

Observations Taken on the 75th Meridian (Eastern Time).

Table with columns for Station, Barom., Ther., Wind, etc. Rows include Sacramento, Marysville, etc.

Weather Probabilities. WASHINGTON, March 16.—Indications for Pacific coast: Fair weather, followed in northern Pacific coast by local rains during the night.

ADVERTISEMENT MENTION.

Metropolitan Theater—This afternoon and evening. Sacramento Tivoli—This afternoon and evening. Regular exhibition—Special notice. Regular Republican ticket. Military salute at armory hall on Tuesday.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Licensing Gambling.

From last evening's Sacramento Bee. "The Only Practical Plan"—The Very Best That Was Ever Done in This City—"Licensing a Good Thing"—In the Interest of Good Morals—"A License by All Means."

A GAMBLER'S SUICIDE.

LONDON, March 16.—Suicide is excited over the suicide of a young Englishman, recently married and who lately lost $250,000 in gambling at Monaco.

THE PROBATE RECORD.—Judge Van Fleet

appeared before the Board of Supervisors yesterday, and called their attention to the fact that the records of the Probate Court were in a very incomplete and unsatisfactory condition, owing to the fact that for a score or more of years cases have been constantly accumulating in which the estates of deceased individuals are never properly administered upon and closed, but are now remaining open, according to the records, and in various stages of settlement from the taking out of letters to the final closing of the estate.

NATIONAL GUARD ENCAMBMENT.—The

Legislature having passed the bill appropriating $20,000 to defray the expenses of an encampment of the National Guard of California, there will no doubt be Division encampment held somewhere about the Bay of San Francisco during the month of May. The bill provides that the encampment will be the first time in many years, and although many claim that separate regimental encampments are the best, the bill provides for a general encampment, and the National Guard Officers' Association should be called at as early a date as practicable, to decide on matters relating to the encampment, and to the time to hold it, the site, arrangements for transportation, subsistence, etc., and also each day's programme, taking good care that there will not be too much parading and show.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—The Board of Supervisors met yesterday, all the members present. Minutes read and approved. The hearing of the petition of C. C. Roberts and others for a road in District No. 4 was taken up, and evidence heard. On motion of Mr. McMullen, the damages were fixed as follows: T. Cardwell, $1,000; George Little, $200. The following resolution, offered by Mr. Jackson, was adopted. Messrs. Jackson, McMullen and Messrs. Stettmann and Bates in the negative; Resolved, That F. A. Shepherd be employed to compile a map of Sacramento county, and that he be allowed as pay for the same the sum of $1,500 from the general fund, provided, the said F. A. Shepherd furnish this Board with fifteen lithographic copies of said map for the use of the county. On motion of Mr. Stettmann, C. M. Gledhill was appointed to prepare an abstract of un-settled estates for the benefit of the Probate Court.

MAP OF SACRAMENTO COUNTY.—F. A.

Shepherd, Deputy County Assessor, has recently completed a large and very complete map of Sacramento county, showing the location, size and location of every piece of property, the different roads and in fact everything that could be desired in such a map. Sacramento has never had a map of this character, being in fact the first map of the county since the State was organized. Mr. Shepherd's work is declared by real estate men and others, who should know to be just what is wanted, and yesterday the Board of Supervisors acknowledged its merits by awarding him $1,500, on condition that he furnish the county fifteen lithographic copies of it for the use of the county.

SOMEWHAT NEW.—The enterprising firm of T. H. Cook & Co. have made arrangements to get Stephenson's Cream Butter-milk fresh twice a week, to give to their customers of the celebrated Stephenson's Glue-edge Butter, which can always be found at their store, corner of Eighth and J streets. Call and try it.

SOCIAL DANCE at Swiss Station, Upper

Stockton road, to-night, March 7th. Tickets, 25 cents. Ladies free. Free lunch. Good music.

NOTHING LIKE REHEARSALS TO-DAY at reduced prices. Re-He House.

DEMOCRATIC CITY CONVENTION.

A Lively Fight for the Chairmanship of the Central Committee. The Democratic City Convention met last evening in Armory Hall for the purpose of nominating a ticket to be voted for at the election which takes place on Tuesday next. It was called to order by James Kelly, Chairman of the City Central Committee, who stated the objects of the call.

He counseled harmony, and asked the Convention to present a ticket—men above reproach and who can be elected. He said the party had suffered in the past, in this city and county, on account of discord in their ranks. They must present a solid front, go to work with a will, and they can overcome the Republican majority in this city of 700.

For temporary Chairman, R. M. Clark and Ad. C. Hinkson were placed in nomination. A roll call was demanded, which resulted as follows: R. M. Clark, 46; Ad. C. Hinkson, 41. Mr. Clark was declared elected to the duties of the Chair. Mr. Clark said he felt complimented for the distinguished honor conferred upon him, that of presiding over the first Democratic Convention held in California since the inauguration of a Democratic President. He said, put up a good ticket and you will surely win on Tuesday next. There is a feeling among the line that the Republicans are not pleased with the nominations of their Convention.

On motion, the temporary officers were declared the permanent officers of the Convention.

The published list of delegates as they appeared in the daily press was declared to be the roll-call of the Convention.

On motion of James Kelly, the Chair was instructed to appoint a Committee of seven on Platform and Resolutions and Order of Business.

The Chair appointed as such committee Messrs. J. C. Kelly, A. C. Hinkson, H. Lacey, Thomas Fox, R. H. Singleton, H. M. LaRue, W. J. O'Brien.

The following were elected as Secretaries: J. J. O'Hare, Frank O'Brien, John Stoll and W. H. Doland.

A recess of ten minutes was taken in order to allow the committee time to perform its assigned duties.

On reassembling the committee made the following report: Order of Business: First—The selection of Committee on Resolutions.

Second—Election of two Committees from each ward, to be named by the respective delegates of each ward and ratified by the Convention.

Third—Nomination for Third Trustee.

Fourth—Nomination for City Auditor.

Fifth—Nomination for City Collector.

Sixth—Nomination for City Assessor.

Seventh—Nomination for Fire Commissioner, long term.

Eighth—Nomination for Fire Commissioner, short term.

The following platform and resolutions were presented:

The Democracy of the city of Sacramento, in Convention assembled, do hereby endorse our gallant leader, President Grover Cleveland, in pledging the Democracy of the Union to a reform and purified administration of the affairs of the Federal Government, hereby pledge our nominees, if elected, to an honest and economical administration of the city, to a reform of any and all abuses of power, and to a reform in all matters compatible with good government, of the expenses of the city.

We invite all good citizens who desire to see the city governed in an honest and economical manner, to join us in electing our nominees.

The report of the committee was adopted.

A resolution was adopted leaving an assessment of 50 cents on each delegate, and requiring them to go forward and settle when their names were called on first roll call.

NOMINATIONS.

Ad. C. Hinkson called the Convention assembled under the most favorable auspices. It was the first time in twenty-five years that they assembled in Convention under Democratic rule. Everything looked bright, and there was every reason to believe that doubling Republicans, men who were in favor of honesty and reform, would lead the Democracy, and thus the success of the grand old party in the future is assured. We desire a pure and honest administration. We desire a Central Committee that will properly represent the best interests of the party and community. We should lay aside all feelings and prejudices and look only to the interests of the party. We depend in the campaign more upon the Central Committee than anything else. We should act wisely and cautiously in this matter, and select men who will inspire confidence in every Democrat in the city, men whose private character and business principles are above reproach. Such a man, and one who has been in the front ranks of the party, zealous for its every interest, is Charles R. Parsons. [Cheers.] We all know him to be a man true to every trust, and one who under no circumstances would allow his feelings to sway him in the least from the path of duty. He will not use his place, if elected, for personal advancement or aggrandizement, neither will he, if a delegate in the Convention, if asked for a list of the absentees, order the gentleman to sit down, and proceed to denounce him for not being present. [Cheers.] J. W. Hughes said for the position of Chairman of the Central Committee we want a man, in the full sense of the word. This is a time for men and not for names. We want men who know what is honest and just, and what is for the best interest of the party. We want men who are different elements in the party. There are principles involved in this vote which should be carefully scanned. There are two sides. We are called upon to fight by the same rule that the Democratic party split upon at their last Convention. I shall name a gentleman for the position for whom I desire the support of the party, and who two years ago for the same position, and he was unanimously elected. That he has performed his duty faithfully the election of two Democratic City Trustees bears evidence. [Cheers.] What change has come over him, or for what official act of his do you now demand a change? Remember, when you cast your vote you want to cast it for a man that knows no defeat and that will lead you on to victory. I name James C. Kelly. [Prolonged cheers.] George W. Nichols seconded the nomination of Charles R. Parsons. He said the time had come in the history of the party when a man was needed at its head who has some energy and who will at all times and on all occasions stand alike and for the benefit of the whole party. Mr. Parsons has held many positions of trust in the Democratic party, and no man can say a word against him. We want a man who will go to the front and stay there. I am surprised at the gentleman's remarks who says he will not support him. He openly asserts that there are two elements in the party. What does the gentleman mean? He says there is a division in the party, but he carefully avoids telling us what he means by the assertion. I would like to have the gentleman rise and explain to this Convention wherein we are divided. [Cries of "Time! Time!"] "Give us a man who is the oldest Democrat in the world, neither an I, the youngest, yet I have a right to speak in this Convention, and ask gentlemen who are such as sections for an explanation. I assail the character of no man. [Cries of "Time! Time!"] There is no split in the party. In the nomination of the gentleman, the two gentlemen named, I would like to ask where was the Chairman of the Central Committee on the day of the last Convention? Why was it that no tickets were distributed in the Third Ward? [Called to order by the Chair who said the speaker was wandering from the subject.] He says he is not fighting over elections of the past, but preparing for one in the future. W. F. Shields, in a neat speech, seconded the nomination of James C. Kelly. His record is before the people, and is unimpeached. The roll was called, with the following result: Total vote cast, 110; Parsons, 59; Kelly, 51.

James C. Kelly said, "Mr. Chairman, owing to the great number of proxies that have been used, I move that the nomination of Mr. Parsons be made unanimous."

The motion carried.

Mr. Parsons took the stand and addressed the Convention, thanking them for the honor conferred, and explaining the fact that his candidacy had led to personalities. He had the utmost respect for Mr. Kelly. He should devote all his time to performance of the duties of his office and hoped to win at the coming election.

The wards selected Central Committee members as follows:

First Ward—Thomas Fox, M. J. Sullivan.

Second Ward—D. J. Considine, W. S. Shields.

Third Ward—H. M. Blackwell, James H. Groth.

Fourth Ward—T. W. O'Neil, H. M. Bernard.

NOMINATION OF TRUSTEES.

Harry B. Remondel, three years ago he had the honor of placing in nomination for Third Trustee, a mechanic, a man who labored daily and earned his bread by the sweat of his brow, and he was elected. For three years he had faithfully served the people, and no man who ever filled that position has a better record than he, and he doubted many of his predecessors ever had as good a record as he.

There is a pleasure in placing before you for the position of Third Trustee the name of Wm. Guttenberger, and hope he will receive the unanimous vote of the Convention. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one that the public, irrespective of party lines, will endorse, and that his election, if elected, will be a credit to the party. He is capable, honest and earnest.

On assuming the duties of the Chair, Mr. Matt F. Johnson, in seconding the nomination, said there were many reasons why Mr. Guttenberger should be elected. He is a man of affairs, and his record as a public official is one