Weather Probabilities. WASHINGTON, February 6 (Midnight). Indications for California coast: Fair weather. For the northern Pacific coast: Local rains.

THIS MORNING'S NEWS.

In New York Government bonds are quoted at 118 1/2 for 4s of 1887; 114 1/2 for 10 1/2 of 1891; Sterling, $4 5/8 for silver bars, 114 1/2.

The Belcher Mining Company have levied an assessment of 60 cents per share, and Yellow Jacket of $1.

Mining stocks opened quiet in San Francisco yesterday morning. The record of sales was limited.

An emigrant and freight train tried to pass each other on the same track, yesterday, near Dos Palms, on the Santa Fe railroad.

Fire at Junction City, Or. Wm. Neal, one of the Oakland (Ky.) murderers, has been sentenced to be hanged April 14th.

General Buford, the well-known Kentucky turf man, has resumed the race track and joined the church.

Quartermaster General Meigs and Paymaster General Brown have been placed upon the retired list of the army.

A Southern dispatch announces that the insurgents have burned Oquiba, between Sarajevo and Mostar.

A cotton factory was burned yesterday at Jarvis, Kansas, which was insured for $100,000.

The First Methodist Church at Racine, Wis., was destroyed last Sunday.

More reassurance news is received at London concerning the Egyptian situation.

CHILE AND PERU.

It seems probable now that the Washington Government will pursue a conservative policy with regard to Chile and Peru.

It is not probable that the United States has been made to play a most absurd, blundering and irrational part in this case.

During the period when his kind offices would have done some real good to Peru, and when it might have prevented the complete crushing of the latter, it remained inactive.

Suddenly, when the mischief had been done, and the conquered country was absolutely helpless, our Government developed a most astonishing fit of activity.

Between Harbut, Kilpatrick and Secretary Blaine, a most amazing program was rapidly developed.

Harbut began by evolving from his inner consciousness a new kind of international law.

He gravely informed the Chilean Government that a conqueror had no right to exact a territorial indemnity until he had failed to obtain a money compensation.

He further declared (and not without warrant in his instructions) that his Government expected Chile to forego all demands for the cession of Peruvian territory.

Astonished at this language the Chileans in their perplexity indignantly appealed to Kilpatrick, and he at once reassured them by declaring that Harbut was entirely without authority to say what he had done.

Of course Chile ought to have appealed to the United States Government directly, and not to Harbut's statements.

But the Peruvians believe that the United States had determined to come to their assistance, and on the strength of this belief they became so bold that the arrest of Calderon, their provisional President, was almost forced upon the Chileans.

This arrest, however, was interpreted by the State Department as a deliberate insult to the United States, and Mr. Blaine at once instructed Trecothick to proceed to the scene of the difficulty, and to demand an immediate liberation of Calderon, on pain of prompt suspension of diplomatic relations.

In this way we were drifting into war with Chile at a pretty swift pace. In fact it seems probable now that war could not have been avoided had not a change of administration occurred at this juncture.

THE METROPOLIS.

Arrangement which has for its basis the assumption that they are mere epherals, and that their only function is to work out the enormous debt which the extravagance, sensuality and monstrous corruption of their rulers has entailed upon the country.

Christian England has for many years been supplying the Pashas of Egypt with enormous sums, three-fourths of which all the world know to be worse than wasted.

Her capitalists and investors have seen how these wretched despots were pledging the industry of millions of human beings for generations in order to obtain further funds wherewith to pamper their degrading sensuality and their shameless profligacy.

But there has never been a doubt expressed by Christian England as to the morality of the transaction, and now she is under solemn pledges to invade Egypt with her armies and to shoot down the Egyptians who have the audacity to express a preference for independence over continued submission to one of the most grinding tyrannies on the face of the earth.

The Egyptians want home rule. They demand freedom from foreign control. They claim the right to elect their own rulers, and to enfranchise themselves from the slavery to which the Khedives have undertaken to sell them.

What will the Liberal Government of Mr. Gladstone do in these circumstances? When Napoleon imposed his yoke upon Spain, England thought it her duty to espouse the cause of Spanish nationality.

It is now to reverse her ancient policy, and to appear as the calvar of Egypt? The money-power is arrayed against the poor Egyptian. The sentiment of Mark Lane is against them. The creditors of Egypt are prepared to consign the Fellahs to eternal servitude, rather than relinquish their claims.

And when it is a question of the purse, England can be very callous, as instance the Chinese opium war. Yet it is a difficult problem to solve. If the Egyptian National party is determined, foreign intervention for the support of the present system may easily be made to merge into annexation; but here the question of French demands comes in to complicate matters, and though France has to some extent been paid in advance in freedom from intervention, she has not relinquished her claims.

She shows plain indications of a desire to hold on to Egypt also. The views of Germany must be sought. Bismarck cannot be left out of such calculations. And altogether the situation is one which threatens almost as serious difficulties and embarrassments as that of Ireland. Were it not for the money question it might be settled without much trouble, but the Khedive's creditors insist upon having all that is nominated in the bond, and they are very likely to control the situation.

NEW MEXICO AS A STATE. We fully concur in the opinion of the Congressmen referred to in a recent article, that it would be a great blunder to admit New Mexico to the Union.

Of all the Territories that one may be said to possess the fewest claims to admission. A very large proportion of the population consists of men of mixed Spanish and Indian blood, who neither speak English nor understand American institutions.

In fact to make such a Territory a State would be almost equivalent to admitting one of the South American slave republics into the Union. The business of making new States ought to be proceeded with very cautiously henceforward, moreover. The question of population should be fully considered, to begin with.

States with sparse population are almost certain to become rotten boroughs in politics. Their representation in Congress is bought and sold. They can be employed to fortify interests which are antagonistic to those of the commonwealth. They produce venality and irresponsibility in politics. They increase the clamor and scrambling for office. They encourage misgovernment and corruption in many ways.

THE METROPOLIS.

Headboard contributed $100 to the Veterans' Home. California quail are to be sent to Maine to stock the woods.

There is considerable pneumonia prevailing in Salt Lake. One hundred and thirty pupils are enrolled in the Truckee public schools.

Monterey is an applicant for the Soldiers' Home. The Government owns land there. All Cities, for seventeen years editor of the Gold Hill News, has assumed charge of the Astor.

The colored population of Nevada is less than 400. There are 5,416 Chinese and 2,863 Indians in the State. Miller & Lux have on their ranches 50,000 head of cattle and 110,000 head of sheep.

The Healdsburg Enterprise, an enterprising and well-conducted journal, has entered on its seventh volume. It is a valued weekly exchange.

Montana calls to the Northern Pacific managers to provide in season enough double-decked cars to carry 30,000 sheep to the East coast in 1882.

William Long was thrown from a car by a running dog, on the Empire road, near Antioch, Monday last, and was killed. Several others on the car were badly hurt.

There was so much drunkenness in Salt Lake City, Utah, on the Christmas holidays, that the City Council passed a special ordinance forbidding the sale of intoxicating liquors on New Year's day.

The large barn of W. S. M. Wright, on the Sebastopol road, Sonoma county, was burned to the ground last Thursday. About 400 sacks of grain and 100 tons of hay were destroyed.

C. W. Hoyt, of Patulama, has an almond tree laden with full blown flowers. Considering that he has unusually cold weather, for this latitude, it is quite remarkable to see trees in full bloom in the early days of February.

The Sonoma Index says that at the next regular meeting of the Sonoma Veterinary Club, which will be held on February 5th, 450 members will be distributed free to those members of the Club having phylloxera in their vineyards.

A Montana paper says that December 15th an army of buffaloes, estimated to be a million, was seen in the Yellowstone valley. Numbers of people went from Miles City to look at the wonderful sight and to hunt. One brought back a rare trophy of the skin of a white buffalo.

Teopa, the Piute chief, says there will be plenty of grass in his country for sheep this summer. He says there will be plenty of water to grow alfalfa, and has engaged to come after some parties to show them the way to the grazing ground where their sheep in about that time.

SACRAMENTO TEMPERATURE. TEMPERATURE YESTERDAY: Highest, 51; Lowest, 40. TEMPERATURE CORRESPONDING DAY, 1881: Highest, 56; Lowest, 51.

TEMPERATURE YESTERDAY IN NEW YORK AND CHICAGO. (Special by Telegraph-Courtesy of the RECORD-UNION.) NEW YORK: Highest, 38; Lowest, 20. CHICAGO: Highest, 37; Lowest, 26.

REPLENISHING! This mid-week will witness the coming of a big assortment of WINTER CLOTHING. Trade all along has been more than ordinary, and now that we have had to replenish our stock so heavily at a season of the year when most merchants are over-supplied, we think there must be something extraordinary about the goodness of the season's supply, and yet it is hardly more than would be expected.

Such carefulness in making; such honesty in cloth, and exactness in shape, as well as prices as low as ours, are merits which should be obscured. There is one proof of SUCCESS! SUCCESS!

A gentleman, who is well-posted in San Francisco Shoe Prices, remarked the other day, on looking at our HEAVY "DOM PEDRO" SHOES, at $2, "that he had never seen them sell there for less than a third more." They are full-stock, with bellows tongue and triple soles. Splendid for heavy wear.

BLACK CASHMERE are doubtless being bought every day by those who are not posted on our prices. It would certainly be to the interest of a good many people if it were otherwise. The 50, 60, 75 cents and $1 grades are particularly worthy of mention.

OUR FINEST DRESS BOOTS - that is as fine as the finest anywhere - French Calf, hand-sewed, $7 25. GENTLEMEN'S FOUR-PLY CUFFS, all-linen, three pairs for $1. Some not so fine, but good to wear, 20 cents a pair.

ARMURE DRESS GOODS, half-wool, 10 cents a yard. A large lot of SILK HANDKERCHIEFS - intended for Christmas trade - came too late for the Holidays, and the consequence is an extra-fine assortment for this time of the year. It is an extra advantage in selecting, which not a few have seized upon. Prices low.

Two, three or four packages of CIGARETTE PAPERS for 10 cents. STRONG BROGANS, $1 25; full money's worth. THE "NEW EDITION" - An Eastern Novelty in Young Men's HATS; low crown, handsomely lined and finished. Price, $3 50.

BLACK SILK EMBOSSED VELVET, $1 25; also, NEW SILK PLUSHES, in a variety of colors. MEN'S FULL-STOCK BOOTS, with double soles, $3. Many other kinds besides. HEAVY BLANKET GLOVES, with Buck Palms, 75 and 85 cents.

MECHANICS' STORE, Nos. 400, 402, 404, 406, 408 K st., Sacramento. ONE PRICE.
