with the 6th Indiana, and was promoted to a Lieut. Colonelcy in the 120th Regiment, for gallant and meritorious services. He was afterwards Colonel of that regiment. The Colonel informs us that all the Union candidates in that County have been Federal soldiers. That is a move in the right direction.

The ladies of different church organizations and societies, who are willing to aid in the Soldiers' and Sailors' Picnic on the Fourth of July, are requested to meet at the Board of Trade Rooms, over the Merchant's National Bank, on Thursday, at ten o'clock. At that time the general plan for the celebration will be disclosed, we are informed, so that there may be concert of action. It is desired that each Church should be represented, and it is hoped that a committee from each will be present at that time.

TO BE REMOVED.—The old frame buildings on Locust Street, between Water and First Streets, are to be removed at once, and new buildings erected.

PICNIC.—The plan adopted for raising money to erect a monument to the memory of deceased soldiers and sailors seems to meet with general favor. Our people have not forgotten what they owe to the braves who freely gave life for the salvation of the country. The day selected for the purpose above named is, of course, of all others most appropriate, and we are informed that the most extensive preparations will be made to ensure success, and at present the prospect is most flattering for a grand affair.

Nothing could be of greater credit to our city, than that a large and imposing monument be erected at a suitable place, that will stand for ages and show when this generation shall have passed away, the regard our people had for the memory of the brave. This is a movement in which all can join without regard to sect or creed, and there need be no division of opinion in regard to it. The Soldiers' and Sailors' Union will incorporate according to an act of the State Legislature authorizing the formation of voluntary associations, and we are assured that every dollar given for that purpose will be carefully saved till a sufficient amount is raised to erect the monument. Many counties in this State have already erected such tokens of remembrance to the memory of the brave who have fallen, and it would be a source of peculiar gratification if our county could boast the largest and most beautiful in the State.

It has been proposed to accomplish this if the people say so, and we have no doubt but they will turn out en masse on that day, and patronize the Picnic or Fair most liberally, as it is a holiday, and the arrangements are to be such as to suit the taste of even the most fastidious, and the best of order insured. Our liberal hearted people can go there that day and enjoy the recreation for an hour, or for the whole day if they choose. We learn that there will be distinguished speakers on the occasion, together with vocal and instrumental music, to the satisfaction of all. A programme will be published in a few days.

The new law, defining a provocation for an assault and making it a punishable offense, is a very good one, and the guilty party may be subjected to a fine. This has given rise to quite a number of trivial cases of late. Yesterday, some of the sable sons of Africa made their appearance before Esquire Stinson, with a complaint that they had been insulted by a colored gentleman, and wished redress at law.

ICE CREAM.—In noticing the magnificent ice cream saloon of Adank & Christ, which was opened yesterday, a mistake occurred as to the place. The types located the establishment on South Third Street. It should have been South Second Street.

VERY NICE.—We obeyed a peremptory summons from Prof. Rice, Superintendent of the Public Schools, to be present last night at the Council Chamber. We found a full regiment of teachers present—a pleasure we had not enjoyed for a long time—numbering over forty in all. Prof. Rice gave a little talk, in which he imparted to the teachers some excellent advice as to the manner in which they should spend the vacation, and prepare themselves for attending the Teachers' Institute in July. He announced that there was a matter of business to be attended to, but they would be compelled to go elsewhere to transact it. A procession was formed, and marched on to Main Street, where they "brought up" at an ice cream saloon, where this battalion of intellect was refreshed with most delicious ice cream. We thought it a most pleasant theme of business, and are ready to obey all such orders.

LECTURE.—The children were out in considerable numbers last evening, to hear the lecture of Mr. Hunter on Sabbath School matters. They appeared to be highly entertained, and we doubt not were also considerably enlightened. Mr. Hunter delivers another lecture on Thursday evening in the lecture room of the Walnut Street Presbyterian Church. We presume the church will be crowded on that occasion, with the little people, who are always anxious to hear and learn something new.

From Mr. John Henson, Route Agent, we learn that Mr. Charles Wood, whose death we announce elsewhere, fell from his chair and died of disease of the heart, having been in his usual health up to the hour of his death.

[For the Journal.]

BUILD MONUMENTS TO THE BRAVE.

Far over the land, over mountain and valley, By river and streamlet, the brave lie asleep, No more to be roused by the bugle's shrill rally— Away from the loved ones, who sorrow fully weep; Away from the churchyard where, peacefully lying, Beneath the long grass and the flowers that bloom, Are sleeping their fathers—while they who died trying Lie scattered afar 'till sounds trump of doom.

Down by the shore where thunders Old Ocean— In thick tangled dells, lie their bleaching remains; Oh! is there a heart but that feels deep emotion But would yield them of glory, all that glory contains? Then build them up monuments, wreath them bright flowers, For noble they died on the field of the slain.

Oh! you cannot repay them for the darkness of hours In prison—or wash out the blood where they fell. Then speak to the hearts of those who are weeping For fathers who left them, for brother or son— Write on your banners, that proudly are sweeping, The names of those soldiers who victory won.

Rear them proud temples 'mid life's busy thronging, That men may be told of the heroes who bled; To preserve the great UNION—the glory's belonging Not alone to the living, but as well to the dead.
