THE WEEKLY HOME is the cheapest and most desirable Home News and Literary Journal published on the Pacific Coast. Terms, One Year, $2.00

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS. San Jose has raised the circus license to $100.

The Butte county poor-house has sixty-two patients. The police force of Carson has been reduced to one man.

It is said that Tulare lake has risen four inches since last spring. Spokane Falls, W. T., is to have six electric lights of 2,000-candle power each.

Livermore has had to close its schools on account of the prevalence of diphtheria. Squirrels have destroyed many acres of grain and feed in the vicinity of Tuscarora, Nev.

There are 113 convicts in the Nevada State Prison and 139 patients in the State Insane Asylum. Many young chicks are being successfully hatched by incubator at the San Diego county ostrich farm.

Wm. Frieson, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, has been chosen Superintendent of the Los Angeles city schools. The Calico Print says: "Calico is dirty, nasty and filthy, and if some of the nuisances now existing are not abated we will all die."

J. E. Armstrong, a teacher of swimming at Santa Cruz, won a bet of $50 on Saturday last by lifting in harness 2,087 pounds. He lifted it three times in succession.

The fish used at the Hotel de Monte, Monterey, is bought in San Francisco, most of it having been previously caught in Monterey bay. So says the Santa Cruz Star.

The other day the devil on the White Pine (Nev.) had all the screws set to change the politics of the paper, but the editor came home and nipped the scheme in its infancy.

A woman near the Dalles owns a fine farm which she bought with money made by her own exertions in peddling eggs, butter, and chickens, besides supporting a worthless husband.

A "giant's causeway" of five-sided basaltic columns, covering many acres, has been found on Mount St. Helena. They are of a pale greenish-yellow color, and are said to be very beautiful.

There are only four Democrats in the town of Occidental, San Diego county, and as not one of them would accept the postmastership, the office has been given the office.

The Town Trustees of Dixon have raised the quarterly license of washhouses to $25, and they have shut up their places and say they will do no more business until the tax is reduced.

The Lyon County Times describes a set of hieroglyphics on rocks east of Dayton and thinks they resemble those of ancient Mexico, proving that the Aztecs had visited and perhaps had settlements in Nevada.

A number of ancient hieroglyphics carved on a granite cliff have been found on the Carson river near Dayton, Nevada. They are of a reddish-brown color, and are said to be very beautiful.

Thursday a number of teamsters near Fresno encountered a dense swarm of bees which darkened the air as far as they could see. They were obliged to unhitch their horses and flee to avoid being stung to death.

A man was arrested at Fresno on Friday night for furnishing prisoners in the County Jail with whisky. He bored a hole through the wall, and poured the liquor through it.

A. Benit, who has a herd of Angora goats running on the hills near Verdi, says this year's crop of mohair will be a push factory at Seymour, Connecticut, brought from 50 to 60 cents per pound, aggregating over $4,000.

At the Tacoma, W. T., there is a small deposit twenty feet in depth, upon which is growing a luxuriant cluster of tomato plants, bearing very fine stems tomatoes as large as a man's fist.

In the Bruneau valley, I. T., recently, a mountain lion killed an 8-year-old boy within a short distance of his home. The boy's father saw the animal, which was running for his gun, killed the animal, but too late to save the boy's life.

A young couple eloped at Sweetwater, Nev., recently, and started in a buggy to get a marriage license. The girl, who is a couple of miles over a rocky road, the girl's courage failed her, however, and she jumped out and ran back to her mother.

The Hawthorne (Nev.) Bulletin says: The Indians are leaving Belleville on account of some strange disease which is carrying them off. They are much alarmed, and are going to camp on the mountain, so that they can get their ponies to carry them.

Fort Huachuca is to have some new buildings. An appropriation of $8,000 is to be made to build a guardhouse, shops, etc. From all appearances there is good reason to believe that Huachuca is long to be made a military reservation of the military department of Arizona.

Mrs. Rider, whose name has been widely mentioned in this State as a remarkable instance of the success of the faith cure, died recently at Grass Valley. It is most interesting to show the presence of a large tumor in the abdominal cavity and a badly diseased condition of both heart and lungs.

A company of Nevada miners have lately taken up under the Placer. The face of wind-tire surface of Owens lake, twenty miles long by ten miles wide. Vats are being excavated along its level shores, into which, by steam power, the water is pumped from the lake. The hot sun of cloudless days brings rapid evaporation, leaving carbonate of soda in the vat.

Mount Shasta. The following is an extract from a lecture delivered in the National Museum of Washington, D. C., by Professor J. S. Diller, of the United States Geological Survey.

In strong contrast with the arctic condition of Mount Shasta today are the circumstances attending its upbuilding, when it was an active volcano belching forth streams of fiery lava that flowed down the slopes now occupied by ice. It is a battlefield of the elements within the earth, against those above it. In its early days the forces beneath were victorious, and built up the mountain in length and width, but gradually the volcanic energy died away, and the low temperature caused the water to freeze, and gradually reducing the mountain toward a general level. A microscopic examination of the rocks of Mount Shasta reveals the fact that it is composed chiefly, if not wholly, of three kinds of lava. Several small areas of metamorphic rocks occur within its borders, but there is no evidence to show that they form any considerable portion of the mountain.

From the fact that there are three kinds of lava in the structure of Mount Shasta, it must not be concluded that they all issued from the same volcanic vent, nor that they were effused from three separate and distinct openings. In reality, contributions to the upbuilding of Mount Shasta have been made by over twenty volcanic openings, of which two have been principal. The first of these was a cinder cone, and the second a cinder cone, and the third a cinder cone.

General Merchandise. BAGS AND BAGGING—The Wheat Bags market is quite dull. The quotations for California are nominal as for some time. Some parties name lower figures for large lots. One gentleman informs us he has offered a round lot at 40c. It is understood that orders have already gone out to California for goods for next year's business. It is expected that the goods here after the vessel has been loaded and cleared, so that the first lots will not probably arrive until next January.

BOOTS AND SHOES—Newhall's Sons & Co. holders of the market. The market is large and well selected, embracing both California and Eastern made goods of all descriptions. The sale was well attended, and the result satisfactory, several lines being duplicated. A similar sale was held by Greenbaum & Co. on the 4th. Other trade sales are expected to follow, right along in the next few weeks, until the wants of the winter trade are all supplied.
