

DAILY WEATHER REPORT.

Table with columns: Barom., Ther., Direction of wind, Force of wind, State of sky, and Remarks. Includes data for Sacramento and various locations like Olympia, Portland, etc.

GOVERNMENT MENTIONS.

Metropolitan Theater—Minstrels—Afternoon and evening. Atlantic Garden—Verrill, the Marics. Another remarkable feat—Henry C. Goodridge, Ward—Situation as usual.

Auction To-day.

Sherburn & Smith—Furniture, etc. Cracker Bakery—No. 718 E. street. H. C. Wheeler—Removal.

THE RECORD-UNION IS FOR SALE

upon all trains going from and coming to Sacramento, at FIVE CENTS per copy. Ask for it on the train.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

The State Board of Equalization are in daily session at the Capitol. They are hearing statements and evidence in regard to the value of the different railroads in the State, preparatory to making the railroad assessments, which are required by law to be made on or before the third Monday in August.

David Nye appeared yesterday on behalf of the North Pacific Coast Railroad. He is the General Superintendent. The road is 73 1/2 miles in length, running from Sacramento to Dunsmuir, passing through Marin and Sonoma counties. The franchise is valued at $1 per mile, and the roadway, roadbed and rails, at $120,000. The gross earnings for the year 1882 are $378,199.67, and the cost of operating, $254,745.72, leaving a proportionate income of $123,453.95. The lands, premises, property, etc., are valued at $149,621. The total value of property belonging to the company, as shown by the statement of the Superintendent, is $536,822.25.

S. Washburn, Superintendent of the San Joaquin and Sierra Nevada Railroad, appeared before the board on behalf of the company. This road has been recently constructed and runs from Brock's Landing, in San Joaquin county, on the south branch of the Mokelumne river, to an eastern direction, to a point in Calaveras county just across the line between the latter and San Joaquin counties, being a distance of 20 1/2 miles. The franchise, roadway, etc., are valued at $78,810, and the rolling stock at $38,050.

The San Francisco and North Pacific Railway, 22 1/2 miles in length, consists of three lines in Sonoma and Marin counties. Arthur Hughes, General Manager, and Thomas W. Johnson, the Secretary, appeared before the board. The franchise is valued at 27 cents per mile, with the roadway, etc., amounting to $430,288.75. The rolling stock is valued at $109,290. The total value of the company's property is returned as $539,578.85, and the proportionate income $195,173.88.

The General Manager of the Central Northern Railroad Company, A. J. Binney, appeared on behalf of his company. The road runs from Newark, Alameda county, through Santa Clara county to a point in Santa Cruz county, 45 1/2 miles from Newark. The franchise, valued at $1 per mile, and the roadway, roadbed and rails amount, according to the statement filed, to $181,200, and other equipment at $137,000. The gross earnings for the year 1882 are $663,301.50, and the income $120,419.10.

The Vaca Valley and Clear Lake Railroad runs from Elmira, Solano county, to Madison, Yuba county, a distance of 80 miles. The roadway, etc., is valued at $95,200, and the rolling stock at $108,700. The company owns lands, ditches and improvements amounting to $75,768. The gross earnings for 1882 were $91,698.12, and the income $29,457.77. The company was represented before the board by the President, W. J. Davis, and it is expected that representatives of the Central Pacific will appear before the board on Monday.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—The Board of Supervisors met in regular session yesterday, all the members present. Mrs. Harrigan appeared before the board to present certain claims against the county regarding real estate at the County Hospital. On motion of Steinman, the same was referred to the District Attorney. Win. J. Davis, the official Court Reporter, a few days since put in his claim for reportorial services in the Trolund murder examination. The Board cut his bill down one-half—that is, from $850 to $200. On motion of Samuel Gottlieb, the matter was reconsidered and the bill allowed. A complaint of the same kind was made by the District Attorney of J. C. Tabbs, was read and referred to acting District Attorney Clarkson. Mr. Blair moved that the Clerk make a bill out against W. J. Davis for the amount of $20 per month for seven months, and give the same to the Chairman of the Building Committee for collection. This was carried. Ayres—Blair, Gottlieb, Bailey and Smith. Nos.—Steinman, McLaughlin and Christy. A complaint of Albert M. Johnson was read and referred to reporter's fees was read and referred to acting District Attorney Clarkson. Mr. Blair moved that in future the Board will not pay any bills presented by physicians for examining persons charged with insanity unless said bills are accompanied by a certificate of the Clerk of the Court certifying that the examination was made by the order of one of the Superior Judges of the county. Carried.

METROPOLITAN THEATER.—Another excellent performance was given to an exceedingly large audience by the Callender Colored Minstrels last evening. The troupe entirely satisfied the people of its ability to amuse. There is the perfection of discipline in all this company does. The readiness of the leading men, their willingness to respond to the popular call, and their patience in gratifying special desires manifested by scores, go far toward perfecting them. The company which could safely engage here for a week and be assured of good houses, will give a final performance to-night and will retire to their room. Seats can be reserved for the matinee this forenoon if desired. The Callenders should come this way again while on the coast.

We shall sell, for the next twenty days, a large lot of men's and boys' straw hats, consisting of different kinds, from 35 cent cheap hats to the $2 Manilla. These hats will all be sold at one-half the former prices; hats that sold for 25 cents now sell for 12 1/2 cents; 50 cents now sell for 25 cents; $1 now sell for 50 cents. Red House.

In our military department we are receiving new hats daily; received to-day one shell hat, new colors and shades. Red House.

ANOTHER CONVICTION.

The Chinese Quarters are Obnoxious—The Verdict of Another Jury.

Yesterday morning the Police Court-room was crowded with spectators. Apparently all were anxious to see what disposition would be made of the case of J. D. Tate, a landlord in Chinatown, charged with having violated the health ordinance. The following jury was obtained and sworn in to try the case: G. L. Clark, P. H. Wall, S. Dwyer, O. O. Lacey, Isiah Dunlap, Tom Cook, John Friend, C. Lee, Jerry Payne, M. Fay, F. N. Mott and J. L. McCord. Henry Edgerton appeared for the defense, and the prosecution was represented by City Attorney Edgerton and S. C. Danan.

Health Officer Fernal was the first witness. Counselor Edgerton objected to almost every question, but the objections were overruled. Witnesses and jurors sat up and down, besides an overflowing jury. After further objections by Edgerton he bunched them all together into the general one that he objected to all questions under the complaint, as it did not set forth facts sufficient to constitute an action. In the cross-examination Edgerton submitted questions to a number of questions, all of which had to do with the health of the Chinese in Chinatown, August 1, 1883. The drainage is bad, and slugs and such matter run to the ground and lie upon the ground. The water is not clean and lies there in the hot sun in a body of water, and the result is awful. The jury was overflowing and drained out on the ground. The water was filthy. The water surface of the ground under the house was damp and filthy. The water was kitchen slops. It was very filthy and nauseating, and stinking, and disagreeable to civilization. There was a filthy stench there. There is no outlet and no cesspool for kitchen slops. I did not examine the floor there.

Mr. Gregory—Own the corner. Tate's lot adjoins my lot. Tate is the one in charge of the property, and I always understand that he has the premises under his control. The stench is unbearable, and no one could stand it. The water-closet is not in order and runs out on the top of the ground. The Chinese are throwing out their filth, and create a foul stench. Eugene Gregory—Know the premises in question. J. D. Tate is the person who has control of the premises. They are in a very bad condition and the smell is exceedingly bad and filthy. Sickness has been occasioned to myself and family. We have to close our windows to keep out the smell, and cannot eat, and cannot sleep. Have been compelled to get up from the table without eating. The whole place is a cesspool. W. T. Brisson—Know the lot. Have examined it. The premises are in a very bad condition. There was a foul water-closet which emptied out on the ground, and it would make a man sick to get a smell. I examined the premises in June and July; there were several times. A. K. Knapp—Next to the premises of Tate. The premises smell stink. The privy is always open. The Chinamen all go in at all times and leave. David Cooper—Saw the stench and I stench. The premises are very filthy. The stench is from all kinds of decayed vegetable matter. The smell was bad and stench was great. Everything that is nasty is thick. It is ugly to look at as well as to smell. E. Fairchild—Know Tate. I know that it belongs to Tate, and he has the management of the property for twenty years.

THE DEFENSE. Counsel for the defendant made an opening statement of his defense. The defense is that defendant had leased the premises to a company of Chinamen, who sub-let the same to the present occupants, and that the present use could not be helped by defendant. The court agreed to admit the case to the jury without argument. They were instructed the same as was the jury in the Chandler case, placed in the hands of an officer, and sent to the jury-room. The first ballot stood ten for conviction and two for acquittal. After a few ballots the score stood eight for conviction and four for acquittal. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and returned to the court. Mr. Tate will be sentenced with Mr. Chandler on Monday next.

KNIGHTS COMING.—A list of Commanderies on route to San Francisco from the East to attend the Conclave, was received yesterday by Ticket Agent John Talbot, and they are as follows: St. Elmo, from Meriden, Conn., two cars; left Meriden July 28; plunking by Southern route; reached Los Angeles August 1, and will arrive at San Francisco August 15th. Boston Commandery, Boston, eight cars; left that city August 4th; coming by the Southern route; will be at San Francisco August 15th. New York Commandery, New York, four cars; left that city August 7th, and will reach San Francisco via Central Pacific on 15th inst. Ascalon, St. Louis, one car; will arrive at San Francisco via Central Pacific August 18th by special train. Commanderies from Baltimore are as follows: Washington, eight cars; left home August 7th; coming via the Central Pacific by special train, to reach San Francisco August 18th. St. Bernard, Chicago, nine cars; left Chicago August 6th; coming via Central Pacific by special train, and will reach San Francisco August 18th. Mary Commandery, Philadelphia, eight cars; left that city August 4th via Central route, and will reach San Francisco August 18th by the regular overland route.

SEEKING INFORMATION.—Colonel J. M. Wilson, of the office of Chief Engineer, U. S. A., at Washington, was in this city yesterday. He has been sent to this coast under orders from the Secretary of War to ascertain the exact feeling of the people upon the subject of building the proposed restraining dam upon the Yuba and Bear rivers to hold back the tailings from hydraulic mines. He states that so far as data upon the debris dam project is concerned the authorities at Washington are not satisfied, and that his present visit in no way relates to, nor includes that branch of the question. He has been in San Francisco since his arrival in California, and left for Marysville yesterday in the afternoon. In this connection it may be stated as a fact known for some days past, in relation to the debris dam project, that a proposition has recently been forwarded to the Secretary of War from the Miners' Association, to furnish $125,000 towards the construction of a dam above Sunnyside, on the Yuba, at the point frequently talked of, provided the Secretary of War would allow a like amount to be used upon the same structure from the appropriation made by the Government for the Sacramento river.

THE ALVARADO.—George O. Bates, a few days since, bought the trading boat Alvarado of Woodard & Lowell. The steamer has been sent to Stockton, where she will be thoroughly repaired and put in order for the upper river trade. She, in the future, will be run as a trading boat exclusively, and will leave Sacramento for the upper river every other Sunday. The Alvarado is a boat 100 feet long, 12 feet wide, and was built in San Francisco in 1872.

IN DEMAND.—There has been a remarkably large demand for the "New Stockton Wheel Cleaner" this season, which is unquestionably the best wheel cleaner that has been manufactured. It is made by L. G. Thompson, on California street, near Main. Thus far this season he has manufactured forty-eight cleaners. These were made to order. Two of them have been sold to parties in Mexico, two were shipped to Yuba county, and the other 44 machines have been sold to persons in various portions of the State. Their introduction elsewhere has had the effect to increase the demand for them. Mr. Thompson has now a large number of orders, and is filling them as fast as he can. Each machine sells for $400. Thus far in the season $120,000 worth of machines have been made and sold. Of this $120,000 a large share of it went to pay wages of the mechanics employed in Thompson's shops. Of course the whole sum was not clear gain to Stockton. Such men as Thompson are calculated to make a live town and fill it with happy families.

JUST RECEIVED, a job lot of 50 cases of men's fine French calf boots, in double and tap soles, which we offer at the low price of $4 50 per pair, at the Red House.

Men's and boys' straw hats will be closed out at the Red House at prices far below cost.

ROCK AND RYE cures colds, coughs and bronchial diseases. G. W. Chesley, agent.

For purity, dryness and exquisite bouquet Eclipse Extra Dry challenges the world.

JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE.

Officer Jones, of Solano county, came to this city yesterday for the purpose of laying before the proper officers the circumstances of the late attempt of the river patrol to capture the violators of the fish law, near Rio Vista, which resulted in the death of B. Niclaus.

It appears that while the canners and the better class of fishermen are disposed to observe the law, the more reckless and law-defying among the fishermen, especially of the Graceland, were well organized in a system of signals and alarms for the purpose of violating it. To detect the offenders the patrol under the direction of Deputy Fish Commissioner Jones, who had been selected and appointed by the Fish Commissioners, as a determined and reliable man for that purpose, concerted a plan to surround and capture them. The testimony taken at the Cannon's dock, has been laid before us, and shows that in pursuance of the plan of action adopted on Thursday evening two patrolling boats—one in charge of Jones, the other in charge of officer Dobbins—left Rio Vista, to rendezvous at the junction of Three and Seven-mile sloughs. Arriving there, they separated, and Niclaus' boat going on Three-mile slough. About 400 yards from the mouth they detected a boat with its net out, fishing. As they came near the boat, they fired a shot, and Niclaus' boat started. The officers came alongside, and of course Jones and B. Rogers barred the boat. Mr. Jones told Niclaus to get up a pistol, which he did. Mr. Rogers then searched the two men in the boat for arms, without finding any. Niclaus was then ordered to draw his pistol, which he did. There were about twenty-five fresh salmon in the boat, just caught. After drawing in the net he desired the officer to let him off, saying: "No poorman, let me go. Finding that of me, officer Jones invited him to go into the other boat. He stepped down quickly and drew a revolver from his pocket. There were about twenty-five fresh salmon in the boat, just caught. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers. Seeing the pistol, officer Jones said several times, and Niclaus failing to get up, Jones fired a shot, which killed him. Niclaus was lying on his back, and his head was under the water. He was within two or three feet of him, drew back and stepped into his own boat, as did officer Rogers.