they ever been successful in demonstrating the wisdom or beauty of this doctrine;

but still they manage to inflame the vicious, alarm society, make capital timid, and deprive labor of opportunities for employment.

The San Francisco Call-Bulletin Typographical Union difficulty has been adjusted. We congratulate all the parties.

The settlement, we learn, is final, and all concerned is entirely satisfactory. Let the Bulletin note, by the way—since it claims that there may be "enforced arbitration"—that it was accomplished by arbitration by consent, not enforced. How, now, would it have been, had the printers possessed lawful power to bring the Bulletin and Call into Court, and compel them to pay this, that, or the other wage? Or, how would it have been had the two papers possessed the power to bring the printers in Court, and compel them to labor at the rates as a matter of fact?

In either case, would the Bulletin be so bold as to declare the system one of arbitration? Would it not claim the right to refuse to issue under stress, and would not printers by their claim to the right to be paid rather than work at an enforced wage? And would not both claims be fortified by the human bill of rights, to say nothing of the charter of American liberty?

On the 6th inst. Chicago held a city election, and for once all the journals of that place agree that it was perfectly fair and free from any suspicion of fraud.

When an honest election is announced in a tone of surprise and congratulation, it testifies to the fact that such events are few and to a low state of political morals. It may or may not be that the single instance of virtue is evidence of reform. We are inclined to think it spasmodic only.

The conviction of two election manipulators of that city recently, and the fact that one of them, a noted political boss, is serving his time in State prison, may have frightened the vicious into temporary inactivity. But it will be only temporary. Chicago, politically, is the "wickedest city" on earth, Cincinnati alone excepted. No single case of purity of election can be accepted as a guarantee of reform from such a place.

THAT is a curious boycotting at Mitten-nague Massachusetts. A Postmaster who is disliked by business men, and dependent upon the sale of stamps from his office, is being boycotted by the business people, who buy their stamps elsewhere, and mail their letters on mail cars. The result is that the Postmaster's salary has fallen to a nominal figure. Of course, this is a protest against the political claims by which a favorite official was displaced for a party servitor, and is not to be classed with the boycotts that interfere with the conduct of business for opinion's sake, or the exercise of a right. It is the first boycott on record in favor of civil service reform.

DEAR dear! Here is another California defeat. A California barber has been beaten in a hair-cutting match on time, at New York, and loses $250. The trouble was that his New York opponent was the prefix of Professor to his name. Of course a plain ordinary barber from California could not contend against such odds. We are all of us under lasting obligations to the Associated Press reporters for this stringing bit of telegraphic news, but our chagrin at the result of the match is deep, very deep. There is a grain of consolation, however—it is admitted that our man is the more graceful "artist."

THE dispatches say that the Democrats of Pennsylvania talk of taking up Mr. Powderly as a Presidential candidate. It is to be hoped they will. Mr. Powderly holds in his hands power for great good or great ill. Let him become the candidate of a political party, and that power will depart from him, and the party will be wrecked. Hence, we say, desiring to see the Democracy floored, that for the Republican party nothing better could happen than Powderly's entrance into the political arena, and the Democracy's subservience, for the sake of a hollow promise of triumph.

Let us not hope too much even of the tribunals of justice. Eleven New York Aldermen are in "jud" for a varied course of crime relating to sale of their votes to purchasing street railway Directors. The proofs as disclosed thus far are strong. But of the conviction of these men few have any hope. Behind them are too many involved interests and men, to permit such a thing so long as money can buy false witnesses and bribe jurors.

THE transformed tariff bill will not pass either house. There will be no tariff legislation at this session. Tariff issues are not so easily trotted through a Congress. The country is divided on them; both parties are divided on them within party lines; the Administration is divided on them, and in such a state of affairs, with State elections coming on, Congressmen will decline to act.

SOME people insist upon dubbing this session of California as "Higher" California. Such a title is absurd. "Higher" has reference in the popular understanding to altitude, and in no sense conveys the idea of locality. "Central" California, however, has a clear and definite meaning, and expresses more nearly the character of the valley regions than any other term.

This morning's dispatches say that the relations between France and the Vatican are strained to the snapping point. It is to be hoped they will snap. Nothing better could happen for both parties involved. In the past ten years there has been maintained only the pretense of friendship between the two. Open enmity is better.

The promptness with which the West has come to the aid of the St. Louis sufferers with money, clothing and provisions in great plenty, testifies to the close bond of sympathy there is between Americans and to the warmth and generosity of the American heart.

GENERAL NEWS.

JAY GOULD'S REPLY TO GRAND MASTER POWDERLY.

The Oneida Community—Grant's Dispatches—The Boycott in the East—Affairs Abroad.

DOMESTIC.

The Railroad Strike.

St. Louis, April 15th.—One of the military sentinels in the Vandavia yard in East St. Louis was fired upon by an unknown man. The sentry fired and woke up another man in the yard. The miscreant both escaped. Two rails were removed from the Cairo Short Line road near Belleville by unknown parties last night.

THE OHIO RAILROADS.

St. Louis, April 15th.—A special from Atchison, Kansas, states that the strike at that point is virtually over. Out of 112 men who struck on the 10th, 78 have returned to work, as they say for good.

RELIEF OF SUFFERING KNIGHTS.

PHILADELPHIA, April 15th.—Secretary Turner today sent the following telegram to Mr. Powderly: "Brother Dunbar offers 10 per cent. of the gross receipts of each production of his play, 'The Laboring Man,' for the benefit of our suffering brothers in the Southwest. Shall I accept it?" Mr. Powderly replied as follows: "Will accept brother Dunbar's proposition. Funds should be sent to you."

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE POURING IN.

St. Louis, April 15th.—A letter from Grand Master Workman Powery to Secretary Turner is said by the Executive Committee to be the result of a unanimous request upon him by the members of the Order to place upon a strike upon a broad basis. The support of the entire organization will be secured by a formal circular. Since the arrival of the Grand Master's contributions, now running up to thousands of dollars, have been received every day by the members, the Grand Master has been able to average over $2,000 a day. All this money has been sent out to be used for the relief of the strikers at every point on the system where it is needed, and it has been sufficient to meet all the demands so far without calling upon the approval of the Board of Directors, or an assessment. But Powderly's directions for the call for contributions met with the approval of the Board of Directors, and the public that the strike has its endorsement of the Order in general.

GOULD'S REPLY TO POWDERLY.

New York, April 15th.—The following letter was sent to Gould through W. O. McDowell, with instructions that Gould, to whom these written instructions were also submitted, did not consent to the settlement of the difficulty before 5 o'clock of the day on which the letters were delivered, or at that hour, or at any other time, to allow the letters to be published. At the opening of his reply to Powderly, Gould quotes his letter to McDowell, and acknowledges the receipt of Powderly's letter, the substance of which is given above. Gould then proceeds to construe Powderly's letter as an official declaration that the Knights of Labor had determined to pursue him personally, unless he should pay the cost of the strike, or to demand in what they called a strike on that man's life, whether he was a Democrat or a Republican.

Gould then refers to his lowly beginning in the strike, and says that he was still a free American citizen. THE President to be Married in June. New York, April 15th.—The Tribune's Buffalo special of April 14th says that President Cleveland's engagement to Miss Frances Folsom, of Buffalo, seems to be all but settled. An item in the Tribune says: "The Troy lady mentioned as receiving a letter from Miss Folsom is Mrs. Wellington, who is assistant manager of the General Office, who is married to the son of General G. Barrett Rich, of Buffalo, and is formerly Miss Townsend, of General Rich, to whom this dispatch was shown this afternoon, said: 'Whether Mrs. Wellington has received any letter I cannot say, but I will say that she will not cut out to you any report of Cleveland's impending marriage is true. A lady friend of my wife—I prefer to say my friend, as she is not a close friend of Miss Folsom and is in constant correspondence with her—has received a letter from Miss Folsom, in which she says she is to be married to Cleveland at the White House in June.'

General Grant's Dispatches. New York, April 15th.—It is said that General Grant's family have been another book, consisting of the General's dispatches, army orders and letters. They will probably be arranged by Colonel Fred Grant, who is reported as saying that they will make agreeable matter for those interested in military affairs.

A Hair-Cutting Match. New York, April 15th.—A novel match for $250 a side took place here last night, between a barber from California and Professor Harold of this city. Each undertook to cut a man's hair within fifteen minutes, and the winner would receive the $250. The match was the first of the kind in this city. The California barber, who had been a great success in his profession, and was a member of the Order, was defeated by the New York barber.

Boston, April 15th.—The annual report of the power of the king has passed away. The power of wealth is now passing away, and whether illegitimate wealth shall be punished, or whether it shall be left to the Grand Master Workman.
