LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

FOR THE BOYS.

Something About the Sacramento Cadet Company.

There has been much inquiry about the proposed new cadet corps, which is designed as a military training class, and evidently there is not that correct understanding concerning the subject by the general public as is desirable. The last Legislature passed a new law governing and regulating the militia of the State, and intended to greatly advance its standard and increase its efficiency. That law contains a provision that the Colonel of California may organize and attach to his regiment one company of cadets, who are to be enrolled for not less than three years, and who are bound, at the end of that enlistment and between the ages of 15 and 21 years to enter and serve one term of enlistment in some company of the N. G. Co. To each of such cadet companies the State, beside arming them, allows one-third the amount of the company of the regiment. The law provides that each member of such cadet company shall be drilled and instructed in the use of any intoxicating drinks, under penalty of dishonorable dismissal from the service. The law requires that the cadets shall be drilled and instructed in the use of any intoxicating drinks, under penalty of dishonorable dismissal from the service. The law requires that the cadets shall be drilled and instructed in the use of any intoxicating drinks, under penalty of dishonorable dismissal from the service.

SACRAMENTO VS. CHICO—THE SARGENT-FIELDS.

The score of the Chico Guard, in the competitive target-shooting with the Sargent Field Guard of Sacramento, was received yesterday. It was the score of May 1st, and as the Guard had the privilege of two trials, and either score, the presumption is that it chose that of May 1st as the best. It showed that the per cent. by the 25 best shots was 62.24, while the Sargent field, it will be remembered, made 79.15. The Chico score shows but two 20s made, and ten men who made 18 and over; while of the Sargent field four made 20 and over, and ten men who made 18 and over. This is a most decisive victory for the Sacramento company, and it has reason to be proud of it. The Sargent field met last evening and the prizes for the late match were distributed in the order won, as set forth in the Record-Union of Thursday. Each winner chose from all the prizes as he was called up. E. D. Dorrington, gold medal and $10; J. P. McNeill, gold medal and two fine vases; H. Holland, gold medal and a silver berry-bush; M. Cooper, gold medal and five inkstands; G. Richardson, silver medal and six-out-glass goblets; Lieutenant Lucas, chrome; James Anderson, cigar case; Sergeant C. W. In the officers' shoot with Smith & Wesson revolvers, 30 yards, four shots each, possible 24, the following scores were made: 1, 0, 5-12; Lieutenant E. Kneeman 1, 1, 4, 0-6; Lieutenant Charles Fortson, 0, 0, 5-5; Lieutenant J. L. Alwood, 1, 0, 0-1; Lieutenant W. J. Cooper, 1, 3, 0-7. Captain Alwood was awarded the first prize, a box of cigars. A pair of field glasses, with machine and optical adjustment, were presented to the company by General Sheehan and staff. The company resolved to hold the gift one year, and then put it up as a prize to be shot for.

PROBABLE STOLEN.

Yesterday a man was observed by one of the police officers endeavoring to exchange a new pair of fine English Congress gaiters for a pair of cheap brogans at a store on Third street, between I and J, which aroused a suspicion that they had been stolen, and he consequently took the man and gaiters to the police station for investigation. The man claims that the gaiters were given to him in the upper part of town for doing some small chore. They are about twenty inches long, made of kid and silk elastic, and have evidently been stolen from some person in this city.

DETECTIVE OBTAINED.

A policeman from Oakland recently arrived in this city armed with a warrant from the Police Court of Oakland for the arrest of a Chinaman for kidnaping a Celestial maiden from that city. On his way up he met a stranger on the cars and to him he related the facts of the case and informed him, wholly unsuspecting, of the important mission. Arriving here he made a descent on the Washington cannery and captured the lost Celestial maiden, and the man who was believed to be guilty of such an offense, and deposited him in the city prison until wanted. The chap, however, not relishing a free trip to Oakland, endeavored to get him out of durance vile. Hearing that a writ of habeas corpus was likely to be issued, the detective took him out of the city prison and crossed to Yolo county. The report is that he patrolled the Washington levee most of the night. He interrogated several men who he met and told them how he played the fellows who had the writ of habeas corpus, and asked advice as to how he could best get out of town. But, as it is the best plan to make a dash for it, "so it was in this instance, and a detective was detected by the writ of habeas corpus man, that in this instance was represented by Deputy Sheriff Preston. The matter came up for hearing yesterday morning. The prisoner was represented by D. E. Alexander and Charles H. Beck, and the writ was granted by District Attorney Buckley. After a partial hearing before the Superior Court, Judge Clark presiding, the matter was postponed until 10 o'clock to-morrow for a full hearing. The last heard of the officer he was threatening to go home if the Court did not go right ahead and finish up his business.

OFF AGAIN.

People begin to ask if the authorities controlling the water works are in league with the saloon men. For several weeks the water has been repeatedly shut off in different sections of the city, night after night, and notice being given, that people might prepare. Complaint of this has been made through the columns of the city press, but no attention has been paid to it. Thursday night the water was shut off again, about midnight from Second to Fourth streets, J to L, and perhaps for a larger district, but in the two blocks mentioned not a drop of water could be had, and if a bucket of the fluid had been needed to quench an incipient conflagration the fire would have burned in perfect freedom. The same night the water was shut off from the block bounded by Fourth and Fifth, O and P streets, without notice, and resulted in much annoyance to two establishments. There were some thirty persons using water for drinking and ablutions at night, not a drop could be had, and the restaurants and saloons near by were unable to apply the demand for water. Heretofore it has been the custom to give notice of intention to shut off in this has not been the case. The complaint is bitter in consequence, and people express themselves as more than surprised that the authorities in charge should be so heedless in operation some time next week, and which it is confidently believed and generally expected will result in a salutary influence toward checking petty crimes and offenses, and to reduce the habitual drunks.

SUDDEN DEATH.

William Grinley, a man of about 40 years of age, residing on Eighth street, between O and P, died very suddenly, night before last. He had been in poor health for some time, and being taken suddenly worse, a physician was sent for, but death took place before his arrival. Coroner Vermylia took charge of the body, and an inquest yesterday afternoon, the fact that death was caused by inflammation of the sac of the heart.

CONTEST FOR CUSTODY OF CHILDREN.

Quite a sensation occurred at Stockton day before yesterday, and which extended in point of its details to this vicinity yesterday. Nathaniel Hunter of San Francisco, Secretary of the Society for the Protection of Children, has been looking after the case of the little Boylston children, which is a drawing card consisting of Thomas H. Devall and his two children, named Frederick and Herbert, and aged 12 and 14 years respectively. Devall has a wife living in San Francisco, who is seeking by legal process to obtain possession of these two children, while Devall has traveling with him another woman, who has a young son, and which woman, Frederick and Herbert have been taught to call mamma, by instructions from their father. Wednesday night the boys gave a concert at Stockton, and yesterday morning Mr. Hunter, accompanied by an order from the Superior Court at San Francisco, awarding the custody of the two children to himself, appeared at Stockton and had Devall arrested for detaining in a public place and for money, his two children as musicians. The Police Judge at Stockton, upon hearing the case, fined Devall $100. Hunter was expecting to take the two children and return to San Francisco by the first train, but while in the Police Court with Devall, the latter, the latter before the Court, the woman who travels with Devall slipped away in some manner, and when Mr. Hunter turned to look for the children he could not be found. Mr. Hunter and it soon became evident that a game for escape had been played. Devall, however, seemed much distressed at their disappearance, and seemed to endeavor in the effort to find them. The telegraph was brought into requisition in all directions, and trains and boats were searched after. Finally Chief Karcher of this city learned that they had got off the train at Brighton, and so telegraphed Mr. Hunter, who came to this city yesterday, and in company with officer Ferral, went to Brighton and found that a woman and three boys had remained there the night before and gone in the direction of Folsom, by private conveyance. Messrs. Hunter and Ferral went in pursuit as far as Perkins, where they found not only the woman and three children, but also Devall, who was waiting to take the train for Folsom, at which point they intended to cross to Roseville and leave the State. The officer brought the two boys to this city last night, and Mr. Hunter and his two wards remained at the Western until this morning, when they will be taken to San Francisco. Upon being asked by Mr. Hunter, after away from their father, why they had remained at Folsom, he mother, they said they wanted to go and see her, but that their father had kept them from seeing her for over a year.
