

GENERAL NEWS.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.

A FRIGHTFUL DEED OF BLOOD.

A Mother Kills Her Children and then Commits Suicide.

THE OUTLOOK AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Prospects for an Executive Session of the Senate.

THE INDIAN SITUATION IN COLORADO.

Discovery of an Active Volcano in Kentucky.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS OF FOREIGN NEWS.

Unsuccessful Attempt to Evict Tenants in Ireland.

Etc. Etc. Etc.

Frightful Tragedy—A Mother Kills Her Three Children and then Commits Suicide.

GRAND ISLAND (Neb.), April 29th.—Christian Koch, engine-wiper for engine 36, which runs between Grand Island and St. Paul, upon returning to St. Paul from this place this morning, where he has been at work for a couple of days, went direct to his home and found the door locked. He looked in and saw one of his children in bed with a wife lying with blood around her upon the floor near the bed. He got the Sheriff, and together they went in and found his three children in bed and his wife on the floor, all with their throats cut with a razor, which was lying on a table near by. The children were aged 4 years, 2 years and six months, respectively. It is thought the mother first murdered her children and then committed suicide. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts. No reason is given for the terrible deed, and there is no evidence of insanity. She left only the words "good-by" to explain her actions.

Scene on Broadway.

NEW YORK, April 29th.—A characteristic Broadway scene was afforded yesterday in front of the Astor Hotel. The Immigrant Society, which is well known for its benevolent work, was holding a meeting in the evening. A party of Italians, dressed as at home, came sauntering up the street yesterday afternoon, and when opposite the entrance of the Astor Hotel, a young man, Brannan, who was enjoying his after-dinner cigar, being struck with their quiet, homely good-nature, he gave a father, mother and daughter a friendly greeting. They seized poor Brannan's hands and repeatedly kissed and kissed them. A cheering crowd collected, and the blushing Brannan as soon as possible.

Adviced to Stand by Their Guns—Personal.

WASHINGTON, April 29th.—Ex-Senator Eaton, of Connecticut, who is now in Washington, advises the Democratic Senators to stick to their present position in regard to the election of Senate officers until 1883. He also advises them to vote against the confirmation of Judge Robertson, arguing that if they enable Conkling to defeat Robertson, a breach will be created in the Republican party of New York, which will give the State to the Democrats.

Senator Vest returned this morning from Missouri, having completed arrangements, he says, to remain here all summer. Curtis J. Hillier and H. M. Hutchinson have arrived from San Francisco.

Dorsey and the Star Route Scandal.

WASHINGTON, April 29th.—Ex-Senator Dorsey has been active all day, endeavoring to offset the allegations connecting him with the star-route ring, to clear himself of the charges. It was stated by a Western Associated Press reporter to-night, by authority direct from Dorsey, that the latter had requested the Postmaster-General to investigate immediately Dorsey's alleged complicity; that the Postmaster-General admitted that he could not find any evidence to connect Dorsey with the ring, and General James will tomorrow write a letter to the President stating that nothing has been found against Dorsey.

Patents to Pacific Coast Inventors.

WASHINGTON, April 29th.—The Patent Office has issued this week to Pacific coast inventors as follows: California—F. C. Treadwell, administratrix of Lafayette Hinkley, San Francisco, method of handling asphaltum and glycerine; Wm. F. Jeans, wool and wool-spreeder for threshing machines; John F. Greiner, San Rafael, assessor of three-fourths to E. P. Flint of San Francisco, apparatus for process of producing artificial cold by chloride of ethyl; Eugene O'Neill, San Francisco, valve motion cut-off; Peter H. Baker, San Francisco, padlock; John Wright, Rhineville, gate; Edward Mason, San Francisco, rest and guide for penmen. Oregon—Edward Squires, Beaverton, plow. Nevada—Peter Bart, Virginia City, flushing and cleaning wires. Utah—J. Jeppson, Provo City, wood-planing machine; Charles Lowell, Ogden, belt lunge; Joseph Wear, Park City, guide for saws.

The Congressional Question in South Carolina.

WASHINGTON, April 29th.—A special election will be ordered in South Carolina, to elect a member of Congress in place of O'Connor, deceased, as the Governor of that State holds that O'Connor was legally elected last fall. Mackey (Rep.), who ran against O'Connor, contested the election, and he was elected. As the district is Republican, Mackey's friends advised him to make the race, believing that he could be so plainly elected as to avoid a contest, and that his plan would be easier and cheaper than to make the contest. The Democrats hold that O'Connor's popularity with the colored voters elected him, and that the result would be a finding another man who could carry the district. It is announced now that the Democrats intend to run a large number of lawyers as a Democrat, who supports Garfield's administration, and will make his race on a pledge to support them in Congress. Owing to the nearly equal number of colored voters in the next House, one seat is valuable, and the indications are that both parties will strain every nerve to get this seat.

The Outlook as Regards to an Executive Session of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 29th.—The Republican caucus committee has been in conference with the President to-day, and an executive session is certain to be held next week. Once in executive session, the nomination of Robertson, along with the others, will be referred to the Commerce Committee. This course is believed to be the best. A majority of the committee agree with Conkling in opposing Robertson, and there it will be in Conkling's power to report it or not. Evidence all go to show that he will report this session. He wants to get an opportunity to put on record his position on the Robertson case. He has remained silent as long as he can in order to see the present circumstances and conditions as favorable to him as a Senator.

The Indian Situation.

CHEYENNE (Wyo.), April 29th.—Leader special says: Dividends will be paid next month by the following mines: Chrysolite, $100,000; Iron Silver, $100,000; Matchless, $75,000; Robinson, $50,000; El Paso Star, $25,000; Hibernia, $30,000; La Plata and Danpink, $15,000 each. All interest in Comstock and Blue Tail lodes was yesterday transferred to the Comstock Mining Company for $200,000.

Flood Reports—Mississippi and Missouri Rivers.

St. Paul (Minn.), April 29th.—The river is stationary here and falling above. No additional damage is reported from above.

LEXINGTON (Mo.), April 29th.—The Missouri river is 22 feet 8 inches at this point. The water has been since the day the Lafayette cotton bottoms are submerged, and are being rapidly depopulated. No lives have yet been lost, but thousands of horses, cattle and hogs were inevitably perished. The ferryboat Urdine, with a gallant volunteer crew, has been at work two days rescuing the endangered people. To-day 400 brought 25 loaded wagons and 50 wagon loads of household goods. She goes out again to-morrow. The water in many places is 10 feet deep. There is a fearful loss of property, and much suffering and distress.

Sensation at Omaha—Arrest for Embezzlement.

OMAHA, April 29th.—Quite a sensation was created here to-day by the arrest of R. H. Kelly, Cashier at the E. and M. Railroad headquarters in this city, for the embezzlement of $2,800. Yesterday Auditor Randall began to check up his accounts, and found the deficiencies. To-day Kelly attempted to leave town with about $400 in his pockets, also checks, drafts, money orders, etc., in all amounting to over $1,600, which he had taken from the money-drawer during the night. He was caught and detained by Auditor Randall, who turned him over to a policeman. Kelly admits the crime and waived examination. He has been committed to jail in default of $4,000 bail. He is a lot of money, and is being consorting with fast women, which explains his delinquency. He has been in several scrapes before.

Tempest in a Teapot.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, April 29th.—The Board of Trade has adopted resolutions that the appointment of Kuntze and Frost, of Omaha, as Government Directors of the Union Pacific Railroad, is tantamount to the interest of the Government. It is claimed that Frost's character is besmirched, and that Kuntze has been a banker for the Union Pacific Railroad, and both reside in Omaha, while Iowa has no representative. The Omaha people resent these assertions, defend Frost as a pure, honest man, and assert that Kuntze has not lived in Omaha for ten years, and seldom visits there.

Volcano in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, April 29th.—A volcano has broken out on the farm of N. A. Jarnagin, in the southern portion of Ohio county. One day last week a volcano was attacked by a place by gas as it escaped from the earth, and found on examination that the earth was seemingly on fire. He held a stick over the place, and the heat caused it to ignite. Many persons have visited the place, and its source is a wonder to all.

The Situation at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 29th.—The street cars were mostly running today, each company making its own terms with the men. The only disturbance today was on the Cass avenue line, where some twenty Irish women pulled a driver and his car to the curb, and water on him, and some men threw stones. Nobody was hurt and no arrests were made. The strikers who are still out are much discouraged.

Village Destroyed by Fire.

CHICAGO, April 29th.—The Evening Journal's special this morning says the whole business portion of the village of Mount Morris, Michigan, has been destroyed. The loss is very large. The town is almost wiped out.

Dangerous Illness.

CHICAGO, April 29th.—Rev. Dr. H. A. Thomas, the celebrated divine, is dangerously sick to-night.

The Chinese Treaties.

NEW YORK, April 30th.—A. M.—Dispatches from Washington say the prospect of the treaties being considered soon by the Senate is exciting much interest here. Comment thereon. It is understood that the Boston merchants will bring a heavy influence to bear on the New England Senators in opposition to the clause of the treaty prohibiting the opium trade by vessels under the American flag. People of broader views are in favor of the treaty, and in favor of the consumption of the opium. The loss to a few marine merchants will be comparatively insignificant. Besides the prestige to be gained by the securing of a treaty with China, that empire will never forget the opium war with England, and the country who first consummates a satisfactory treaty immediately will reap the benefit of other branches of commerce.

Another Explanation from Brady.

NEW YORK, April 30th.—A. M.—General Brady writes to the Tribune a letter, wherein the following are extracts: "As soon as Garfield was inaugurated I became aware of a pressure upon him for the position I then held, and in order to relieve him from the slightest embarrassment, I caused him to know that any time it would accommodate him my resignation would be had. There were no charges against me of any nature, which I then knew, and when it was suggested to me by the Postmaster-General that the time had arrived when I could accommodate the President, I promptly made good my assurance. During my connection with the office of Second Assistant Postmaster-General, covering a period of nearly five years, and involving the expenditure of nearly one hundred millions of dollars, it is conceded by the present Postmaster-General, as it was thrice decided by Congress, that I acted at all times exactly in accordance with law. My judgment has been impugned, but not a responsible person has yet charged me with corruption or malfeasance. The charges I resigned on compulsion, under charges of corruption and malfeasance, is absolutely untrue. I have since been informed, and need not say how much to my surprise, that the President has stated that he did not ask for my resignation, and that his first knowledge of it was its presentation to him by the Postmaster-General."

After the trial of the details of the star route service, whereby he shows that nothing was done fairly or unjustly, he concludes: "It is quite possible that the discretion granted to the Postmaster-General, by which he was permitted to expedite routes was unwise. I twice recommended to Congress that it should be limited, and finally, upon that suggestion, it was defined and limited. While authority was left with the Postmaster-General it was used, and the result was a scandalous case. All references to Congress. All references to you and other newspapers were communicated by me to Congress, and thus made public. Congress investigated, and both officials and contractors stood to dispassionate bidders and those patriotic newspaper correspondents, who every hour of their lives sustain a painful and a self-sacrificing for that the Government had cheated, granted ample time for full and fair discussion, and voted by a decided majority to sustain the action of the President in the matter of the star routes. Nothing has been settled, and that all these matters are to be reopened and rejudged by the newspapers."

FOREIGN NEWS.

Russia.

THE GRAVITY OF THE SITUATION. ST. PETERSBURG, April 29th.—It would be difficult to exaggerate the gravity of the situation in Russia. Never before has there been of a steady hand at the helm, and the universal felt. It required nothing less than the tragedy of the 13th of March to open men's eyes to the fact that the reform which the revolutionists endeavored to bring from the Government by deeds of bloodshed, was not and must not be delayed. In the matter of the reform, the women of Russia are much superior to the men. If they were to formulate their desires, they could speedily bring about the reforms contained in the last proclamation of the famous Executive Committee. It is surprising to see how much there is in common between Russian intelligence and the revolutionary party. The distinction between them was not in the end, but in the means. The very absence of freedom, which some demand and all desire, leaves the Russian reformer no choice but violence or sedition. No one who has traveled through Russia lately can have failed to mark the difference between the peasant of the past and the peasant of the present. Servile politeness has given way to an independence, rude and sometimes brutal. When a man bows to a passing stranger, the youth looks on his way with a million stars. The latter has a dangerous knowledge of his rights and wrongs, which makes him in many cases a more formidable opponent than the conservative revolutionary propagandist. Go where you will, from the White to the Black Sea, from the Danube to the Amoor, the peasants are awaking from the death-like slumber of centuries. The spring-time of national life is dawning. The trees still look withered and dead. The winter snow still whitens the ground. A chilly east rustles through the branches; but the sap is rising and the leaves blossom and fruit with the spring forth. What sort of crop it will depend mainly on the decisions that must shortly be taken. Meantime the Emperor lives retirement at Gatchina, and sees no one but Prince Narontoff Centonik. The people speak in official circles of a moral abdication, and shake their heads when they speak of the Emperor's retirement. They are not long and we shall have a manifesto of some sort and an indication of the policy to be pursued. At present there is none, and Russia's future hangs in the air.

NOT CAUSED BY SUPERSTITION.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 29th.—Serious disturbances, originating in the superstition of the peasantry regarding the Jewish Passover rites, have occurred at Gatchina, and destroyed a synagogue. Many rioters were killed by the troops summoned to suppress the riot.

Great Britain.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT AT EVICTION. LONDON, April 29th.—An attempt to evict tenants at Newport-to-day failed. Five hundred military and police were present, but a mob of 6,000, many armed with revolvers, met them at the entrance. The Sheriff and his assistants, the police charged the mob several times, but the bailiffs' life being threatened he refused to point out the houses of the delinquent tenants. Another attempt to evict will be made shortly.

Foxhall, the Promising American Colt.

LONDON, April 29th.—The Daily Telegraph says of Foxhall: "He has beaten everything except the Derby winner, and no better three-year-old has been in this year public, although his compatriot Barret, despite his steep and upright shoulders, carried the largest weight of American money. Our enterprising kinsman had been congratulated upon having sent us in Foxhall such a colt as must gladden the hearts of all good judges of horse flesh; a colt, too, if he remains sound, which will make his name known to the English sword."

Germany.

THE POPULAR MOVEMENT AGAINST THE JEWS. BERLIN, April 29th.—The popular movement against the Jews has broken out at Aignau, West Prussia. A mob led by a school teacher, who had been one of some Jews and maltreated the inmates.

Roumania.

THE CORONATION OF KING CHARLES. LONDON, April 29th.—A Bucharest dispatch says: King Charles has declined the invitation to visit London for the coronation, which was to cost half a million francs. His Majesty expressed with the coronation, and the coronation of Turkish king, which he had intended to attend at Plevna, he used instead; the scepter to be made of the same material, after a model belonging to William the hero of the sixteenth century; the coronation to be confined to the presentation of the crown. The King will not be anointed. He considers that being a constitutional monarch there should be no outward emblem of divine right in the coronation.

Turkey.

THE ALBANIAN INSURRECTION. CONSTANTINOPLE, April 29th.—Derivich Pasha, who has been engaged in an expedition against Grising, where the Albanian insurgents are concentrated. Troops will be dispatched to Ispek, Presina and Jacova. The pacification of Albania is regarded as assured.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

London advices announce that Rev. Charles Girdlestone, author of many religious works, is dead.

Royal S. Carr, for the murder of W. W. Mumfrenick, was hanged yesterday at Winchester.

At Prescott, Ont., yesterday, Buckley's block was burned. Loss, $80,000; insured for $27,000.

At Charlotte, N. C., yesterday, Marshall Baxter was hanged for the murder of Bob Hennigan last January.

A Paris dispatch says the French garrison at Kiel received the submission of the adjacent tribes and dismissed them to their homes.

John Gohlard, alias Andy Smith (colored), convicted of the murder of Joe Woods on the 21st of December last, was hanged at Towson, Md., yesterday morning.

Andrew Portek, Adam Urlich and John Markin were killed by a fall of rocks yesterday afternoon in the tunnel of the Susquehanna Coal Company at Mantiocke, Pa.

A prominent diplomatist at St. Petersburg reports that the Czar and his counselors are disposed to adopt stringent repressive measures having no example in Russian history.

The movement among the Radicals at London in opposition to a monument to Beaconsfield is assuming form. An amendment is likely to be submitted in the House of Commons.

The house of James Parsons, near Charlotte, Mich., was burned Thursday night. The family fled to the roof left in Mrs. Parsons, and a child were probably fatally burned.

The efforts to adjust the difference between the pro and anti amendment wings of the Democratic party in Nevada is a compromise, and the matter will be settled by a referendum.

A Madrid dispatch says: It is said the Free Traders urge the Cabinet to negotiate a treaty with the United States, by which the United States are to receive special concessions for exports from Cuba.

The United States Attorney-General confirms previous opinions as to the legality of withholding letters addressed to masters of fraudulent lottery schemes. He holds that they should not be delivered by United States carriers.

George H. Snook, Dr. W. Decker, Morris Axtell and Charles Wood of Mount Clemens, Mich., went fishing on Lake St. Clair and are missing since Wednesday. It is believed that all are lost. They were all prominent citizens.

General Longstreet, the American Minister, has left Constantinople on leave of absence for Vienna and Western Europe. He has obtained a firm, and has the American Archaeological Society for excavations at Assos Island, Cephalonia.

The failures reported to Bradstreet's the past week throughout the United States and Canada number 108—at the rate of 17 over the record of the preceding week; but the number is below the average, which for the past ten weeks has been 122.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will be built this summer at Altoona, Pa. They will be much larger and more powerful than the ordinary passenger engines, and are to be built by the American Locomotive Company, which is now engaged in making up time in portions of the road where there are long stops. The monster locomotive known as No. 10 was built as an experiment, and it is seen that the factory. The driving-wheels are six feet six inches high.

The total number of nominations sent to the United States Senate to-day, and awaiting action, is 17. The names of the nominees are: William W. Phelps, as Minister to Austria; William H. Robertson, as Collector of Customs at New York; Mr. Gomer, as Secretary of the Interior; General J. W. A. M. Grier, as Third Assistant Postmaster-General; Mr. Hill, Assistant Secretary of State; Mr. Price, as Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

Tramps afflict Dutch Flat. Sodom is a new town in Polk county, Oregon.

Frost Saturday night ruined the Washeo county wheat, fruit crop, etc.

They are harvesting wheat and barley in Salt River Valley, Arizona.

Smoke Creek valley, Roubidoux county, Nevada, is filling up with settlers.

J. H. Hitt, of San Bernardino, has sold over 20,000 young carp this year.

Astoria, Or., citizens wish to bond the whole place to build a breakwater.

Scarlet fever in Gold Hill, typhoid fever in Carson and small-pox in Eureka, Nev.

Mill creek and other streams are overflowing the lowlands south of Salt Lake City.

Headburg's last curiosity is a four-legged turkey, which unfortunately lived but a few days.

There are three daily papers at Tombstone, A. T., and everything else there is being overdone in its proportion.

The ostrich man has been shot by the Donaloes are full of claims. It is said a man can dig a bushel in half an hour.

THE FARMERS' CLUB ANSWERS THE LEAGUE.

(Visalia, Cal.)

The Farmers' Club requests us to publish the League's abolition of the Mused Slough railroad controversy. As we consider both sides of this question, we will give a fair and impartial hearing to the League's position, and we will give the same privilege to those of opposite views who may wish to reply.

In our communication published on the 18th of March, we have given the League's position as so poorly understood. To this the League take exception. There are always two sides to a story; and we have given the League's side, and we believe that the public have been deceived as to the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have permitted their "agents," "setters," and so often that the public has not seen the real facts in the case. True, much has been said and published about the League's version of the facts, and as far as possible their version of the facts, and before stated, they have assumed to speak for and represent the whole country. They have