THE THEATER PROJECT AGAIN.

ENS. RECORD-UNION: As a citizen and well-wisher of Sacramento, I appreciate your efforts in agitating the question of a new theater. Had I never before given the subject any thought, the clear and forcible editorial published in a recent issue of your paper on that question would have been sufficient to satisfy me of the almost absolute necessity of a permanent theater building in this city.

It is well to be recalled that at the annual meeting of the State Agricultural Society a committee of members of the Society and of lawyers was appointed to advise and act with a like committee of the Board of Directors to examine into the changed relations of the Society and the State, under the Constitution, and to report thereon. The committee has since that time been busy in its duties, and has prepared a bill, the principal features of which are as follows: It puts the Society under the exclusive management and control of the State, and requires that the Governor shall appoint ten citizens to constitute a State Board of Agriculture, to hold office for the term of five years each, but so that the persons first appointed shall classify themselves into five classes, so that two will go out of office the first year, two the second, and so on, the bill classifying the full term of five years, vacancies to be filled by appointment of the Governor. It requires that members of the Board shall take the constitutional oath of office, and makes them full State officers. It leaves the title of the property of the Society unchanged, but transfers the management and control of the Society to the State Board, and requires that it shall provide for an annual exhibition of all the industrial products of the State at Sacramento, and also for similar exhibitions in other localities in the State. It requires the Directors to collect industrial statistics and reports to be made annually to the State Board, and these reports are to be systematized and embodied in the Board's report to the Governor. These reports are to be printed and distributed to the public, and the belief that by the new plan, should become a law, the Society will be greatly benefited, and rendered more efficient in advancing the material interests of the State than it has been in the past.

SECTION OF AN UNKOWN MAN.—Yesterday morning a little boy found the dead body of an unknown man in a deserted cabin about 200 yards from the California Pacific Railroad, about two miles and a quarter west of Sacramento. The deceased was lying on the floor with his head upon a block of wood, and in his hand was grasped a pistol, from which had been fired a bullet into the right side of the head and penetrated the brain. The pistol was a six-shot revolver of the "Terror" brand, carrying a 32 cartridge, and held three unexploded shells. Apparently life had been extinct for two or three days. The deceased was about five or six inches high, weighed about 100 pounds, was about 35 years of age, and had a beard and mustache. He was wearing a white shirt with orange and pearl buttons, and blue and red underclothing. He also had on a black hat, and a pair of boots. Upon the right arm just above the wrist was written in blue and red an anchor, a cross and two stars, while on the left arm were the figures of a ship and a cross. No papers were found by which he could be identified. Justice Buckingham, of Washington, held an inquest on the body in a verdict of death by suicide. The body was given to Coroner Vermilya for interment. In one of his pockets was found a paper containing a few ancient shillings. He was perhaps one of the many unfortunate ones who are wandering through the country, without money or friends, in quest of earning a living, and had grown tired of a life which was but one of hunger and distress.

THE BOYS' PROTEST.—Some school-boys of the lower grade, who do not realize that the rules are made and enforced for their good, and that they are to be taught to respect authority, and to play by the rules, were yesterday afternoon engaged in a game of marbles, and were playing in the streets. The boys were playing in the streets, and were playing in the streets. The boys were playing in the streets, and were playing in the streets.

WHY HE LIES.—F. D. Bond, the eccentric old resident who is so fortunate as to be thought rich in domestic life, lives in a car of robbery, and the other day having disappeared, and his dog being found dead in his cabin on Friday, a thorough search was instituted for him by friends and by officers Harvey and Jackson without success. The Administrator was notified, and he set a watch on the building to aid in the disclosure of the truth as to what may have happened. He had turned up. He had purposely abandoned himself because on Thursday his dog had died in a robbery of his own.

TO BE CONDEMNED.—E. Muir writes, complaining bitterly, that the Colville troupe management permitted a swindle to be perpetrated on the people at Saturday's matinee. He charges that numbers of seats were not taken which were not, in fact, taken. Ladies were told by the ushers that they could occupy them on payment of an extra fee per seat, and ladies who declined to submit to the extortion were compelled to stand up during the entire performance. The ushers charged that they had no authority to do so, but that the practice of such acts as charged by Mr. Muir, in the absence of a qualified condemnation, "set scolding" was long since effectually frowned down by the community and managers cannot afford to revive it.

DEATH OF AN Aged Lady.—There died in this city Saturday, at the advanced age of 80 years, Mrs. Mary A. McGowan, a native of Edinburgh. She was the mother of Mrs. E. P. R. of this city, and of David McGowan, a prominent merchant of the same city. Mr. McGowan will take place from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. McGowan, at 2 o'clock to-day, and the friends of the deceased and of her son and daughter are invited to pay the last honors to the dead body at the residence of Mrs. McGowan.

PERSONAL.—George A. Case, Grand Master No. 153, of the city Saturday, and in the evening visited Industrial Lodge, No. 153. He returned to San Francisco on Sunday. He was accompanied by Grand Chancellor of the Order, Judge of Probate, and other members of the lodge.

NOT FOR GRANT.—At the theater Saturday night there was taken a "straw" when one of the actors asked, "Who is the people's friend?" and the audience, thinking or perhaps not, but all that large
