

THE DAILY REBEL.

BY FRANC. M. PAUL.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

THE DAILY REBEL.

SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 2, 1864.

EVENING EDITION.

354, Maj. H. J. Butler, Division Commissary of Cavalry...

From the Army of Tennessee.

On the 21st inst., the Rebels...

THE SITUATION.

Remains unchanged. The enemy when driven back by Cheatham and Cleburne...

AN ALARM.

At three o'clock this morning, that portion of the army which is supposed to be asleep at that hour...

From Lynchburg.

At Lynchburg, June 25.—It is difficult to get any news from the Rebels...

From Petersburg.

Lieut. Hoke of Raleigh has arrived in that city just from Petersburg and gives the progress of the Rebels...

THE AFFAIR OF THE 27TH.

By flag of truce the enemy were permitted to bury their dead and remove their wounded from the field...

KILLED.

I learn that Col. Jones, 3rd Tennessee Regiment, was killed to-day by a bursting shell...

REMARKS.

It is rumored that Sherman has departed two divisions to look after his rear...

MARSHALL.

Gen. Pillow and his flight at Lafayette.

Operations Around Petersburg.

We make a summary of dispatches to the Richmond papers from Petersburg...

Hancock's Yankee corps were defeated in an attempt to strike the Weldon road...

The enemy were driven back two miles south of Petersburg on the 21st inst...

The troops engaged were Mahone's Division. On the same day the enemy cut the Weldon road...

The Yankees raiding party, after cutting the Weldon road at Ream's Station...

The water tank and depot were burnt at Ream's Station on the 21st inst...

Our advance fought the rear of the enemy's raiders near Dinwiddie Court House...

The enemy were reported to have reached the Junction of the Southside and Danville railroads on the 21st inst...

The enemy took possession of the Weldon rail way, six miles below Petersburg...

The enemy were fighting their pickets in that direction within four miles of the city...

Our forces dislodged them on the same evening, capturing five hundred prisoners...

From Lynchburg.

At Lynchburg, June 25.—It is difficult to get any news from the Rebels...

The Rebels were reported to have reached the Junction of the Southside and Danville railroads on the 21st inst...

The enemy took possession of the Weldon rail way, six miles below Petersburg...

The enemy were fighting their pickets in that direction within four miles of the city...

Our forces dislodged them on the same evening, capturing five hundred prisoners...

From Petersburg.

Lieut. Hoke of Raleigh has arrived in that city just from Petersburg and gives the progress of the Rebels...

The Rebels were reported to have reached the Junction of the Southside and Danville railroads on the 21st inst...

The enemy took possession of the Weldon rail way, six miles below Petersburg...

The enemy were fighting their pickets in that direction within four miles of the city...

Our forces dislodged them on the same evening, capturing five hundred prisoners...

THE AFFAIR OF THE 27TH.

By flag of truce the enemy were permitted to bury their dead and remove their wounded from the field...

KILLED.

I learn that Col. Jones, 3rd Tennessee Regiment, was killed to-day by a bursting shell...

REMARKS.

It is rumored that Sherman has departed two divisions to look after his rear...

MARSHALL.

Gen. Pillow and his flight at Lafayette.

Yankee Warfare.

Our people are now beginning to comprehend the most infernal Yankee warfare...

It is certainly wholesome to remember that, if there were any danger of forgetting...

The Yankees warfare has now arrived, we say at a point of desperation...

The Yankees warfare has now arrived, we say at a point of desperation...

The Yankees warfare has now arrived, we say at a point of desperation...

The Yankees warfare has now arrived, we say at a point of desperation...

The Yankees warfare has now arrived, we say at a point of desperation...

The Yankees warfare has now arrived, we say at a point of desperation...

The Yankees warfare has now arrived, we say at a point of desperation...

The Yankees warfare has now arrived, we say at a point of desperation...

The Yankees warfare has now arrived, we say at a point of desperation...

From Lynchburg.

At Lynchburg, June 25.—It is difficult to get any news from the Rebels...

The Rebels were reported to have reached the Junction of the Southside and Danville railroads on the 21st inst...

The enemy took possession of the Weldon rail way, six miles below Petersburg...

The enemy were fighting their pickets in that direction within four miles of the city...

Our forces dislodged them on the same evening, capturing five hundred prisoners...

From Petersburg.

Lieut. Hoke of Raleigh has arrived in that city just from Petersburg and gives the progress of the Rebels...

The Rebels were reported to have reached the Junction of the Southside and Danville railroads on the 21st inst...

The enemy took possession of the Weldon rail way, six miles below Petersburg...

The enemy were fighting their pickets in that direction within four miles of the city...

Our forces dislodged them on the same evening, capturing five hundred prisoners...

THE AFFAIR OF THE 27TH.

By flag of truce the enemy were permitted to bury their dead and remove their wounded from the field...

KILLED.

I learn that Col. Jones, 3rd Tennessee Regiment, was killed to-day by a bursting shell...

REMARKS.

It is rumored that Sherman has departed two divisions to look after his rear...

MARSHALL.

Gen. Pillow and his flight at Lafayette.

TELEGRAPHIC.

REPORTS OF THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Latest from the Front.

Managers, July 2.—By a final agreement there has been very little military firing for the past two days.

Yesterday evening the enemy attempted to erect a battery in front of Gen. Cleburne's lines...

Constant shelling, with slight intermissions, has been going on along the whole line...

Late Cincinnati papers say that during the skirmish on the 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th, they lost 4500 men, as shown by official medical records.

The Chattanooga Gazette of the 29th contains a dispatch from Sherman to Dix, of the 23rd inst...

"General Harker is reported mortally wounded. Col. Dan McCook, commanding Brigade, and Col. Rice, of the 57th Ohio, are very seriously wounded.

"We took a few prisoners, but don't suppose we inflicted heavy loss as the enemy kept behind fortifications."

It is believed that the rabbling parties of the enemy, numbering from 4,000 to 5,000 have been ordered to destroy twenty-five miles of the railroad between Burkeville and Keyville...

The plan of operations which we set forth several days ago is evidently being carried out, and the Rebels are making a dash for Petersburg with the bulk of his army, leaving only one corps at Burnside's Headquarters to divide our force and threaten that movement...

"We are not to fall by one strategy without a struggle. Right cannot hold its position without a desperate fight, and we have it on our own authority that hot work has in part commenced. On Tuesday morning, just Thursday night, 21st inst, the commanding general, General Sherman, is reported to have been seen at the headquarters of the war, and we take it for granted that the powder has not been wasted. If the decisive moment has not yet arrived, it is not far off."

Col. Dan McCook, commanding Brigade, and Col. Rice, of the 57th Ohio, are very seriously wounded. "We took a few prisoners, but don't suppose we inflicted heavy loss as the enemy kept behind fortifications."

It is believed that the rabbling parties of the enemy, numbering from 4,000 to 5,000 have been ordered to destroy twenty-five miles of the railroad between Burkeville and Keyville...

The plan of operations which we set forth several days ago is evidently being carried out, and the Rebels are making a dash for Petersburg with the bulk of his army, leaving only one corps at Burnside's Headquarters to divide our force and threaten that movement...

"We are not to fall by one strategy without a struggle. Right cannot hold its position without a desperate fight, and we have it on our own authority that hot work has in part commenced. On Tuesday morning, just Thursday night, 21st inst, the commanding general, General Sherman, is reported to have been seen at the headquarters of the war, and we take it for granted that the powder has not been wasted. If the decisive moment has not yet arrived, it is not far off."

Col. Dan McCook, commanding Brigade, and Col. Rice, of the 57th Ohio, are very seriously wounded. "We took a few prisoners, but don't suppose we inflicted heavy loss as the enemy kept behind fortifications."

It is believed that the rabbling parties of the enemy, numbering from 4,000 to 5,000 have been ordered to destroy twenty-five miles of the railroad between Burkeville and Keyville...

The plan of operations which we set forth several days ago is evidently being carried out, and the Rebels are making a dash for Petersburg with the bulk of his army, leaving only one corps at Burnside's Headquarters to divide our force and threaten that movement...

"We are not to fall by one strategy without a struggle. Right cannot hold its position without a desperate fight, and we have it on our own authority that hot work has in part commenced. On Tuesday morning, just Thursday night, 21st inst, the commanding general, General Sherman, is reported to have been seen at the headquarters of the war, and we take it for granted that the powder has not been wasted. If the decisive moment has not yet arrived, it is not far off."

Col. Dan McCook, commanding Brigade, and Col. Rice, of the 57th Ohio, are very seriously wounded. "We took a few prisoners, but don't suppose we inflicted heavy loss as the enemy kept behind fortifications."

It is believed that the rabbling parties of the enemy, numbering from 4,000 to 5,000 have been ordered to destroy twenty-five miles of the railroad between Burkeville and Keyville...

The plan of operations which we set forth several days ago is evidently being carried out, and the Rebels are making a dash for Petersburg with the bulk of his army, leaving only one corps at Burnside's Headquarters to divide our force and threaten that movement...

"We are not to fall by one strategy without a struggle. Right cannot hold its position without a desperate fight, and we have it on our own authority that hot work has in part commenced. On Tuesday morning, just Thursday night, 21st inst, the commanding general, General Sherman, is reported to have been seen at the headquarters of the war, and we take it for granted that the powder has not been wasted. If the decisive moment has not yet arrived, it is not far off."

Col. Dan McCook, commanding Brigade, and Col. Rice, of the 57th Ohio, are very seriously wounded. "We took a few prisoners, but don't suppose we inflicted heavy loss as the enemy kept behind fortifications."

It is believed that the rabbling parties of the enemy, numbering from 4,000 to 5,000 have been ordered to destroy twenty-five miles of the railroad between Burkeville and Keyville...

The plan of operations which we set forth several days ago is evidently being carried out, and the Rebels are making a dash for Petersburg with the bulk of his army, leaving only one corps at Burnside's Headquarters to divide our force and threaten that movement...

"We are not to fall by one strategy without a struggle. Right cannot hold its position without a desperate fight, and we have it on our own authority that hot work has in part commenced. On Tuesday morning, just Thursday night, 21st inst, the commanding general, General Sherman, is reported to have been seen at the headquarters of the war, and we take it for granted that the powder has not been wasted. If the decisive moment has not yet arrived, it is not far off."

Col. Dan McCook, commanding Brigade, and Col. Rice, of the 57th Ohio, are very seriously wounded. "We took a few prisoners, but don't suppose we inflicted heavy loss as the enemy kept behind fortifications."

It is believed that the rabbling parties of the enemy, numbering from 4,000 to 5,000 have been ordered to destroy twenty-five miles of the railroad between Burkeville and Keyville...

The plan of operations which we set forth several days ago is evidently being carried out, and the Rebels are making a dash for Petersburg with the bulk of his army, leaving only one corps at Burnside's Headquarters to divide our force and threaten that movement...

"We are not to fall by one strategy without a struggle. Right cannot hold its position without a desperate fight, and we have it on our own authority that hot work has in part commenced. On Tuesday morning, just Thursday night, 21st inst, the commanding general, General Sherman, is reported to have been seen at the headquarters of the war, and we take it for granted that the powder has not been wasted. If the decisive moment has not yet arrived, it is not far off."

Col. Dan McCook, commanding Brigade, and Col. Rice, of the 57th Ohio, are very seriously wounded. "We took a few prisoners, but don't suppose we inflicted heavy loss as the enemy kept behind fortifications."

It is believed that the rabbling parties of the enemy, numbering from 4,000 to 5,000 have been ordered to destroy twenty-five miles of the railroad between Burkeville and Keyville...

The plan of operations which we set forth several days ago is evidently being carried out, and the Rebels are making a dash for Petersburg with the bulk of his army, leaving only one corps at Burnside's Headquarters to divide our force and threaten that movement...

"We are not to fall by one strategy without a struggle. Right cannot hold its position without a desperate fight, and we have it on our own authority that hot work has in part commenced. On Tuesday morning, just Thursday night, 21st inst, the commanding general, General Sherman, is reported to have been seen at the headquarters of the war, and we take it for granted that the powder has not been wasted. If the decisive moment has not yet arrived, it is not far off."

Col. Dan McCook, commanding Brigade, and Col. Rice, of the 57th Ohio, are very seriously wounded. "We took a few prisoners, but don't suppose we inflicted heavy loss as the enemy kept behind fortifications."

It is believed that the rabbling parties of the enemy, numbering from 4,000 to 5,000 have been ordered to destroy twenty-five miles of the railroad between Burkeville and Keyville...

The plan of operations which we set forth several days ago is evidently being carried out, and the Rebels are making a dash for Petersburg with the bulk of his army, leaving only one corps at Burnside's Headquarters to divide our force and threaten that movement...

"We are not to fall by one strategy without a struggle. Right cannot hold its position without a desperate fight, and we have it on our own authority that hot work has in part commenced. On Tuesday morning, just Thursday night, 21st inst, the commanding general, General Sherman, is reported to have been seen at the headquarters of the war, and we take it for granted that the powder has not been wasted. If the decisive moment has not yet arrived, it is not far off."

Col. Dan McCook, commanding Brigade, and Col. Rice, of the 57th Ohio, are very seriously wounded. "We took a few prisoners, but don't suppose we inflicted heavy loss as the enemy kept behind fortifications."

It is believed that the rabbling parties of the enemy, numbering from 4,000 to 5,000 have been ordered to destroy twenty-five miles of the railroad between Burkeville and Keyville...

The plan of operations which we set forth several days ago is evidently being carried out, and the Rebels are making a dash for Petersburg with the bulk of his army, leaving only one corps at Burnside's Headquarters to divide our force and threaten that movement...

BY AUTHORITY.

PUBLIC ACTS.

First Congress of the Confederate States.

Passed at the fourth session, which was begun and held at the city of Richmond, in the State of Virginia, on the seventh day of December, A. D. 1862, and ended on Thursday, the eighteenth day of February, 1864.

CHAP. LXI.—An Act to provide an Invalid Corps. The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That all officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians, privates and seamen, who have or shall become disabled by wounds, or other injuries received in the service of the Confederate States, and in the line of duty, shall be retired or discharged from their respective positions, as hereinafter provided. But the rank, pay and emoluments of such officers, and the pay and emoluments of such non-commissioned officers, musicians, privates and seamen, shall continue to the end of the war, or so long as they shall continue to be retired or discharged.

Sec. 2. That all persons claiming the benefits of this act, shall present themselves for examination, to be conducted by the Secretary of War, or by such board as he may designate, and in the line of duty, shall be retired or discharged as aforesaid, shall periodically, and at least once in six months, present themselves to one of said boards for further examination, under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of War, the result of which examination shall be reported by such board to the said Secretary. And if any such person shall fail to appear before such board, or shall be dropped from said retired or discharged list, and become liable to conscription, under the provisions of the law, unless such failure shall be caused by physical disability.

Sec. 3. That the Secretary of War may assign to any such retired or discharged officer, musician, non-commissioned officer, private and seaman, for avocational duty, as he may be qualified to perform. If any such non-commissioned officer, musician, private or seaman, shall be relieved from duty, he shall be restored to duty in his respective command.

Sec. 4. That the Secretary of War shall make such regulations for the promotion of the medical corps as aforesaid.

Sec. 5. That vacancies caused by the retirement of officers under this act, shall be filled in case of death or resignation of such officers.

Sec. 6. This act shall be in force from its passage.

Approved February 17, 1864.

CHAP. LXII.—An Act to authorize the promotion of officers, non-commissioned officers and privates for distinguished skill or valor. The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President be and he is authorized by the recommendation of the general commanding a regiment or a separate army in the field, to fill any vacancy in the commissioned officers of a regiment or battalion, by the promotion to the same, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, of any officer, non-commissioned officer, private, or seaman, who has distinguished himself by exhibiting peculiar valor or skill on the battle field. Provided, That the officer, non-commissioned officer, private, or seaman, to be promoted, shall be a member of the regiment or battalion in which the vacancy may have occurred.

Sec. 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

Approved February 17, 1864.

CHAP. LXIII.—An Act to amend the act entitled, "An act to provide and organize engineer troops to serve during the war," approved March 18th, 1862, and to amend the act approved March 18th, 1862, and to amend the act approved March 18th, 1862, and to amend the act approved March 18th, 1862, and to amend the act approved March 18th, 1862,